HALF OF ESTATE FOR FRESNO DAN

THE WEATHER.
Cloudy tonight and Friday; moderate northwest winds.
Sun rises 6:57; sets 4:12.
Moon sets 10:52 p. m.
High tide 3:45 a. m.; 4 p. m.
Temperatures: Boston 38, Chicago 44, New Orleans 56, New York 40, St. Louis 52, San Francisco 48, Washington 40.

BOSTON AMERICAN

VOL. 10—No. 256. BOSTON, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1913. Registered U. S. Patent Office. PRICE ONE CENT.

10 O'CLOCK EDITION

"CRIMINAL!" SAYS MAYOR

'PRIMITIVE MAN' NOW TELLS OF CAPTURE OF BEAR IN 69 WORDS

Today is printed more of Joe Knowles' lecture of his life in the woods as he is giving it NOW on the lecture platform in New England. The lecture is being printed in full in the AMERICAN from a stenographic report of Knowles' talk at the Bangor Opera House, one week ago last Tuesday night.

In yesterday's AMERICAN was given Knowles' introduction of 1,182 words in which Knowles told why he went into the woods and some things he knows about trees and birds.

Today is given the 948 words of his 4,614-word lecture devoted actually to his life in the woods. Today is also given his 69-word story of how he killed the bear.

Readers of Knowles' newspaper stories in which he told in detail, covering thousands of words, how he killed the bear, will find this interesting.

General comparison of the utmost detail which Knowles gave in his newspaper stories with the summary account he now gives, will also prove significant as showing how Knowles CAN give details of his daily life when he chooses.

In tomorrow's AMERICAN will be printed the main portion of Knowles' lecture, in which he takes 2,484 words to tell of his reception at Megantic and at Portland, Maine. Just how much this has pleased the people who paid to hear of Knowles' experiences in the woods and heard instead of his reception at Megantic, may be indicated by the fact that at Augusta where Knowles lectured recently, his audience consisted largely of the janitor of the hall. Knowles has returned to Boston where he is now. Knowles' lecture continues as follows:

HIS FIRST NIGHT UNDER SPRUCE TREES.

The first night I spent in this forest under the shelter of spruce trees, about a mile from the shore. The third night I had a fire for protection. The same afternoon I built a rough lean-to, and I sat there and looked into the fire. My thoughts turned to my friends. I realized that I was alone, all alone except for the lean-to and fire. I could see in imagination my friends. As I sat there I was aware that I had promised my friends I would keep the laws, as long as they would not give me permission to kill what I needed.

It came to me that I had broken the laws by building a fire. For the law says that no non-resident can build a fire unless accompanied by a guide.

Crossed Spencer Stream.

As I sat there looking at the fire I felt that with all that nature intended for us to have I did not think there was any too much for a man to get by on when he depended upon his energy and strength. When landing capped by the laws of man it was still harder. I knew I could exist without punishing myself, by depending on berries, but it would be pretty hard to do it, when a man knew how to get animals for food and cover. I made up my mind as I had broken one law I would break others if necessary.

For three days in the woods I had had nothing to eat. I had not craved anything to eat. I went into the woods and crossed Little Spencer Stream. I went into the burnt land, where I found berries. That is a great place for berries. It is a great place for bears to feed on the berries, and for deer. When the snow comes the bears go up further and feed upon the berries, and then when it becomes colder still, they go into their dens and live for the Winter.

I am not able to touch upon all of this, but I am getting out a book of some 30,000 words which will take up these things. It will be ready about the fifteenth of December.

While I was standing there looking across into the pool I saw a break on the surface of the water. I waded into the water and drove some of the fish that had caused this disturbance into the small pool. I found I had driven two small trout into the small pool. I took them out and put them in a small spring near the lean-to. The next morning I went out to the spring and found only the spring, but no trout. I did find some mink tracks. During the night a mink had come and eaten up my trout.

Wrote Weekly Report.

I walked around from place to place. Each week I wrote a re-

Continued on Page 6, Column 1.

The Truth About Knowles

Everybody in New England is talking about that biggest feature ever printed in any newspaper—the truth about Knowles, or the real adventures of the Dr. Cook of the Maine woods.

Another Great Instalment of This Story Will Appear in

NEXT SUNDAY'S AMERICAN

PELLETIER APPEALS FOR HELP IN FIXING BLAME FOR ARCADIA DEAD

I CALL ON EVERY GOOD CITIZEN WHO KNOWS ANYTHING ABOUT THE ARCADIA LODGING HOUSE FIRE, IN WHICH 28 MEN LOST THEIR LIVES, TO COME TO MY OFFICE IN THE PEMBERTON SQUARE COURT HOUSE AT ONCE THAT THE GRAND JURY MAY RECEIVE THE TESTIMONY. THE GRAND JURY IS NOW GIVING ITS TIME TO FINDING THE CRIMINAL, IF THERE BE ONE, IN THE KILLING OF THESE 28 MEN.—Joseph C. Pelletier, District Attorney, Suffolk County.

DEATH OF RUSSELL NATURAL

The will of the late William C. Russell of Melrose and the report of the autopsy on his death were filed at East Cambridge at about the same time. The autopsy report gives only natural causes for death.

The will leaves one-half of the testator's property to Fresno Dan, who is called "my brother, Daniel Blake Russell."

Twenty-five thousand of this big legacy to Fresno Dan is tied up in trust, with Ferdinand B. Almy as trustee.

There are a few bequests to old employes of the Russell family. Then the remainder of the estate is distributed among the natural heirs-at-law. Dakota Dan is not mentioned.

Ferdinand B. Almy, co-executor with William C. Russell of the will of the testator's father, the late Senator Daniel Russell, is named as executor without bonds of the William C. Russell will and trustee without bonds of the $25,000 trust for Fresno Dan.

Filing is Unusual.

The filing of the Russell will was odd, almost dramatic. At 12:30 o'clock there came into the uncontested session of Middlesex Probate Court, before Judge McIntyre, four men. They were Robert Nason and Eugene C. Upton, counsel for the Russell estate, Ferdinand B. Almy and Fresno Dan, the successful claimant as the long-lost Daniel Blake Russell.

Mr. Nason gave the court clerk a sealed envelope. Breaking the seal she closed the will. This constituted the filing of the will of "Brother Willie" of the famous Russell family.

Just as the news of this flashed around the courthouse in came Medical Examiner Roscoe D. Perley of Melrose with his report of the autopsy on William C. Russell for District Attorney Higgins.

Dr. Perley found that Mr. Russell's death was due, in brief, to lobar pneumonia, complicated by a chronic endocarditis, chronic nephritis and an hypertrophic cirrhosis of the liver.

There was no mention of poison or any other suspicious causes of death.

The brain and internal organs of the dead are in the hands of Professor Whitney of Harvard Medical School.

As soon as it was learned that the death of Mr. Russell was ascribed to natural causes the centre of interest returned to the will proceedings before Judge McIntyre.

Experts Gather on High Cost-of-Eating

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—The troublesome high-cost-of-living question was again attacked here today. Farm experts, bankers, merchants and educators gathered in conference to discuss the relationship of city and country in solving the problem. Senator Gore of Oklahoma was on the program today with an address on "The Inter-relation of city and country." Other speakers are Emery R. Johnson, of the University of Pennsylvania, B. F. Harris, president of the Illinois Bankers Association; Joseph Chapman, Jr., of Minneapolis; Dr. John R. Williams of Rochester, N. Y., and G. F. Warren of the Cornell Agricultural school.

Embargo on Arms for Ireland Soon

DUBLIN, Dec. 4.—The importation of arms into Ireland is to be forbidden, according to the newspapers here, which declare that the issue of a proclamation to that effect may be expected in a day or two as the first step against the plans of rebellion of the followers of Sir Edward Carson, the Irish Unionist leader.

THE lock that spelled Death to many in Arcadia fire. It barred the way from the fourth floor sleeping rooms to the ell and escape from death by flame.

PRESIDENT TO RECEIVE THE SUFFRAGISTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—President Wilson today consented to receive a delegation of suffragists, who will plead with the nation's head in person for support in the campaign giving women the right to vote. At the suffrage convention today Mrs. Medill McCormick of Chicago, read the following message from President Wilson:

"If I receive any visitors tomorrow, or if I am sufficiently recovered from my illness to leave my room for five or ten minutes, I will be glad to receive the delegates to your convention and hear what they want to say to me. I am sorry that my illness prevents me from seeing them today."

Senator Clapp of Minnesota stirred the women's convention when he predicted that the federal constitution would be amended in the near future so that no State shall deprive a person of a vote because of sex.

20 DEAD AND $6,000,000 LOSS IN TEXAS FLOOD

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 4.—Twenty dead, 18,000 homeless and property damage reaching $6,000,000 are the results of three days' floods in central Texas.

Practically all the railroads in the affected region are out of commission and those still operating are crippled. Many towns are inundated and there is no communication with a score of villages where the loss of life may be still great.

The Brazos River is five miles wide in Fall County and is still spreading. The Leon River at Temple, ordinarily a small stream, is a mile wide and has cut off Temple's water supply.

Fifty persons between Hillsboro and Malone are in tree tops waiting rescuers. The International & Great Northern, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas line Fort Worth & Denver, the Santa Fe, the Rock Island and the Houston & Texas Central roads have given up train service temporarily.

Ten feet of water covers a large part of Waco, where a thousand people were forced to abandon their homes.

Do You Know What Agents and Salesmen Are Doing?

Hundreds and even thousands of them are making from $5,000 to $25,000 a year. How do they do it? Are they hypnotists or magicians? NO! They are just live, wide-awake men and women who are taking advantage of the chances that come their way in the "Want Ad" columns of the Evening and

Sunday American

Net Paid Circulation Nearly 400,000

Why don't you become a salesman or agent? Why don't you make big money and make it steadily—all the year around? The opportunity is given you every evening and Sunday in the "Agents and Canvassers Wanted" columns of the BOSTON AMERICAN. Don't struggle along on small pay. Get into business for yourself and know what real prosperity is. See what is offered you in the "Agents and Canvassers" Want Ads in today's and next

Sunday's American

Take advantage of these ads.

William F. Murray to Be Hub Postmaster

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Representative William F. Murray of Massachusetts has been given definite assurance by Postmaster-General Burleson that his name will be sent to the President for appointment as postmaster at Boston.

Postmaster Edward C. Mansfield has three years to serve, but his resignation will be requested early next year and Murray named. The demand for the resignation of Mansfield will be based on criticism made by postoffice inspectors who recently made an investigation of the Boston office.

Fatal Lodging House Fire in Framingham

FRAMINGHAM, Dec. 4.—Michael Perrito was found dead early today supposedly suffocated by charcoal fumes in his room in Michael Bell's lodging house on Waverly street.

Perrito was twenty-five years old, single and a shoe worker. He retired at 10 o'clock, lighting the charcoal in a pan on the floor.

Today's Developments in Firetrap Situation

Firetrap investigation received new impetus today from another fatal lodging house fire in which one lodger was suffocated and 100 guests were endangered.

District Attorney Pelletier began taking of testimony before the Grand Jury in an inquiry to fix responsibility for the Arcadia fire.

The District Attorney calls for any evidence with information regarding Arcadia tragedy to give same to the Grand Jurymen.

The ghastly quest to identify the remaining victims of the Arcadia fire was continued at the City Hospital morgue. Three more were identified.

New York Subway Trains in Collision

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Two trains collided in the subway at the Bowling Green station today. Nobody was seriously hurt.

SOLONS SCORED FOR FIRE DEATHS

Mayor John F. Fitzgerald today, after his visit to the lodging houses in various sections of the city, in a statement made to the AMERICAN, characterized the lodging house conditions about the city as so bad that some ought to be prohibited by law.

He charges the Massachusetts Legislature of last year, and for many years back, with being "criminally negligent" for failure to pass better building laws and fire prevention laws.

The Mayor further declares that the people of Boston and vicinity are the most careless and pay the least attention to fire prevention of any community on earth.

"I promise drastic action when the responsibility for this terrible calamity is placed," declared Mayor Fitzgerald in an interview at City Hall today.

"Ever since I have been in office I have had one hobby and that has been fire prevention. I have introduced various bills into the Legislature dealing with building laws and fire prevention. They were always killed and I charge the members of the Legislature with being criminally negligent in the failure to pass these bills or some similar bills.

"I don't know what happens every time. I suppose the expense these laws might incur sets the lobby at work against them. No excuse for the failure to pass these bills is offered. They are just killed.

"Fire Commissioner Cole and I will again next year put up to the members of the Legislature the same bills and some additional ones, and it is the duty of the people now to co-operate and look up the records of the legislature that persistently kill such bills with their votes."

"Commissioner Cole and I introduced a bill for automatic sprinklers for lodging houses, but it failed to become a law. If that law had been in effect, no such terrible toll of death would

Continued on Page 8, Column 1.

Opportunities are "lost in the crowd" for those who put off their Christmas shopping until the final few days.

It's an act as wise as it is considerate to make your gift selections NOW

Get Your Gift Suggestions from Boston American Advertisements

REBELS BEGIN BOMBARDMENT OF MAZATLAN

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 4—Constitutionalist troops today began a bombardment of Mazatlan, chief Mexican port on the Pacific coast.

They opened a rifle fire on the city late yesterday, killing forty-five federals and five non-combatants, and during the night posted their cannon on the hills about the city.

At dawn these poured shells into the city and into the harbor about the federal gunboats Tampico and Guerrero. As soon as the bombardment opened, General Rosado, the federal commander, ordered all citizens to leave as the gunboats were to reply to the rebel fire. Th gunboats' cannon have only a short range and their shells are likely to fall into the city.

Cornelio, State of Pueblo, was captured by the Zapatistas today. Thirty persons, mostly women and children, were killed. A priest was shot to death after he had given the bandits 4,000 pesos, and his body was then burned.

MRS. GUILD STICKS TO 'BOB' DESPITE SUIT

The remarkable attitude of a wife whose husband is sued for alienating the affections of another man's wife was set forth today by Mrs. Robert F. Guild, her husband—"Bob" Guild, the famous Harvard football star—has been sued for $25,000 heart balm by Joseph Blair Sande of Watertown.

"Even if Bob is guilty, and even if they both admitted their mistake, I would stick to Bob—he was always so good to me." That was Mrs. Guild's declaration.

Mrs. Guild continued:

"Bob is the best man living, no matter what people say of him. Nobody knows but what I might do the same thing myself—under some circumstances.

Guild is a graduate of Harvard in the class of '06, is a scion of an old Boston family and is known throughout the football world as "Bob" Guild, head coach of the Harvard, 1913, second eleven.

Regarding the presence of Guild in the case, Mrs. Sando said:

"So far as Mr. Guild goes it remains with Mr. Sando to prove his allegation. That will come out in court."

While divorce proceedings are pending, Mrs. Sando has been allowed to retain the custody of her three children and her husband has been ordered to pay her $50 a week during pendency of the libel.

DYSPEPSIA

Within the past eight weeks we have distributed thousands of bottles of the Grover Graham Dyspepsia Remedy throughout the United States, free of charge, the majority of which were sent to chronic cases of the most severe forms of stomach trouble. We are now in daily receipt of hundreds of letters which speak in the highest terms of what our remedy has already accomplished—marvelous testimonials from many who have tried remedies and specialists for years without avail. We know what our Dyspepsia Remedy will do. This wonderful preparation, compounded from the noted McDermott European formula, has been correcting the most severe cases of Dyspepsia, Heartburn and Gastritis for the past 25 years. Why do you permit yourself to suffer? Write to us for full information or purchase a trial 25c bottle at any of the leading druggists. S. Grover Graham Co., Newburg, N. Y.

Smith Attacks the Garbage Contract

The ten-year garbage contract awarded to "a group of New York financiers" was assailed by Ernest E. Smith, candidate for Mayor, at his noonday rally today, in Lawley's shipyards, Neponset. Mr. Smith, as a Councilman, voted against the contract. "Last night," he said, "the United Improvement Association and a indignation meeting of East Boston citizens condemned the non-enforcement of the terms of the garbage contract and the public nuisance resulting therefrom. My platform calls for a cancellation of the contract."

MRS. GERTRUDE W. SANDO and Robert "Bob" Guild, the Harvard coach, who is alleged to have stolen her affections and who has been sued for $25,000 by her husband.

MODISTE SLAIN; HER CASH GONE; SEEK PIANIST

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—A vigilant police watch was today set over every outgoing railroad train and steamship for Oscar Vogt, a former Swiss soldier, chef and pianist, who is wanted in connection with the murder of Mrs. Agnes Guth, a fashionable modiste, who was stabbed to death in her home, No. 205 West Eighty-fourth street, last night. Mrs. Guth, who was known to her business associates as Mme. Agnese, lived with her two sons, her assistant, Miss Elsie Rothlesberger, and Vogt.

A few hours before her body, pierced with stab wounds, was found, she is known to have had $140 in her possession. The police were unable to find it. According to a story told the police by August Guth, son of the slain woman, Vogt and Mrs. Guth were in love. As the modiste's business was prosperous Vogt decided to quit work and lead a life of ease. Mrs. Guth's sons objected and quarrels were frequent.

Finally Vogt said he would leave. Mrs. Guth disappeared late yesterday afternoon. Immediately after supper Vogt too disappeared, and a few hours later Mrs. Guth's body was found hidden beneath the covers of her bed.

Prendergast Quits Progressive Party

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—William A. Prendergast, comptroller of New York city, today announced his withdrawal from the Progressive party of which he was a founder. He voiced a hope that there would b ean amalgamation of the best men of both the Progressive and Republican parties that will constitute a strong anti-Democratic party.

Dynamite Wrecks Councilman's Home

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 4.—The home of Councilman Alexander Bijic of Swoyersville borough was wrecked by an explosion of dynamite today. The councilman, his wife and three children were thrown from their beds, but none was seriously hurt.

Haled to Court, Commits Suicide

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 4.—George T. Naylor, sixty-two, a Johnston milkman who had been summoned into court today for adulterating milk, went to his barn early this morning, rested his shotgun on a beam, poked into the barrel and pulled the trigger. He died instantly.

Made Insane by Killing of Girl

NEW YORK, Dec. 4—Brooding over the killing of a little girl by an automobile two months ago, and in constant fear that his two small children would meet the same fate, Joseph Schwick, a teamster who had witnessed the girl's death, went violently insane today and attempted suicide.

GIRL IN HEART SUIT TELLS OF ARDENT WOOING

Long evenings seated on a sofa, with the gas turned low, while the defendant deported himself "in a very ardent and affectionate manner and frequently declared he would soon make her his wife," are mentioned in the $10,000 heart-balm suit Alice F. Walsh has brought against James H. McMahon of Newton. He called at least three times a week, she declares, after they were introduced on February 17, 1912.

Julia J. Donovan claimes George L. Kelley of Roxbury has refused to keep his promise to her and has also sued for $10,000.

She alleges he had promised to wed her on November 1, and although she had everything ready for the ceremony, Kelley suddenly notified her he had changed his mind.

According to Miss Donovan, Kelley went so far as to make arrangements with a priest to perform the marriage. Their marriage vows were to be published, she says, but Kelley had the names removed from the church record, and told the priest, in her presence, that he would not marry her, broke his engagement and cancelled the contract.

Seeking New Trial for Mrs. Wakefield

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Dec. 4.—Inasmuch as the state board of pardons will not consider the case of Mrs. Bessie Wakefield, sentenced to be hanged for murder of her husband, at its meeting December 8, the effort of the women who are interesting themselves in the move for commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment will be devoted to securing a new trial for Mrs. Wakefield, according to Mrs. William J. Bickenderfer of Stamford, who was among the first women in the state to interest herself in the case.

Allow Drivers to Go Armed in Strike

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 4.—Approximately 2,500 permits carrying police power have been issued to business men and their employes, authorizing owners and drivers of vehicles to wear badges and carry firearms for their own protection during the strike. Deliveries early today of foodstuffs, laundry, coal, ice, and other essentials were greatly increased, each vehicle being manned and protected by several men.

Outdoor Workers—Cold

wet and stiff, will find speedy relief for soreness of muscles, joints and limbs in a hot bath and rubbing with the Antiseptic, Healing, and Stainless

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

BEST FOR RHEUMATIC PAINS

Mind Cure for the Drink Habit

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—At the opening session of the American Society for the Study of Alcohol and Other Narcotics, Dr. John D. Quackenbos of New York presented an interesting paper on the cure of chronic alcoholism through hypnotic influence. He told of many remarkable cures by suggestion to the subconscious mind. One of his most troublesome patients was cured when he suggested to the man that he never would be able to lift a glass of whiskey to his lips. The man tried it two years afterward and could not get the glass from the bar.

Dr. Quackenbos described how by methods designed to exalt dormant mind and spiritual powers he had cured many cases of drunkenness, kleptomania, dishonesty, immorality, and degeneracy.

Plan Endless Chain in Boycott on Eggs

DETROIT, Dec. 4.—Each member of the Housewives' League will get five housewives to join in the egg boycott, according to an endless chain plan worked out by the league heads today in their effort to bring the price of eggs down to 30 cents a dozen. The league officers say this plan was not evolved because of the reports from the dealers that egg sales have not fallen off, but merely as a step in the course of the campaign to spread the boycott.

Annul Marriage of Ray Beveridge

LONDON, Dec. 4.—Miss Ray Beveridge, the actress, sometimes called "the American Venus," has been granted an annulment of her marriage to Irving Madison Seliger of Columbus, O. They wedded here October 20, 1912. Miss Beveridge, it is understood, will return to the stage.

Bull Moose Spent $7,141 for Flags

Drum Corps Played $842 Worth; Total Was $50,000.

Charles Henry Davis, the wealthy "angel" of the Progressive party during the past State campaign, today filed a report with the Secretary of State's office, giving in detail his expenditures in the Progressive campaign. He says he spent $20,408.40. This, with Mr. Bird's expense of $30,000, shows the Bird campaign cost $50,000.

Some of the larger payments are: $1,030.30 to E. W. Hamlin for salary and expenses, Mr. and Mrs. John D. W. Bodfish, $920.08 for salary and expenses; C. H. Claudy, $3,383.59 for salary and expenses; C. H. Davis, for expenses, $997.55; Margaret Fogarty, $189 for services.

The John C. Dettra Company received $7,141.56 for flags, peanuts and badges; $498.89 was paid various firms for small items of printing. Following cost Mr. Davis $441.55 and telephone and telegraph, $223.62.

The Music and Lecture Guild of New England "blew" $842.80 worth through the fires of their fife and drum corps.

BOSTON BOAT FOUNDERS IN GALE; 3 SAVED

News came to T Wharf today of the foundering of the Boston lobster smack C. B. Harrington, off Cape Elizabeth, Portland, in a sixty-mile gale, and the narrow escape of Captain Dermott Hannn and his crew of two. The vessel's seams were opened by the heavy seas and the boat sank so that the sailors were driven to the dory. They rowed six miles in wind and waves that threatened to capsize them. Finally they reached the Cape Elizabeth lightship and were hoisted aboard. The auxiliary fishermen Alice spoke the lightship on her run down to Boston in the night and learned of the loss of the Harrington. But the Alice could not take the rescued men aboard on account of the rough sea.

Mix This Simple Remedy for Kidneys or Bladder

Weak, deranged kidneys or bladder can be cured in nearly every case by using the following well-known formula: Get one-half ounce Murax Compound, one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu. Take home and mix with six ounces good pure gin. One to two teaspoonfuls of this mixture after each meal and at bedtime will soon put the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs in good working condition. Such symptoms as backache, rheumatic pains in the joints and other unmentionable symptoms are quickly stopped.

Any good druggist has the ingredients for this mixture. Anyone can mix.

One should use the best quality of gin in preparing this mixture, also the extra strong Murax Compound, which comes only in sealed wooden tubes. A substitute will not give the desired results.

Local Pharmacists say this has had a great demand for the past 5 years. Published by the Standard Chemical Co. Laboratories of Chicago, Ill.

EYES OPEN,

brain alert, and Boston AMERICAN "Business Opportunities" and Greatest Quantity-Quality Circulation are a combination to bring speedy prosperity.

Filene's Automatic Bargain BASEMENT

A STRIKING EXAMPLE OF RIGHT FIRST PRICES

Women's High SHOES $1.46

Ready Tomorrow

Tan calf or gun metal, cloth uppers, lace style, Goodyear welts, of course. Sizes 3½ to 6—C and D widths. Wide Cuban heels, medium round toes.

Everything in the Filene Automatic Bargain Basement Must Bear the Right FIRST Price as we lose by these automatic price reductions:
- 25 Percent after 12 selling days,
- 50 Percent after 18 selling days,
- 75 Percent after 24 selling days,
- Given Away after 30 selling days.

Here's a typical Automatic plan saving:

COATS $11.50

Women's and Misses'

Made from odds and ends of materials used all the season in much higher priced garments.

—All sizes 14 to 42.
—Plain mannish coats.
—Warm Chinchillas.
—Double-faced cloths.
—¾ length top coats.

Women's Jersey Rib Vests 25c

Medium and heavy weight peeler and bleached cotton. Several styles. Regular and extra sizes. They are dependable seconds.

Winter Time You Need These Gowns 59c

Of Warm Flannelette, cut full, high or low neck styles, pink or blue.

Good All Wool Dresses $5

Sizes for Misses and Women.
Brocades.
Attractive new trimmings.
French or Storm Serges.
Many styles and colors.

Always Hundreds of Other Bargain Lots

Good Home Baking has much to do with one's Fondness for Home

Heckers' FLOUR

Makes the sweetest bread, the lightest muffins and biscuits, as well as most delicious cake and pastry.

Heckers' Flour used in the "Hecker way" means better bread, cake and pastry.

Call at the Hecker Store at 99 Summer Street—Interesting daily demonstrations—Recipe Book for the asking.

Save Their Teeth!

SEE THAT YOUR CHILDREN

Chew! Chew! Chew!

EDUCATOR CRACKERS

Those Round, Original Educator Water Crackers

Doctors and Dentists say Children and Grown-ups should eat them every day. Get Originals at your Grocer's in 25-cent tins and by the pound.

THE TREMONT STORES INC.

No Exaggerated Advertising

"The Ever Busy Butler Corner" 90 TREMONT ST.

Just a Plain Statement of Facts

The Store of Christmas Gifts

SHOPPING HERE Will Make a Glad Christmas for Your Children

Warm Comforts for Babies

39c 49c

49c

50c Infants' White Flannelette Wrappers. Satin ribbon trimmed down front and around neck and sleeves. . 39c

Infants' Flannelette Wrappers, heavy quality, trimmed with figured flannelette. Blue and pink border edge. 25c

75c Infants' All-Wool Sweater Sacques. Pink and white and blue and white, with ribbon ties. 49c

69c Infants' Worsted Bonnets. Turn back edge around the face in pink and blue, ribbon ties. 49c

Corduroy Bonnets, trimmed with chiffon ruche and ribbon. Silk tie strings. White and Colors 98c

Babies' Moccasins, ribbon trimmed, tan, pink, blue, white. 49c

2.49 6.98

Every Little Girl Wants a FUR Set

Mole and Ermine Sets, Muff trimmed, $10.00 value. Price. $6.98

Ermine Sets, Angora trimmed, satin lined, animal scarf with head and fringe. $5.00 value. $2.49

DOLLS to Dress for Xmas

This 21-Inch Doll, 98c

This Doll is as pictured, dressed in chemise, socks and slippers, fully JOINTED, sleeping eyes, light or dark wig.

Children's Felt SLIPPERS

Red and Black Felt Slippers, with felt sole, (like picture). . 89c

Red Felt Juliets and Slippers, ribbon and fur trimmed (like picture).

Sizes 5 to 8, 75c. Sizes 8½ to 11, 79c. Sizes 11½ to 2, 89c.

Useful Gifts for BOYS

Boys' $2.50 Bath Robes, sizes 4 to 14, good assortment to select from $1.69

Also, better robes for $1.98 and $2.49

Boys' All Wool Sweaters, in gray and maroon, sizes 26 to 34. $1.19 up to $4.98

Boys' Rubber Coats. Black, gun or tan slip-ons, very popular for the boy from 4 to 16. A good $1.00 value for. $2.98

Boys' Silk Ties, Windsor or Four-in-hand styles. Fine selection of silks to choose from. 25c

Best Values in Boys' Suits, Overcoats, Hats and Furnishings, at lowest possible prices.

Special—$5.00 Boys' Chinchilla Overcoats, in blue and gray, sizes 3 to 10. $3.49

Dolls' Hats 50c Up to $1

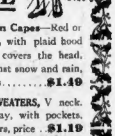
The dearest little VELVET Hats, black or blue, trimmed with feathers or fur bands! Also white plush.

Dressed Dolls

Jointed and fully dressed. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and 98c.

11-Inch Jointed Dolls with wig, real eyelashes and movable eyes. 25c

Rain Capes an Ideal GIFT for a GIRL



1.49

$2.50 Girls' Rain Capes—Red or blue, satin finish, with plaid hood that completely covers the head, storm proof against snow and rain, sizes 6 to 14 years. $1.49

GIRLS' WOOL SWEATERS, V neck. Cardinal and gray, with pockets, sizes up to 12 years, price . $1.19

PIANOS for Little Fingers

Keyboard of eight notes. Pretty red case. Come in different sizes, priced from 25c up to 98c

Practical Presents

GLOVES — HOSE

CHILDREN'S GOLF GLOVES AND MITTENS,
25 and 50c

BOYS' FLEECE LINED DOG-SKIN GLOVES,
50 and 59c

Misses' Ribbed Silk Stockings. Extra good wearing stocking with stylish appearance. 3 for $1.00. Pair. 35c

Boys' and Girls' Guaranteed School Stockings. Extra fine ribbed cashmere, black and navy, ribs for boys. Pair. 12½c

Infants' Ribbed Silk Stockings. White, tan, pink or sky. Pair. 25c

The Children Will Like These

HANDKERCHIEFS

In pretty boxes. Three for 25c. Plain hemstitch border, with initial.

How to Save 5 Cents on Every Dollar You Spend Here

Ask for DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS, which will be given ALL DAY, EVERY DAY, THIS WEEK, as a Special Holiday Offer.

EVELYN THAW CAST OFF BY THE THAWS AND FACING POVERTY

How She Met Her Problem of Life When Abandoned by Her Husband's Family Is Related in the Next Installment of Her Own Story of Her Life in Next SUNDAY'S AMERICAN

MRS. PANKHURST IS ARRESTED ON LINER

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Dec. 4.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, was arrested today on board the White Star liner Majestic and rushed to Devonport on a government tug by government detectives, who outwitted six suffragette defenders of Mrs. Pankhurst, who were brought here by Mrs. (General) Flora Drummond.

At Devonport Mrs. Pankhurst was taken ashore and placed in an automobile, which set off in the direction of London. She was under strict guard all the time.

The arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst followed reports that the government would allow her to go to London and these reports caused the Pankhurst bodyguard, headed by "General" Drummond, their leader, to relax some of its vigilance. However, suffragettes were on their way to Devonport from Plymouth to "rescue" their leader, when she was suddenly whisked away.

The militants arrived at Devonport too late to try to effect a release.

Mrs. Pankhurst still has more than half of a three-year jail sentence to serve in England, having been released on account of illness.

The militants were wrathful when they learned how they had been tricked and threatened sensational reprisals.

The militant leader was not surprised when she saw the police officers, having been warned in advance that she probably would be arrested. Mrs. Pankhurst's companion, Rheta Childe Dorr, protested against the intrusion of the police, but without avail. News of the arrest of the famous suffragette soon spread over the ship and as Mrs. Pankhurst was being taken from the liner to the Devonport tender her fellow voyagers lined the rail and cheered.

Miss Dorr is an American suffragist and author of the book "What Eight Million Women Want." She is writing a biography of Mrs. Pankhurst. She is a native of Omaha, Neb.

Anti-Suffrage Women Protest

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Declaring that "our aim is to conserve the family and the home," the anti-suffragists before the House Rules Committee today made vigorous protests against the demand of the suffragists that the House create a special committee on woman's suffrage.

KILL CATARRH GERM USE BOOTH'S HYOMEI

Try the sure and most effective way to reach the raw, tender inflamed mucous membrane infested with catarrh germs—use Hyomei. You breathe it—no stomach dosing.

If you suffer from raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, hawking voice, discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat or any other symptoms of catarrh—breathe the germ-destroying air of Hyomei. It acts directly on the inflamed membranes, destroying the disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and giving quick and permanent relief, or money refunded.

The complete outfit, including pocket inhaler and bottle of liquid, costs $1.00. Extra bottle of liquid, if later needed, 50 cents.

Dr. Shaw Again to Head Suffragists

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Woman Suffrage Association, who has served nine terms as head of the organization, was assured of re-election when the returns of the primaries were announced today. Dr. Shaw received 326 votes to 4 for Harriet T. Upton of Ohio.

First vice-president, Jane Addams of Chicago had no opposition, receiving 349 votes. Caroline Rutz Rees of Hartford, Ct., received 141 votes against 110 for Desha Breckinridge of Lexington, Ky., for second vice president. Other results of the primaries follow:

Recording secretary: Susan FitzGerald of Boston 210, Edith R. Hooker, Baltimore, 66; corresponding secretary, Mary Ware Dennett, New York, 208, Ida Porter Boyer, Pennsylvania, 84; treasurer, Katharine D. McCormick, New York, 329, Mrs. Medill McCormick, Chicago, 8; first auditor, Harriet B. Laidlaw, New York, 166, Patty R. Jacobs, Birmingham, Ala., 117; second auditor, Louise D. K. Bowen, Chicago, 238.

To Tax the Estate of John Arbuckle

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 4.—Judges of the Orphans' Court handed down an important decision yesterday on the collateral inheritance tax, in the case of Register of Wills William Connor against the estate of John Arbuckle, who died intestate on March 27, 1912, in Brooklyn, N. Y. In this vicinity his property, the State claims, amounts to between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. Register Connor believes the estate of Mr. Arbuckle in Allegheny is subject to the 5 per cent. collateral inheritance tax, and directed that an appraisement of the estate be made.

Marry me Nellie

and I'll buy the ring of the original and only Wilson Bros., who make Australian gold wedding rings in their own factory, $6 to $15. Any special ring to order in 2 hours. Open eves.

MISS EVELYN PROVOST, cousin of Mrs. Astor, wearing the fur anklet which she displayed at a dancing party.

Astor Cousin Dances Wearing Fur Anklet

Mrs. Provost Startles with Latest Society Fad.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Miss Evelyn Provost of Brooklyn, cousin of Mrs. John Jacob Astor, startled visitors at one of the fashionable dancing places on Broadway by appearing with the latest importation from Paris, the fur anklet.

To prevent catching cold with the present high silk skirts, an ingenious Paris dressmaker invented this anklet. A strip of fur on the exposed ankle constitutes the new fad.

DR. MONTESSORI TELLS HOW TO TRAIN CHILDREN

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—A wonderful school or laboratory in Rome for the study of child psychology and child development is the aim of Dr. Maria Montessori, the originator of the Montessori method of teaching children. She arrived on the liner Cincinnati, and today goes to Washington, where she will be the guest of President Wilson.

Dr. Montessori, a sweet-faced, motherly little woman, stated that part of the funds for the laboratory she hopes will be raised by a lecture tour in this country. "As a physician," said Dr. Montessori, explaining the method, "I came to the realization that any pedagogical system that was to be of any permanent value must be based upon the observation of life in the individual. Only by knowing life in the individual could we hope to develop it, and to that end it must be studied during the formative period."

As the biologist drew his conclusions, so Dr. Montessori decided to work. To that end she placed the children in an environment where all the equipment was reduced to such a small measure that they could manage it without assistance and be as responsible as grown-ups.

The children were then permitted to gain impressions through the senses and appropriate the world around them accurately, getting a proper foundation for their lives. They thus gain their education by a natural process of living, and not artificially. They are not taught, but develop and grow, learning by individual.

"They do exactly what you do after leaving school," was the way Dr. Montessori summed it up. "No rewards or punishments are necessary, and there is no truancy. The children have freedom, but not license. The road to freedom merges into the road to discipline."

Within a year forty schools have adopted her method. Rhode Island is the first State in the Union to incorporate it in its school system.

Dr. Montessori is to lecture in Boston next week.

Mrs. Tourtellote Suicide, Is Verdict

Wealthy Watertown Woman's Death Explained at Inquest.

Mrs. Mary Jane Tourtellote, a wealthy Watertown woman, committed suicide on November 29 at her home, No. 71 Marshall street, by locking the door of her room and turning on the gas, is the decision resulting from an inquest held before Judge Eldon T. Lane of the Waltham District Court.

At the time of her death all hints at suicide were denied. Mrs. Tourtellote, according to the certificate of death prepared by Assistant Medical Examiner Thomas M. Gallagher, was found dead on her bed, fully dressed with a note by her side in which she willed to her daughter, Mrs. William A. Sawyer, a pair of new rubbers and her bank book. The note requested that she be buried in the clothes she had on.

Kaiser Makes Plea for the Mustache

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—"Every real man wears a mustache," is said to be the Kaiser's remark on a subject of the newest fad of Germans, both officers and civilians, to shave the faces smooth in the American style. The Emperor expressed the wish that army officers should continue to wear the mustache.

St. Johns Service Delayed a Year

Word was received today that the Black Diamond Line, which had made arrangements for a fortnightly service between Boston and St. Johns, N. F., has been obliged to abandon the project for a year. It is understood that before they had perfected their plans, big freight contracts they expected to obtain were secured by the Red Cross Line of New York.

Admiral Upshur Ninety Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Rear Admiral John Henry Upshur, U. S. N., retired, to-morrow will celebrate his ninetieth birthday. He served with distinction in the Mexican war, and is the only living graduate of the Naval Academy.

2,128,255 Books in Congress Library

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The library of Congress now contains 2,128,255 books and pamphlets, there having been added during 1913 1,145,562 volumes, a record but twice exceeded in the last fifteen years.

Save Your Health

Most sicknesses that impair health have their start in quite ordinary ailments of the organs of digestion or elimination. Stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels are quickly benefited by the action of

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

We grind our own lenses. Glasses repd. while you wait. Prescriptions not necessary; bring in your broken lens. Eyes tested, small charges. WILSON BROS., Scollay Sq. Open evenings.

R. H. WHITE CO.

Mail Orders Filled

If You Know Anything About White's Clothing Values You'll Be Here When the Doors Open

WHY?

Because We Have Selected Friday and Saturday for Our Great

SALE OF $18.00 SUITS AND OVERCOATS AT $11.00

$18 SUITS

The Suits include some of the finest hand-tailored garments, made up in becoming and popular fabrics, such as plain and fancy mixtures, worsteds, cheviots, unfinished worsteds, etc. The patterns are new and pleasing, including pencil stripes, checks and plaids; $18 values..... For $11.00

$18 O'COATS

The Overcoats include all the popular models, single or double breasted, shawl or plain collar, plain or belted back, in blue, gray and brown chinchillas, plain black kerseys and plaid back coats, with self collars, for men and young men; $18 values..... For $11.00

R. H. WHITE CO.

HOUGHTON & DUTTON

Thousands of Opportunities to Settle Those Gift Problems—Tomorrow—at Houghton & Dutton's

Friday Three-Hour Sales

—and—

DOUBLE STAMPS

—too—

All Day Friday

—Also Saturday

In this big, busy, active store—a store that does things—small lots collect—they must be closed out quickly. Not enough for all-day selling, but wonderful bargains for about three hours. Then we find manufacturers and wholesalers with ends of lines that they wish to close out at almost any price. Such are the Bargains in our famous Three-Hour Sales.

On Sale From 9 to 12 A. M. Only

$1.50 China Cheese Sets 98c

Hand painted Japanese china, comprising seven pieces, one handled cheese dish and six individual dishes. At 98c per set.

Basement

On Sale From 2 to 5 P. M. Only

$8.50 Morris Chairs for 5.98

Either golden oak or mahogany finish chairs with adjustable backs and wide shaped arms. Complete with reversible velour cushions for $5.98.

Fifth Floor

$2.00 Knives and Forks 1.19
Silver plated, fine quality, full size, extra heavy, silver plated, handsome round handles; put up in attractive white-lined boxes. At $1.19 a set.
Street Floor

25c White Wool Flannel 17c
27 inches wide. This is a good heavy flannel. At 17c per yard.
Street Floor

$2.00 Crochet Bed Spreads 1.49
Hemmed Crochet Bed Spreads; Marseilles pattern; full double bed size. At $1.49.
Street Floor

11c All Linen Crash 9c
Bleached, 17 inches wide, for roller or all white borders. At 9c per yard.
Street Floor

22c Dresden Ribbon for 17c
Fine taffeta with all silk and satin stripes; pretty rose pattern in blue, pink, yellow, lavender on light and dark grounds. For fancy bags, hair bows and fancy work of all kinds. At 17c per yard.
Street Floor

$1.25 Matting Suit Cases 88c
Full 24 inches long, extra deep and roomy; sole, all-round outside leather straps over extra packages, strongly made, but very light weight for women's use. At 88c.
Street Floor

Boys' 50c Underwear 39c
Fleeced-lined Jaeger Wrights Health brand, shirts and drawers; sizes 24 to 34. At 39c.
Street Floor

Misses' 59c Union Suits 39c
Fleece-lined jersey cotton, long sleeves, ankle length; sizes 6 to 14 years. At 39c per garment.
Street Floor

Women's 18c Hosiery 12½c
Black cotton, seamless, spliced feet. At 12½c per pair.
Street Floor

Women's 25c and 35c Neckwear 19c
Consisting of Venise lace collars, round and shoulder effects, jabots and net collars, slightly soiled from handling. At 19c each.
Street Floor

Women's 15c and 17c Handkerchiefs 9c
Fine Swiss Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 3-eighths inch hems, scallops, and trimmed with embroidery around the edge. At 9c each.
Per dozen, $1.00
Street Floor

Men's $2.50 Slippers 1.49
Fine Kmas Slippers in patent and other styles. At $1.49 per pair.
Street Floor

Women's $2.50 Boots 1.39
Stocks and cuttos, light weight, one-half cotton and one-half wool; all sizes. At 9c per pair.
3 Pairs 25c
Street Floor

Men's 18c Winter Socks 9c
Stocks and cuttos, light weight, one-half cotton and one-half wool; all sizes. At 9c per pair.
3 Pairs 25c
Street Floor

$1.50 Wool Sweater Coats 95c
For Men, Women, Misses and Youths. Plain white wool, and a variety of colors. At only 95c each.
Street Floor

Men's $4.50 Bath Robes 2.95
Extra heavy genuine Terry Back; fleece lined; beautiful range of patterns and colorings; to match any color. At $2.95.
Street Floor

25c Holiday Books 19c
"Hans Brinker or The Silver Skates," by Mary Mapes Dodge; cloth binding, clear type.
Second Floor

BASEMENT

$4.49 Electric Lamps 3.49
Full size, 3-light electric parlor lamps; fine, heavy effects, complete with globes or decorated shade. At $3.49.

$1.19 Clothes Hampers—Square, willow, covered, 98c
49c Gas Burners 29c
Brass, inverted pattern, complete with Welsbach mantle and cut pattern globe. At 39c.
39c Flashlamps 28c
Pocket Flashlamps, in orchestrette case. At 28c.

Ladies' $2 and $2.50 Sweaters 1.19
All wool, stylish fancy weaves, in cardigan or coat effects, colors are carried in the lot. At 1.19.
Third Floor

DRUG STORE

$1.00 Razors—Sheffield steel, hollow ground square point, fully guaranteed. At only 39c.

25c Nail Files—Steel, finished and highly polished. At 7c.

37c Bay Rum—Best quality imported Bay Rum for Hair, in 8-ounce bottles. At 22c.

10c Talcum Powders—As fine quality as can be produced; in decorated cardboard boxes. At 7c.

10c Malt Extract—A liquid food for invalids; 8-oz. bottles. At 7c.

Piaud's 25c Imported Soaps—In an assortment of odors. Per cake 17c.

Perfumes—Woodworth's Rose extracts in the latest odors. Per ounce 19c.

Second Floor

59c Dressing Sacques 29c
Of flannelette, in dark shades. Some slightly at waist line.
Third Floor

$1.00 Long Kimonos 69c
Of flannelette, in a variety of colors, styles and designs; some slightly soiled; exceptional value.
Third Floor

$2.50 Corduroy Skirts 1.35
In blue and brown trimmed with buttons. Full effect on back.
Third Floor

$2.50 Belgian Coney Muff 1.85
Satin lined, ball barrel shape, large outer skin.
Third Floor

Children's 98c Hats 29c
All odd lot of French Felt Hats in all colors; some soiled.
Fifth Floor

$20.00 Bed Outfit for 14.50
A 3-inch post brass bed, with heavy 2-inch fillings, a 45-pound all cotton mattress and a white cotton top and bottom mattress cover; all for from 9 A. M. to 12 M. at $14.50.
Fifth Floor

$10.00 Dressers 6.98
A solid oak dresser, with extra large deep drawers, neatly trimmed with brass colonial plate handles, with French bevel mirror. Also three pieces, $10.00.
Street Floor

$7.00 Tapestry Brussels Rugs 5.75
Woven in one piece, size 9 feet by 12 feet.
Sixth Floor

$1.48 Axminster Carpet Rugs 98c
Size 27x54, slightly soiled, at one dollar each.
Sixth Floor

69c and 49c Waists 25c
Odds and ends from different styles, made in fine soft linen finish; button front or back.
Third Floor

98c Striped Flannel Waists 49c
Made in either Rotesqueen or high collar effects, in all sizes.
Third Floor

59c Colored Petticoats 39c
All the leading colors, deep flounce; cotton of fine thread; accordion pleated flounce.
Third Floor

Ladies' 39c Drawers 25c
Daisy lace insertion, cut to match; of excellent muslin. Sizes 23 to 44 inches.
Third Floor

79c Flannelette Gowns 59c
In white flannelette, made double yoke, full size and length; neatly and carefully stitched.
Third Floor

39c Flannelette Petticoats 25c
In pink, blue and white stripes; deep flounce, with wide hemstitched tucks; full sweep.
Third Floor

39c Bust Supporters 25c
Neatly corded, embroidered yoke; reinforced under the arms; boned with spring steel.
Third Floor

Children's $1.00 and $1.50 Sweaters 59c
Slightly soiled, of assorted colors; sizes 24 to 34; all good styles. Mail orders, send C. O. D.
Third Floor

GROCERIES

15c Beans—Fancy string beans, cut and trimmed with tender pods. Per can 11c

17c Pearl Lemon and Orange Peel, at 9c

15c Raisins—California Muscat Raisins, at 9c

25c Sardines—Small size, Smoked Norwegian Sardines, at 9c per can

18c Lemon—Burnett's Lemon Extract, at 11c a bottle

15c Pop Corn—Fancy Rice Pop Corn on the Ear, at 9c a pound

25c Coffee—Fancy Mocha and Java Coffee, at 19c

25c Asparagus—Fancy extra Asparagus Tips, at 19c

10c Quaker Oats—Regular size packages, at 7c

10c Ink—Williams Sanford Writing Fluid, in bottles, at 7c

40c Barnetts, Fig Newtons, Grahamas or Nabiscos, 29c

Second Floor

HOOD'S MODEL CREAMERY

Hood's 40c American Dairy Cheese, per lb. 34c

34c Selected Eggs, per dozen 30c

12c Peanut Butter, per lb. 9c

25c Imported Edam Cheese, each 85c

Second Floor

MEATS

Fresh Lamb Hindquarters, 12½c

Fresh Lamb Forequarters, 9c

Prime Beef to Roast or Stew, 12c

Prime Beef to Boil, 10c and 12c

Fancy Cuts Prime Beef to Roast, 12c and 15c

Best Quality Porterhouse Steak, 25c

Fresh Killed Fowl, 20c

Fresh Western Turkeys, 25c

German Style Frankfurts or Bologna, 2 lbs. 25c

Stickers and Navel Ends Corn Beef, 9c

Second Floor

FISH

Fresh Eastern Shore Perfection Oysters, 12½c

Fancy Fresh Red Salmon, 15c

Fresh Medium Mackerel 2 for 25c

Sound Fish Cakes, 18c

Fresh Taunton Herring, 12 for 25c

Fresh Cape Cod Butterfish 3 lbs. 25c

Cape Cod Cranberries 4 qts. 25c

Second Floor

Women's 19c Hosiery for 25c
Black with lace full fashioned boot, high spliced heels and toes; sizes 8½ to 10. At 25c a pair.
Street Floor

Women's $1.00 Felt Slippers 69c
Soft and Leather Slippers made a very neat, dressy shoe for house wear.
Street Floor

Men's 75c Gift Slippers 49c
Soft and Leather Slippers made a very neat, dressy shoe for house wear.
Street Floor

75c Maline Lace Ruffs 45c
Made of embroidered muslin, in plain and scalloped edges, with fine lace edge.
Street Floor

69c Pillow Cases for 43c
Embroidered Pillow Cases, with 3-inch hemstitched hem; size 42x36 inches. We sell them by the pair only. We sell them to-day for
Street Floor

29c Arab Curtain Scrim 18c
Suitable for Dutch and sash curtains. Arab width, 31 inches per yard.
Fourth Floor

Remnants of Plain China Silks 19c
Suitable for pillow covers and fancy work. For linen covers.
Fourth Floor

$3.00 Couch Covers 2.15
Both Nagas and Blocher effects, in a large variety of good quality. For those hours.
Fourth Floor

85c Kitchen Chairs for 59c
A strong wood, solid back; all oak with full rounded seat; golden finish. Only from 9 A. M. to 12 M.
Fifth Floor

$3.00 Sample Shirts 1.57
Neglige and pleated shirts of madras, percales and fancy cloth. Large assortment of desirable styles. Sizes 14 to 17.
Second Floor

Men's 85c Winter Underwear 53c
Medium weight wool in ribbed and plain weaves; shirts and drawers. Large stock of all sizes. Per garment.
Second Floor

75c Velvet Wrist Bags 45c
Beaded, entirely new shapes, with metal frame; frame filled with mirror and purse; black only. Also black suede bags. Allow time, please.
Street Floor

GROCERIES

15c Beans—Fancy string beans, cut and trimmed with tender pods. Per can 11c

17c Pearl—Lemon and Orange Peel, at 9c

15c Raisins—California Muscat Raisins, at 9c

25c Sardines—Small size, Smoked Norwegian Sardines, at 9c per can

18c Lemon—Burnett's Lemon Extract, at 11c a bottle

15c Pop Corn—Fancy Rice Pop Corn on the Ear, at 9c a pound

25c Coffee—Fancy Mocha and Java Coffee, at 19c

25c Asparagus—Fancy extra Asparagus Tips, at 19c

10c Quaker Oats—Regular size packages, at 7c

10c Ink—Williams Sanford Writing Fluid, in bottles, at 7c

40c Barnetts, Fig Newtons, Grahamas or Nabiscos, 29c

Second Floor

HOOD'S MODEL CREAMERY

Hood's 40c American Dairy Cheese, per lb. 34c

34c Selected Eggs, per dozen 30c

12c Peanut Butter, per lb. 9c

25c Imported Edam Cheese, each 85c

Second Floor

MEATS

Fresh Lamb Hindquarters, 12½c

Fresh Lamb Forequarters, 9c

Prime Beef to Roast or Stew, 12c

Prime Beef to Boil, 10c and 12c

Fancy Cuts Prime Beef to Roast, 12c and 15c

Best Quality Porterhouse Steak, 25c

Fresh Killed Fowl, 20c

Fresh Western Turkeys, 25c

German Style Frankfurts or Bologna, 2 lbs. 25c

Stickers and Navel Ends Corn Beef, 9c

Second Floor

FISH

Fresh Eastern Shore Perfection Oysters, 12½c

Fancy Fresh Red Salmon, 15c

Fresh Medium Mackerel 2 for 25c

Sound Fish Cakes, 18c

Fresh Taunton Herring, 12 for 25c

Fresh Cape Cod Butterfish 3 lbs. 25c

Cape Cod Cranberries 4 qts. 25c

Second Floor

$1.50 Cotton Blankets 1.19
Gray wool mixed blankets, 10-4 size, in plain white and colored borders. At $1.19 a pair.
Street Floor

$1.00 Silver Plated Soup Ladles 72c
Genuine Rogers triple plate, full size, extra heavy; put up in attractive boxes. At 72c each.
Street Floor

98c Ribbon Coat Hangers 59c
Covered with silk ribbon, smooth finish, and trimmed with ribbon bow; assorted colors; packed in boxes. Special to-day, at 59c each.
Third Floor

98c Lingerie Waists for 69c
Of fine lawn and fancy muslin, in all sizes, waist line or eight inch, some slightly soiled. At 69c each.
Third Floor

Men's $7.50 Raincoats 5.00
Made of fine cravenette cloth, with plaid interlining; storm collar; sizes 34 to 44.
Third Floor

$12.50 Overcoats & Suits 8.50
Made of fine cheviots and cassimeres, in a large variety of patterns. At $8.50.
Street Floor

50c Holiday Stationery 25c
Japanese hand loomed linen finish, filled with silk; in fancy boxes, suitable for holiday gifts. At 25c a box.
Third Floor

Boys' $3.00 Overcoats 1.98
Button to neck storm collar, made of fine cheviots and cassimeres, in a large variety of patterns. At $1.98.
Third Floor

45c Cartoon Books for 29c
Dicky Bird Rhymes, Chubby Chums, Chicken Little, size 11x10 inches, full of attractive pictures.
Third Floor

Boys' $5.00 and $5.50 Chinchilla 3.98
Blue and gray, heavy weight cloth, lined with farmer satin. At 3.98.
Third Floor

49c Bungalow Aprons 33c
Of percale in gray and white stripes, with collar and cuffs trimmed with white and red.
Third Floor

25c Corset Covers for 15c
French style, neat lace yoke, armholes finished; made of nainsook; all sizes.
Third Floor

Ladies' $1.98 White Petticoats 98c
All samples imported and manufacturers' surplus stock; underwear and fitted tops.
Third Floor

79c Black Petticoats 50c
Soft, permanent finish, deep flounce, accordion pleated, full sweep.
Third Floor

39c One-Piece House Dresses 49c
Of good quality percale in light and dark colors; neat and useful; some plain.
Third Floor

Women's $5.98 to $8.98 Coats 3.87
Just 100 in fancy mixtures, plain colors and novelty plaid effects; all sizes.
Fifth Floor

98c and $1.98 Waists for 50c
Slightly soiled from handling during the rush of the afternoon.
Third Floor

98c China Salad Sets 69c
American china, dainty floral decorations, in assortment of shapes; one large bowl and six individual bowls. At 69c per set.
Basement

BOYS' DEPARTMENT

50c Hair Brushes 39c
Ebonized backs, with an exceptional value at
Street Floor

$1.00 Colored Baby Boxes—With pretty lining and pillow. At
Street Floor

Florida Water 17c
Of a delicate odor, high quality as can be made. At
Street Floor

Gallatin Shaving Soap 17c
Made in a form so it will not crumble in a dish; it is a genuine shaving soap. At
Street Floor

PIECE OF CHANGE 19c
Witch Hazel Soap 32c
Castile Soap 4c
Toilet Soaps 7c
Assorted odors. At 3 cakes for
Street Floor

BASEMENT

25c Asbestos Irons 19c
Nickel plated, with detachable handle. At Basement

49c Gas Lamps 39c
Consumer finish, complete with globe. At
Basement

$1.49 Gas Irons 98c
At $1.49, $1.19 and
Bollers 75c
Gasoline water heaters, complete with burner. At
Basement

Women's $3.98 Serge Dresses 2.59
Made of wool serge, in colors black and blue, trimmed with braid and buttons.
Street Floor

Children's $2.89 Woolen Dresses 1.95
Made of Scotch Cheviots, in Russian style with full pleated skirts and fancy trimmed waists.
Third Floor

Children's $2.98 Coats 1.85
In plain and fancy mixtures and colorings, with pleated backs.
Third Floor

Women's 25c Bleached Underwear 18c
Medium weight cotton vests and pants; all sizes.
Street Floor

29c Tray Cloths for 22c
Size 12x27, warranted all linen, with neat hemstitched borders; variety of pretty patterns.
Street Floor

25c Jolly Times Painting Books 19c
For little folks, size 9x12 inches, pictures in color and outline.
Third Floor

Women's 25c Cashmere Hosiery 19c
Two cashmere fine ribbed double heels and toes. At 19c a pair.
Street Floor

Children's 25c Cashmere Hosiery 19c
Two cashmere fine ribbed double heels and toes. At 19c a pair.
Street Floor

Men's $1.00 Sample Shirts 57c
Neglige and pleated shirts of madras, percales and fancy cloth. Large assortment of desirable styles. Sizes 14 to 17.
Second Floor

Men's 85c Winter Underwear 53c
Medium weight wool in ribbed and plain weaves; shirts and drawers. Large stock of all sizes. Per garment.
Second Floor

Men's 50c Wool Socks 11c
Medium weight wool in all the leading colors; sizes 9½ to 11½. Large stock of all sizes. At 11c a pair.
Fifth Floor

$10.00 Dressers 6.98
A solid oak dresser, with extra large deep drawers, neatly trimmed with brass colonial plate handles, with French bevel mirror. Also three pieces, $10.00.
Street Floor

$7.00 Tapestry Brussels Rugs 5.75
Woven in one piece, size 9 feet by 12 feet.
Sixth Floor

$1.48 Axminster Carpet Rugs 98c
Size 27x54, slightly soiled, at one dollar each.
Sixth Floor

69c and 49c Waists 25c
Odds and ends from different styles, made in fine soft linen finish; button front or back.
Third Floor

98c Striped Flannel Waists 49c
Made in either Rotesqueen or high collar effects, in all sizes.
Third Floor

59c Colored Petticoats 39c
All the leading colors, deep flounce; cotton of fine thread; accordion pleated flounce.
Third Floor

Ladies' 39c Drawers 25c
Daisy lace insertion, cut to match; of excellent muslin. Sizes 23 to 44 inches.
Third Floor

79c Flannelette Gowns 59c
In white flannelette, made double yoke, full size and length; neatly and carefully stitched.
Third Floor

39c Flannelette Petticoats 25c
In pink, blue and white stripes; deep flounce, with wide hemstitched tucks; full sweep.
Third Floor

39c Bust Supporters 25c
Neatly corded, embroidered yoke; reinforced under the arms; boned with spring steel.
Third Floor

Children's $1.00 and $1.50 Sweaters 59c
Slightly soiled, of assorted colors; sizes 24 to 34; all good styles. Mail orders, send C. O. D.
Third Floor

TWO LEGAL STAMPS WITH EVERY 10c PURCHASE IT PAYS TO PAY CASH

HOUGHTON & DUTTON CO.

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST CASH STORE—TREMONT AND BEACON STS., BOSTON

Brookline Woman Sues George Peters

Mystery In $50,000 Attachment by Etta S. Bent.

Mystery surrounds the suit of Miss Etta S. Bent of Brookline, against George Gorham Peters, of No. 145 Bay State road, Boston, in an action of contract. Miss Bent has placed an attachment of $50,000 upon his property.

Lawyers for both sides refuse to divulge any information as to the nature of the suit, and the principals are "inaccessible" to inquirers.

NOTICE

S. H. HARRISON & CO.

662-672 WASHINGTON ST.

Corner Beach,

Will sell their entire stock of Winter Clothing, comprising Men's and Young Men's Suits, Overcoats and Pants at Prices that have never been quoted for dependable merchandise at this season of the year.

The Rainy Days of October

Coupled with the unseasonable warm weather of November, compels us to unload an enormous stock at prices that will interest every man in New England.

OVERCOATS

15.00 Blue Chinchilla Overcoats
15.00 Brown Chinchilla Overcoats
15.00 Black Chinchilla Overcoats
15.00 Black Kersey Overcoats
15.00 Black Melton Overcoats
ALL AT 8.00

18.00 Gray Shetland Overcoats
18.00 Blue Chinchilla Overcoats
18.00 Black Chinchilla Overcoats
18.00 Black Kersey Overcoats
18.00 Brown Heather Overcoats
ALL AT 9.75

20.00 Tan Chinchilla Overcoats
20.00 Blue Chinchilla Overcoats
20.00 Brown Chinchilla Overcoats
20.00 Oxford Chinchilla Overcoats
20.00 Black Kersey Overcoats
ALL AT 11.00

25.00 Blue Chinchilla Overcoats
25.00 Heather Mixture Overcoats
25.00 Gray Chinchilla Overcoats
25.00 Black Melton Overcoats
ALL AT 12.50

30.00 Gray Chinchilla Overcoats
30.00 Blue Chinchilla Overcoats
30.00 Brown Chinchilla Overcoats
30.00 English Kersey Overcoats
30.00 English Melton Overcoats
ALL AT 14.50

35.00 Scotch Heather Overcoats
35.00 Scotch Shetland Overcoats
35.00 Scotch Chariot Overcoats
35.00 English Kersey Overcoats
35.00 English Melton Overcoats
ALL AT 17.50

SUITS

15.00 Black Thibet Suits
15.00 Fancy Cheviot Suits
15.00 Fine Worsted Suits
15.00 Scotch Mixture Suits
ALL AT 8.00

18.00 Gray Cassimere Suits
18.00 Fancy Blue Suits
18.00 Brown Cassimere Suits
18.00 Scotch Mixture Suits
ALL AT 9.75

DURING THIS SALE OUR STORE WILL BE OPEN UNTIL 9 P. M.

Marry me Betty

And I'll buy the ring of the original lad only Wilson Bros., who make Australian gold wedding rings in their own factory, at $5 to $15. Any special ring to order in 2 hours. Open eves.

MUSTEROLE A Magic Ointment for Neuralgia

Ease that throbbing pain, that splitting headache in a twinkling with a little MUSTEROLE.

Try this clean, white ointment (made with oil of mustard), today. Millions have found it a marvelous relief. Millions use it now instead of the old-time mustard plaster. For they know MUSTEROLE does not blister as old-time mustard plasters did.

Best for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, all Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the MUSTEROLE Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

RUSH A. WEBSTER, 704 E. 166th St., New York City, says:
"I can highly recommend Musterole to any one suffering from Neuralgia or a cold in the head."

COLLEGE WIDOW TELLS OF NOTES IN LOVE SUIT

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Vera Black Wadleigh, referred to as "the college widow of Cornell," smilingly admitted in the Supreme Court in an action on trial today that Loring L. Tonkin, a former Cornell University student, had written her many love letters after her marriage to John E. Wadleigh.

Wadleigh is suing Tonkin for alienating the affections of his young wife. He asks $50,000 damages. Tonkin has filed an answer, denying Mrs. Wadleigh had an affection for her husband. Since the suit was started Wadleigh has obtained a divorce and Tonkin has married another woman. He is a member of a wealthy Oil City, Pa., family.

Under cross examination by Attorney Robert Elder, Wadleigh admitted he had separated from his wife on one occasion. He admitted he and she had lived with a woman who, he acknowledged, "kept a flat."

He denied he had sent his wife out to get money from other men, or that he knew she had lived with "Billy" and had entertained other men.

In one of Tonkin's alleged love letters to Vera Black, he advised her to stop smoking cigarettes, as she was "the best, greatest, prettiest girl in the world."

He assured her he would not trade her for any one. He had told a lot of fellows, he wrote, the story of Mike:

"I am glad you did not kiss Mike," one of the letters ran. "If you did I would have been terrible sore."

"Lead the straight and narrow path with sugar," said another.

The writer spoke of himself as Mrs. Wadleigh's "Tonkie," and called her his "Honey."

Seek Asphyxiated Slayer in Mine

Gas Pumped Into Passages Believed to Have Killed Him.

BINGHAM, Utah, Dec. 4.—The smudges which for seventy-two hours have been generating gas to pump into the Utah Apex mine were extinguished today and seven sheriffs and nearly 200 special deputies prepared to search the underground passages for the body of Jack Lopez, the slayer of six men.

The officers guarding the mine entrances declared today that they were sure the desperado had perished some where in the 2,000 miles of underground passages. They discredited the rumors that he had escaped through an unguarded exit.

Offers McAdoo Bribe for Collector's Job

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Secretary McAdoo has declined an invitation from a correspondent, whose name he would not make public, to appoint him a revenue collector in return for a present of one-third of the first annual salary that goes with the office.

Dr. Dike, Divorce Reformer, Is Dead

The Rev. Samuel W. Dike, a well-known Congregational clergyman, is dead at his home in Auburndale. He was organizer of the National League for Protection of the Family. The organization advocated many divorce reforms.

HELP WANTED!

And from you, this day. Help the Sunday AMERICAN Real Estate and Want Ad. Section to give you best service by handing in copy early. Greatest Quantity-Quality Circulation.

Aigrette Is Barred on Hats or Detached

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Aigrettes will not be admitted to the United States either on hats or detached, according to a final ruling sent out to all collectors of customs.

Kills Bank Head, Flees with $10,000

PLUM COULEE, Manitoba, Dec. 4.—A masked bandit held up the Bank of Montreal branch here, stole $10,000 in currency, shot and killed the bank manager, H. M. Arnold, and escaped in a stolen automobile.

MANY BEAUTIFUL SUBURBS

for the home-seeker and number of its suburbs. Why not enjoy a home in one of them? Today's "Want Ads" will tell you how.

MISS ROSE E. ROCHFORD of East Greenwich, R. I., another candidate for Typical Girl honors. Her friends declare she should win.

Many girls are taking advantage of the last few days of the contest for the typical girl of all New England to send in their photographs.

The more the merrier we shall be, and the more the three judges will have to do.

Remember, all that is required to enter this contest is to send in your pictures.

If it is a cabinet photograph, so much the better; if a full-length picture on a postal, all right; and if it is a snap shot from a small camera, it will also be placed among the others for the inspection of the judges.

While letters accompanying the photographs are not essential, such communications telling of the claimant's characteristics and typical qualities will be much appreciated.

It will assist the judges to know something about the color of eyes and hair, and the like, of the young lady seeking recognition as a typical girl.

JUST FOUR MORE DAYS REMAIN in which to join the ranks of beautiful New England girls—four more days in which to try your chance to become the lucky maiden and to have your likeness painted in oil by one of Boston's well-known artists.

The prize, which will be presented to the "Typical American Girl" when she is selected by the judges in this great contest, will be a life-size oil portrait of herself, painted by a noted New England artist, from personal sittings.

Fight Secret Plan to Import Hindus

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 4.—Immigration officials of the United States are working to frustrate the plans of a secret organization with headquarters at Manila to flood the Pacific Coast States with Hindu laborers. Immigration Commissioner Caminetti has left for Seattle, after having conferred with British Columbia officials on immigration problems.

WATCH NATURE AT HER BEST IN $2,000 CONTEST

Give a youngster a piece of chalk and watch what he does with it.

If he is very young he will merely make marks. If he is a trifle older he will immediately try to draw something.

For a subject he will take something with which he is familiar, possibly an animal, or a tree, or a house.

The minute he begins to draw that animal, tree, or house he realizes that his memory is not quite clear on what the details should be.

And what's the result? Why, he simply hunts around until he finds an animal, tree, or house which he can carefully examine and then the problem is solved, for he observes as well as sees.

This will be the immediate result of the AMERICAN'S widespread distribution of Water Color Painting Sets—it will teach both young and old to observe nature.

The average American, both young and old, hustles and rushes through life with no thought of the beauty and grandeur of his or her every-day surroundings.

The sky, the trees, the earth itself—in a word, Nature—are daily smothered by tons of thousands in their mad scramble through life.

Interest in the AMERICAN'S Water Color Painting plan will change all this.

Every Sunday a different set of handsome Water Color Painting Sets will be distributed broadcast throughout New England.

Each set will consist of:

Four Beautiful Photo Gelatine Pictures, size 8½x10½ inches.

One Complete Set of Paints in Eight Colors.

One Imported Camel's Hair Brush.

Any one of these exquisite pictures, even UNCOLORED, is worth the trifling price charged for the entire set.

To stimulate interest in nature and art students, the Boston AMERICAN has provided a $2,000 fund which will be awarded to those who do the best handcolored work on the pictures furnished by the AMERICAN. The details of this interesting educational plan will be found in today's AMERICAN.

It will pay you to read this announcement carefully and then to secure at least one of these Water Color Painting Sets for either your own use or that of your boy or girl. Turn now to this announcement.

Discuss Memorial Arch for Gettysburg

The commission appointed by the Legislature, to report on the erection of a memorial arch at Gettysburg in honor of Massachusetts men will meet the National Gettysburg Battlefield Commission next week to secure a location for the memorial.

Love Story of Harry and Evelyn Thaw

CHAPTER LXXXVII.

"The charge is prepared, the lawyers are met."—The Bugler's Dream.

At ten-forty-five o'clock on Monday morning, February 4, the prosecution began to present its case against Harry K. Thaw to the jury.

Just two hours later the last of the State's witnesses had told his story and District Attorney Jerome rose and said briefly to Judge Fitzgerald:

"This is our case."

It was one of the briefest murder presentations on record.

Then John B. Gleason made the opening address to the defence, and that was all for the day.

There were two features of the two-hour proceedings for the State. One was the terse, pitiless opening delivered by Assistant District Attorney Francis P. Garvan. The other feature was the presence on the witness stand of Lawrence Grant White, son of the slain man.

Jerome did not need to put young White on to bolster up the State's case. There were plenty of other witnesses to describe the shooting.

But it did no harm, Jerome may have figured, to show the jury that Stanford White was a family man and a father and to put a little pathos into the government's case, considering that the defence had a plentitude of pathos in Evelyn, to say nothing of incidental features.

When court opened Evelyn, Harry's mother, Mrs. Carnegie (Margaret Thaw) Josiah and Edward Thaw and May McKenzie were in the "family group."

But, just before the first State witness took the stand, Judge Fitzgerald ruled that all witnesses must be excluded before and after testifying. This meant that Evelyn, with the others, must go.

Witnesses for Defence.

Evelyn, Harry mother and May McKenzie went out with the rest of the witnesses, showing that all three would take the stand for the defence. This was the first known that Harry's mother and May McKenzie would testify. Evelyn and her mother-in-law both made a little detour, on the way out of court, to pass by Harry and press his hand for affection and encouragement.

Garvan's address to the jury was merely a legal way of saying: "Harry Thaw murdered Stanford White and we can prove it."

Garvan described Stanford White's going to the Madison Square Roof Garden and sitting at a table alone. Then the State's assistant prosecutor, speaking with incisive force, concluded thus:

Mr. White's head rested on his hand. The defendant was there with his wife and two friends. In the middle of the second act his friends went out, he fell back and remained behind and, going over to the table where Mr. White was sitting, he faced him and deliberately shot him dead. For fear he had not completely done his work he shot him again, the bore going through his mouth. Still, not content, he shot him again.

The body of Mr. White fell from the chair. The defendant raised his hand, holding aloft the revolver. The audience understood; they knew that he meant to signify that his act was completed.

"The people claim that it was a COOL, DELIBERATE, MALICIOUS, PREMEDITATED TAKING OF A HUMAN LIFE. We expect to prove this and ask you to weigh the evidence carefully.

There were no spectators, as such, in court, but, if there had been, they might have felt that this was not much of an address to the jury. But it was regarded by the court reporters as effective. It put Thaw in the light of a common murderer and showed the entire burden of Thaw over on his numerous lawyers.

White's Son Testifies.

After Evelyn, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, May McKenzie and other future witnesses were excluded, the first witness for the State was called—Lawrence Grant White. A handsome, dark-haired, slender lad of nineteen took the stand. He was the youth made famous by Harry Thaw and, for the first time since the tragedy, he was in the presence of his father's slayer.

Young White was attending Harvard College and living with his mother in apartments on Kirkland street, Cambridge. He related his dinner with his father and Leroy King at the Cafe Martin. He had bought tickets for the New York Theatre, so declined his father's invitation to see the opening of "Mamselle Champagne." After the theatre he heard of the murder and hurried to Madison Square Roof Garden.

The lad's testimony showed how near he came to being with his father at the roof garden. Reporters wondered whether White would have been shot under such circumstances.

White was spared any cross-examination. The second witness, Robert Paxton, engineer, described the shooting and quoted Harry as saying: "I did it because he ruined my wife."

Then, according to Paxton, Evelyn said: "Yes, but look at the fix you're in now." Harry's reply was: "All right, darling, I did it to save your life."

Paxton was not cross-examined, either. Meyer Cohen, music publisher, corroborated Paxton's testimony. Henry F. Blosse, musical conductor, said Thaw held his revolver up in the air after the shooting. Cohen and Blasse were cross-examined by Delphin M. Delmas, showing that the California attorney was to conduct the case, as well as make the plea to the jury.

Paul Brudi, fireman, described the shooting and, under cross-examination, gave the first testimony about Thaw's eyes. He said:

"Thaw's eyes were turning over his right shoulder, as if he were frightened."

Edward H. Convey, former foreman of the roof garden, testified briefly. Then Anthony M. Debo, patrolman, who arrested Thaw, was put on the stand to identify the revolver Thaw used. The bullets which Thaw fired into White were introduced with the testimony of the next witness, Coroner's Physician Dr. Timothy Lehane, who described the autopsy.

Dr. Marvin Peehner, who happened to be at a table on the Madison Square roof that night, told what he saw. Patrolman Delgo was recalled to testify that Harry said to Evelyn: "It will be all right."

That was all the State had to say. It took only two hours for Garvan's opening and direct cross-examination of the nine witnesses.

An adjournment was taken for lunch. At 2 o'clock all reassembled to hear the opening address of the defence to the jury, which was to disclose the plans of the Thaw lawyers to free Harry. Up to this time there had been no definite knowledge of what the defence would be —merely a general supposition of insanity.

The opening for the defence was made by John B. Gleason. He spoke from 2:00 until 3.30, when court was adjourned for the day. He might have spoken longer, but Jerome objected that some of his argument came in a summing-up rather than an opening and Gleason apparently curtailed his talk.

Soon after Gleason began it was apparent that, whether Harry liked it or not, the defence was to be insanity and that the Thaw family and Evelyn would be sacrificed to make good this line of action.

(To be continued.)

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR BACK HURTS, FLUSH YOUR KIDNEYS WITH SALTS

Meat forms uric acid, which clogs Kidneys, irritates Bladder or causes Rheumatism.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood, and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog up you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels: removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

You should consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

GROCERY SALE. SAVE ⅓

Ending Saturday Night, December 6.—Finest, Purest Qualities, Bona Fide Price Cuts, 6 Convenient Stores.

Butter 33c FINEST CREAMERY Choicest Quality Received Daily

Eggs 37c "Pine Crown" Brand. Strictly Fancy and Warranted. Fine Western Eggs, Doz. 32c

Peaches Fancy California Lemon Cling Peaches in Heavy Syrup. Regular $2.10 Value. Dozen $2.10 Can 18c
Evap. Milk Peerless Large Can 8c
Welcome Soap 5 Bars 19c
Peas Early June 1913 Pack. 12c Value Can 10c
Corn Choice Tender Creamy Quality. York State Can 8c
Rolled Oats Quaker Co.'s 5 lbs. 19c
Rice Finest Whole Head Japan. Lb. 7c 5 lbs. 33c
Macaroni or Spaghetti Imported Style Pkg. 8c
Teas "Golden Rose" All Kinds. 40c Quality Lb. 35c
Quaker Oats 10c Package 7½c
Baker's Cocoa 1-2 Lb. Can 17c
Pea Beans Finest York State. Pk. 69c Qt. 9c
Prunes Medium Sized Santa Clara. 12c Value Lb. 9c
Olive Oil Pure Virgin Italian Pt. Can 33c
Salmon Fancy Red Alaska Rich, Oily Can 15c
Codfish Boneless. 1 Lb. Brick 15c
Bacon Fancy Sugar Cured 25c Value Lb. 21c

Wine. Liquor Dept.

Purest Qualities. Low Prices because of our immense business that saves you at least one-third, besides convenient stores to all shopping districts and terminals. Wines and Liquors at all stores except Brookfield.

Banquet Rye Pint 25c Qt. 97c Old Reserve Stock, carefully blended and mellowed by great age
Mentor Whisky Pint 37c Qt. 73c Famous blend of pure old whisky. Pleasing flavor, popular price.
Hunter Rye Original Bottling Bot. 90c
Kentucky Taylor, Bot. 79c
Choice Scotch Bot. 87c "Lords of England," a straight imported Glenlivet. Value $1.50
Wm. Jameson Irish 97c Special importation this famous Old Irish Blend. Value $1.50.
Scotch Dewar's Original Bottling 93c
Scotch Usher's O.V.S. 89c

Special Sale Imported and Domestic Wines

Vintage Wines Sherry, etc. Bot. 31c
Wines California Port, Sherry, etc. Bot. 25c
Duff Gordon Sherry 69c
Port, Sherry Imported 1.00 Value 47c

Price Reductions on World Known Brands

Gordon Dry Gin Bot. 89c
Gin Bob't Leeds Old Tom or Dry Bot. 73c
Gin Pure Holland Type Qt. 73c
Beer Schlitz Milwaukee Doz. 1.10
Cocktails Heublein's Club Man. or Martini 90c
Duffy's Malt Whisky Bot. 83c
Brandy J. & F. Martell Imported Vintage Bot. 1.39
Rum Old Domestic Pt. 1.00 Value 37c Qt. 73c
Rock, Rye Purest Medicinal Pure Druggist Qt. 73c
Alcohol Pt. 39c

Write, Ask for Complete Price List—FREE DELIVERIES

The Ginter Co

Store of Quality, Inc.
45 Bromfield St. Near Tremont
122 Tremont St.
495 Washington St.

2 Union St., Cor. Elm Opposite Markets
16 Canal St. Opposite Haymarket Sq.
183 Summer South Terminal
Specialty Shop Agts. Bet. West & Temple Pl.

HILTON'S MINT SALE

The Historic "Mint Arcade" In Which The Hilton Shop Is Located In Philadelphia To Be Torn Down.

Surplus Suits and Overcoats have been expressed to us to be disposed of at once for below cost prices.

HILTON garments at regular prices are the best valued clothes in the world. They are made in our own tailor shops and sold to our own stores. They echo every tick of the style clock.

$15.00	Suits and Overcoats $8.00
$18.00 to $20.00	" " " 11.50
$22.50	" " " 12.50
$25.00 to $28.00	" " " 15.00
$30.00 to $35.00	" " " 18.00
$40.00 to $45.00	" " " 22.50
$40.00 to $45.00	" " " 25.00

NO CHARGE FOR ALTERATIONS

The HILTON CO.

Washington Street and Temple Place, Boston, Mass.

Open Saturday Evenings Until 10 o'clock

290 Fulton Street Brooklyn, N. Y. | Cor. State and Quincy Streets Chicago, Ill. | 1237-39 Chestnut Street Philadelphia, Pa. | 9th Avenue and Smithfield Street Pittsburg, Pa. | Broad and Market Streets Newark, N. J. | Broadway and 37th Street New York City, N. Y.

Miss Wilson Heads "Spugs" at Capital

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Miss Margaret Wilson, the President's eldest daughter, has become chairman of the local "Spugs."

HAPPENINGS IN SOCIETY

MRS. H. STAPLES POTTER, CHARITY CLUB MATRON

Mrs. Robert Gardner Opens Her Town House for Poet Dunbar Readings Today.

One of the interesting events of the late week will be the supper dance to be given at Copley-Plaza Saturday evening under the auspices of the Junior Charity Club. This dance will be the first in a series of three. It is expected they will be among the most successful events ever given by that enterprising organization. The dates for the other two are January 10 and February 14.

The matrons for these affairs are Mrs. H. Staples Potter, Miss Annie C. Warren, Mrs. Ellis Hollingsworth, Mrs. Guy Currier, Mrs. S. L. Agassis and Mrs. Edgar M. Young.

• • •

Mrs. Robert Gardner will open her town house today for a recital by Miss Maria Baldwin of the readings of the negro poet, Paul Lawrence Dunbar. This will call out a large and fashionable assemblage. The readings will be under the direction of the auxiliary of the association and the smartest patronage. The patronesses include Mrs. Harold Peabody, Mrs. Henry L. Higginson and others. Among them are Mrs. Francis Barlow, Mrs. James T. Bowler, Mrs. Harry Pratt McKean, Miss Sarah Lawrence, Mrs. Charles F. Mason, Mrs. Robert M. Morse, Miss Elizabeth C. Putnam, Miss Julia C. Prendergast, Miss Annette M. Revere, Mrs. Richard C. Cabot, Mrs. John W. Bartol, Mrs. John B. Blake, Mrs. Robert Treat Paine, Mrs. Philip A. Chase, Mrs. Arthur S. Johnson, Mrs. Charles K. Cummings, Mrs. Edward B. Hayley, Mrs. Walter C. Bayley, Mrs. Malcolm Donald, Mrs. Charles B. Perkins, Mrs. F. R. Ridley, Mrs. Edward A. Rousmaniere and others.

• • •

Miss Rena S. Covelle, Mrs. A. B. Lounsbury, Mrs. A. E. Conrad, Mrs. Eugene N. Foss, Mrs. A. E. Chandler, Mrs. W. P. Allen, Mrs. Lewis A. Crossett, Mrs. William Lindsey, Mrs. John Knox Marshall, Mrs. Reuben Thomas, Mrs. William Carrick, Mrs. Sarah A. Reed and Mrs. L. R. Stone are the patronesses for the Florence Crittenton sale at the Copley-Plaza today. Many beautiful as well as useful articles are on sale and the proceeds will be used for the work of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion.

• • •

A portrait of Miss Elizabeth Brigham, one of the founders of the Robert Brigham Hospital for Incurables on Parker Hill, shortly to be opened, has recently left the studio of Herbert M. Perkins to be hung in the hospital.

• • •

The Christmas bazaar opened today at the Hotel Brunswick is in aid of the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children. It will continue through Saturday. Luncheon and tea are special features of the three days' sale. The articles offered are especially attractive in every possible line, both ornamental and useful. On the committee are: Mrs. Edward B. Kellogg, Mrs. Charles Wheeler, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Gilbert Nowell, Miss Helen Gray, Miss Lelia Baker, Mrs. Roderick Gold, Mrs. Charles E. Perry, Mrs. Foster Kellogg, Mrs. William B. Morrill, Mrs. G. W. Walker, Mrs. Charles Prescott, Mrs. William E. Fox, Mrs. Charles Butterfield, Mrs. Manning Seamon, Mrs. F. E. Brine, Mrs. Ralph Kneeland, Mrs. Charles E. Jones and others.

Miss Alice Thorndike entertained the Sewing Circle at her home on Commonwealth avenue. A luncheon was given at the Tuileries afterward.

• • •

Mrs. John M. May of Brookline gave a reception in honor of Miss Priscilla May, who has returned recently from Europe.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. E. Howes of Commonwealth avenue are sojourning in South America.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison Jr., of Temple street, West Newton, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, who has been made an honorary member of the Seven Penny Franchise Association, of which Mrs. Garrison is president.

MRS. H. STAPLES POTTER.

Police Seek Owners for $350 in Jewlry

The police are seeking for the owners of $350 worth of watches and jewelry found on the person of George F. Smith, thirty-eight, of New York, who was arrested after a hard battle on the Common by Patrolmen Block and Hoppe and Detective-Sergeant Anderson. The police declare that Smith has a long police record.

Expert Says City Folk Live as Ants

CINCINNATI, Dec. 4.—The growth of cities in America is causing the inhabitants to live like ants, declared George Hooker, civic secretary of the Chicago City Club, at the third annual session of a national conference on housing.

Newfoundlanders to Dance.

The Newfoundlanders' Charitable Association will hold their first social and dance in Palm Memorial Hall, Appleton street, tomorrow evening.

Costs $412 to Get $1 at Michigan Port

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The United States Custom House at Isle Royale, Michigan collected $1 in duties during the past year at the expense of $412.50, according to a report issued today by customs authorities.

Cardinal Oreglia, Dean of College, Ill

ROME, Italy, Dec. 4.—Cardinal Luigi Oreglia di Santo Stefana, dean of the Sacred College and the only surviving cardinal created by Pope Pius IX, has pneumonia.

MOTHER ASKS COURT FOR SON, THEN TAKES HIM

The Norwood police are today investigating the complaint of Frank Foye that, after seeking legal permission to take his four-year-old son, Louis Clifford Salter, the child's mother, Mrs. Gertrude Salter Ames of Walpole, kidnaped the child from the Foyes' home.

Mrs. Ames petitioned the Norfolk Probate Court at Dedham for the custody of her son. Foye opposed the petition, and Judge Flint reserved decision.

Mrs. Ames then went to Norwood, according to Foye, and went to the home at No 103 Winslow avenue, where the Foyes had cared for the child about two years.

Mrs. Ames was formerly Mrs. Louis Salter of Norwood. When her first husband died, several years ago, leaving several children, the Foyes took the boy and had cared for him ever since. Last Summer the child's mother married Clinton D. Ames of Walpole. Since then she has sought to get possession of her child.

Hazel Dean Goes to a Home on Farm

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Friends of Hazel Dean, artists' model, took her to their home on a farm today. Marjorie Levy acquiesced. Mrs. Stanlaws, wife of Penryhn Stanlaws, the artist who sheltered the girl at their studio after her recovery from an attempt at suicide, did not object.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Double Legal Stamps

In Addition to Our

Friday Bargains

Women's Reefer Coats

3.87

Worth $6.00

Loose back style—button high at neck; just for one day—these brown and green mixture coats; finished with large bone buttons.

Chinchilla O'Coats

For Your Boy

1.85

Worth $3.00

At this extraordinary low price—these coats must go quickly, many blue and gray in polo style with belt all around; sizes 3 to 10 years, also a special lot of medium and dark mixture coats.

Men's Wool Bath Robes

2.39

Worth $5.

Here's a timely special that should encourage early Xmas shopping—good quality robes with silk cord, all the new patterns and colors—a bar for Friday only at $2.39, and they're worth $5.

Black Felt Slippers

Worth 50c 29c

With felt soles and red felt lining, all sizes included, from Women's 3 to Men's 11—a good Xmas Gift.

"Your Money Back If You Want It"

WOLF'S

"MY CLOTHIER"

Hanover and Portland Streets

Men's Fur-Lined Coats

Greatest Sale of Fur-Lined Coats Ever Held

15 Marmot Lined Coats $35

Value $75—All Sizes

Friday Only

$35 (Real Value $75)

¶ NOTE.—This magnificent garment, made of finest quality imported broadcloth; lined throughout with very dark marmot or muskrat; the collar of genuine Persian lamb or Hudson seal. $35, actual value $75.

Hudson Bay Co.

449 Washington Street

OPPOSITE SHUMAN'S

4 Mins. by Tunnel to No. Station Nearest Big Store to So. Station

HENRY SIEGEL CO

GET THE BEST

In this case it doesn't cost any more at the start and it's a lot more economical in the end.

The FREE Sewing Machine

Let our demonstrator show you the new No. 5 Model—the best sewing machine made and the only one guaranteed for life. Makes an ideal Christmas gift.

THE FREE 1.00 DOWN 1.00 A WEEK

FLOOR SAMPLES AT VERY LOW PRICES

$40 Singer $25—308 Style Machine $17.75 Domestic Drop Head Oakwood

These Samples Are Guaranteed for 10 Years

IT PAYS TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH THE SIEGEL STORE

Friday-Supremacy Bargain Day

SALE BEGINS 8:30 A.M. At the Henry Siegel Store ONE DAY ONLY

Boston's Greatest Holiday Store Is Ready with The Most Complete Array of Gift Goods You Ever Saw

Friday Is a Vital Day of Bargains, for This Day You Can Save Up to Half in Many Instances on Merchandise Adaptable to Gift Giving. Here Is Only a Portion of the List

Second Floor — Caracul Coats Regularly $10 Friday Only $4.98. Full length, large shawl collar, quilted lined throughout, all sizes from 14 years to 38 bust.

Second Floor — Corduroy Dresses Regularly $6.50 Friday Only $3.98. Silk finished corduroy, smartly trimmed with silk girdle, all sizes 14 years to 40 bust.

Second Floor — $3.98 Tartan Plaid Skirt Friday Only $1.98. Shown in all regular and extra sizes, handsome model, as pictured, made of fine worsted in blue or green plaids.

Second Floor — Cluny Lace Waists Regular $2 Value Friday Only $1.00. Allover cluny lace, very handsome patterns, over heavy net linings; satin vestee, frill around neck and front, in cream or white, all sizes.

Second Floor — Persiana Coats Regularly $18.00 Friday Only $12.75. Finest quality high lustre Persiana, full 50 inches long, deep military collar, guaranteed satin lining.

Second Floor — Junior's $15 Coats Friday Only $9.98. Fine quality boucle, in navy, brown and black, 48 inches long, guaranteed satin lined, silk velvet frog.

Second Floor — Children's $2.50 Rain Capes Friday Only $1.79. In red and navy, heavy sateen, plaid-lined hood, guaranteed waterproof; packed in gift boxes; sizes 3 to 14 years.

Second Floor — $1.25 House Dress & Dusting Cap Friday Only 79c. Striped chambray, deep plain collar, ¾ sleeves, turn back cuff, dusting cap to match.

Main Floor — A Novelty Leather Sewing Bag Worth $1.50 Friday Only 98c. Also leather envelope bags, real morocco and fancy leathers, in black and assorted colors; sewing bag fitted with scissors, thimble, etc.

Third Floor — 50c Knitted Woolen Toques Special for Friday 21c. All sizes for men and boys; colors gray, navy, brown and red.

Third Floor — $3 and $4 Heavy Shaker Knit Coat Sweaters Friday Only 1.95. Shawl collar and V-neck styles in navy, gray and white; sizes 36 to 44.

Third Floor — Boys' Norfolk Suits Usual $2.50 Values Friday Only $1.95. In medium and dark patterns, of good wearing cassimeres; sizes 7 to 16 years.

Main Floor — Jewelry Novelties In Pretty Boxes Special at Only $1.00. Gold top hatpins, gold top knives, gold top cigar cutters, cuff links, pearl beads, scarf pins and cuff link sets, etc.

Main Floor — 1000 Sterling Silver Manicure Pieces Regularly 39c Friday at 25c. Nail file, tooth brush, shoe horn, cuticle knife, hook, etc.; each in gift box.

Third Floor — Pictures Regular Price 75c Friday only 59c. Old master subjects in color, handsome specially designed antique frames with bowknot cord.

Main Floor — 59c "Goodluck" Pin Cushions Friday Only 39c. A cute novelty, satin covered pin cushions, dozen gold plated safety pins and genuine "Keropie" jointed doll.

Fourth Floor — Writing Desks Regularly $10.00 Friday Only $6.50. Handsomely designed desks in full mahogany finish, a worth while saving on a desirable gift.

Fourth Floor — Brass Beds Worth $27.50 Friday $15. Only 50 like illustrated, elegant satin finish, beautiful large trimmings.

Fourth Floor — $2.50 Mission Smokers' Stands Friday Only $1.65. Fumed oak, nicely made and fitted with brass, Note drawer and shelf; a splendid gift.

Third Floor — Little Boys' 50c Tyrolean Hats Friday Only 37c. Made of chinchilla, velvet and corduroy, in all shades and colors, some have earlaps.

Basement — $2.95 Aluminum Tea Kettles Friday Only $1.79. Seamless styles, just as pictured, medium size; large size at $1.98.

Second Floor — $2.75 Spanish Leather Pillow Slips Friday Only $1.25. Magnificently made, with leatherette back, patent snap fastener so that cushion may be inserted without sewing.

Third Floor — Three-Fold Screens Regular $1.25 Quality Friday Only 97c. Substantial oak frame, filled with good quality green or red silkoline. Limited quantity as illustrated.

Third Floor — $1.75 Reversible Tapestry Couch Covers Friday Only $1. Good variety of rich Oriental designs and colorings, all full width and length and fringed all around.

Basement — Stair Oil Cloth Regular Price, Yard, 10c Friday Only, Yard.. 5c. Beautiful patterns, all first quality. 18c Table Oil Cloth, 1¼ yards wide, in white and fancy colors; very slight imperfections. Yard ... 12½c

Basement — Condiment Sets Regularly 65c Friday Only 45c. Japanese china, beautifully decorated set, consists of tray, mustard pot with spoon, salt shaker, pepper shaker and toothpick holder.

Fourth Floor — Linoleums Remnants, 4 Yds. Wide For Friday Only Per Sq. Yd. 49c. Special patterns in short ends, pieces range from 4 to 16 yards.

Third Floor — Boys' $1 Shirts Sizes 12½ to 14 Friday Only at 50c. These are subject to slight imperfections, but nothing to hurt the wear; materials—sateens, madras and percale, with or without attached cuffs.

Basement — $1.25 Cake or Ice Cream Set Friday Only 95c. Fine imported china, beautifully decorated, 1 large fancy plate with six smaller plates to match.

Third Floor — A Live Circus in Toyland With live ponies, live dogs, live clowns and Maud, the unridable mule. Five performances daily—bring the children. Admission Free to Children Accompanied by Adults.

Fourth Floor — Royal Wilton Rugs Regular Price $8.25 Friday Only $5.92. Size 36x63 Royal Axminster Rugs—Size 27x60 inches; regular price $3.50. At $1.79

4 Mins. by Tunnel to No. Station Nearest Big Store to So. Station

HENRY SIEGEL CO.

Washington and Essex Streets, Boston

KNOWLES' 'STORY' OF BEAR

"I SHOULD CALL IT AN OPEN DEAD-FALL OR PIT," HE NOW SAYS IN LECTURE.

Continued from First Page.

port, telling my story, and left these stories for the newspaper men, supposing they would be published. I have found since coming out of the woods that they were published, and also stories written by other men were published as well. Sometimes I was in Maine, sometimes in Canada. During the time I was in the woods I not only caught fish, but bear, and killed one deer and found one killed.

How could I get a bear? I had no axe, but could build a trap to catch a bear. I should call it an open dead-fall or pit, not unlike the trap the squaws in the West have made and held with rocks to catch bears.

The deer I did not catch in a trap. I was coming along with no intention of catching a deer. I heard a crash in the woods as if there was something there, coming out of the thicket. I came farther along and saw a ripple in the water and knew that something was moving there. I stood a minute. It was not very long before I saw a little spiked-horn buck walk out.

Tells of Deer Fight.

I stepped into the woods a minute. I did not think of getting the deer. I did not have any gun. I do not know why I ever did it, but I picked up a spruce root and threw it over the deer's head. He threw his head up, turned around and came out of the water about ten feet from where I stood, turned back and looked at the water. I could have reached out and put my hand on the deer, but the wind was blowing from the deer to me, and he could not tell I was there. He stood looking back, then went up the trail.

I jumped and got him by the forward legs and threw him. We went down together and got mixed up, but I finally got a hold and twisted his neck. I am not proud of this way of killing the deer. I am just telling you about it. You read about the men in the West roping a steer, throwing him and driving his horns into the dust and then twisting his neck. A steer is much stronger than a deer. So you see this was not so difficult.

I want to say right here that in all the animals I have hunted and trapped and killed, and there are many of them, moose, deer, caribou and bear—I have either caught in traps or shot many of them—among all that I have killed or seen killed or dead, I have not even so much as a trophy of any of the animals. I have no trophies decking my study walls.

Avoided the Wardens.

I prize more than any trophy the photographs that I have taken of these wild animals, living and moving and in their native state. I have pictures taken at night with a jack light moving down stream. That is wonderful, and when you see the balls of fire by the edge of the water you know that these are the eyes of the deer.

I must tell you more about my methods. I shall not have, I think, very much more time before the pictures come. About writing my messages and leaving them I have not time to tell you. Among the messages that I left every week I wrote a message saying I would meet my friends and others at Megantic October 4. I traveled about sixty miles to get to Megantic. I kept off the trails and logging roads, because I wanted to avoid the wardens, the game wardens. My reason for this was that I knew I had broken the game laws, and I wanted to stay in the woods and complete the two months' work. I knew I could stay and finish up, but I did not want the wardens coming along. I had broken the Maine law. I wanted to protect myself and my friends who were on the outside and betting upon me. The least I could do was to make the attempt. I could go into Canada and take chances with the Canadian game wardens, having been refused by the wardens in the State, my own State. I walked in the woods all of the way.

After I reached the other side of the mountain I heard a train whistle on the Canadian Pacific Railroad. When I heard the whistle of the train it sounded pretty good to me. It was on the fourth day of October when I went in on the track of the railroad, and so arrived at the town of Beauty.

Kept Out of Sight.

I kept out of sight, however, crossed the line, and went onto the track above that. The very first person that I saw was a girl fourteen years of age, who came out of a house near. I met this little girl, and I don't know what she thought I was—perhaps a wild man or an animal—but she began to run away. Then I had an opportunity I asked how far it was to Megantic and was told it was about seven miles from there to Megantic. A passenger train would come along in about fifteen minutes, which I could flag at the bend of the road and ride into Megantic.

There was a house in the field and a lady came out, and kids—I should say that at least twelve kids—came rushing down. I guess they thought I was some kind of a wild animal. They went back and got behind the old lady, but finally they became quite tame, came down and actually put their hands on me.

While we were waiting there for the passenger, a freight train pulled in on the siding. The engineer came over and shook hands and said: "This is Mr. Knowles?" I said, "Yes, this is Knowles, what there is left of him." "I think, Mr. Knowles, you have done a wonderful thing. Everybody is talking about you, and there are many people waiting for you at Megantic. The game wardens of Canada and Maine and your friends are waiting for you."

More of Knowles' own story as told in his lecture will be printed in tomorrow's AMERICAN.

Don't forget! Another instalment of the biggest story ever printed in any newspaper—The TRUTH ABOUT KNOWLES, OR THE DOCTOR COOK OF THE MAINE WOODS—WILL BE PRINTED IN NEXT SUNDAY'S AMERICAN.

Urge Teaching Girls' Work

Women Want Daughters to Appreciate Responsibility.

"If the young man is expected to help with home duties, the girls of the family should be taught to take care of the furnace, bring up coal and do other work expected of boys," argued a woman speaker at the New England Home Economics Association's conference at No. 6 Marlboro street, Back Bay.

This followed the suggestion that mothers train their young sons to have some responsibility in the work of the home, that when they grow up they might have some appreciation of the value of a woman's work at home.

$50,000 Given to the State College

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The Department of Agriculture has made a contribution of $50,000 to the State of Massachusetts, and similar amounts to each of the other five New England States, to be given to the State agricultural colleges.

GUARD MALDEN HOSPITAL FROM NIGHT PROWLER

Two Malden police officers were on duty for the first time last night guarding the Malden Hospital from prowlers who have pestered the institution for the past month. These two officers walked time and time again around the building in an attempt to catch the offenders.

The first time trouble was reported at the hospital was about a month ago, when Miss Doris L. Robinson was stabbed in a corridor and the assailant was never caught. Shortly after this Miss Jennie Eastwood, another nurse, was accidentally shot by one of the physicians on duty.

Numerous other complaints of goings on at and around the hospital have been reported to Mayor Schumaker, and as declared it best to place special officers on duty there. Arthur F. Regan and George W. Bell were the officers appointed.

Dies Buried Under Four Tons of Coal

Angelo Flamino, forty-four, employed at the Everett plant of the New England Gas & Coke Company, is dead of suffocation in one of the big coal pockets of the company. He was buried under four tons of coal.

FOR QUICK RELIEF from coughs, colds and throat strain—do as others have done—take

LUDEN'S MENTHOL CANDY Cough Drops

"Have a Hundred Uses"

Singers, speakers, salespeople, outdoor workers—all find Luden's beneficial. Clear, soothe, refresh the throat and nose. Absolutely pure.

Sold Everywhere—5c. the box.

WM. H. LUDEN Manufacturing Confectioner Reading, Pa.

5¢

Don't Run Your Feet Off—

ransacking your town for appropriate Christmas Gifts.

Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen

is the one thoughtful, useful and economical gift that will save time and money for you and the one that receives it. Waterman's Ideal is a guaranteed pen; you can depend upon it that you are giving what millions know to be the most efficient writing implement made. Compact, dainty, artistic and altogether practical for gifts. Everyone who writes will appreciate this pen.

Self-Filling, Safety and Regular Types, Plain or Mounted. $2.50 and up.

From the Best Dealers.

L. E. Waterman Company, 24 School Street, Boston.

Marry me Ethel

And I'll buy the ring of the original and only Wilson Bros. Ring Store in true Australian gold wedding rings in their own factory at $5 to $15. Any special ring to order in 2 hours. Open eves.

A. McArthur Co.

111 to 117 Washington St.

At Adams Square

CHRISTMAS DISPLAY NOW READY

Columbia Grafonola Note the Name

The Grafonola department is stocked with the various styles of machines and a full assortment of records. You may have immediate delivery, or you may order now and the goods will be sent when you desire. We urge an early selection.

Daily Concerts in Grafonola Department

Most Liberal Terms No Interest Charges

This Improved Favorite Grafonola Outfit, with 24 selections, including the famous Sextette from "Lucia" and Quartette from "Rigoletto" $59

Music Cabinet 7.75

fully finished imitation mahogany, height 28 inches. Top 16x18 inches, to close in front and ample room for 40 made, convenient and attractive. Price 7.75

Fumed Oak Morris Chair 16.75

Real Leather Cushions

Beautifully fumed quartered oak frame. Back 40½ in. high, width 27 inches, 1¾-inch posts. Spring seat. Real leather upholstering. Price 16.75

OUR CREDIT PLAN Should you not desire to pay cash you may open an account with us by depositing a part of the whole amount down and the balance in weekly or monthly payments.

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

OVERCOATS FOR MEN AND YOUNG MEN

Buy a Stylish Overcoat and Charge It.

The classiest assortment of overcoats in the city, made up to give comfort and warmth and possessing all the points of style and fashion. Both the old and the young men can have the choice of our stock and pay for it in convenient payments of

A DOLLAR A WEEK.

You will find great value in every garment at prices from $10. to $25.

THE LADIES' COATS AT $10, $12, $15, $25 are wonderful values.

GATELY'S

OPEN EVERY EVENING BUT TUESDAY AND THURSDAY

876 WASHINGTON ST.

481 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge

86 W. Elm St., Brockton 52 Andrews St., Lynn

You Are SAFE When You Buy at RIKER-JAYNES

For Fine Quality Toilet Requisites

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION

RIKER-JAYNES STORES

Stand Pre-eminently at the Head

In every art there is some one person so much more skilled than others that he sets the standard for that particular art.

In every city there is some business establishment so far in advance of all the others that it sets the pace for their particular line.

That Is The Position We Occupy in Every City Where We Have a Store

Our stores are today recognized as the leaders in fine toilet requisites of every description. This prestige is being maintained and broadened every day.

The finest productions of all the world's most celebrated manufacturers of fine Perfumes and Toilet Requisites of every description may be found at our stores, in charge of experienced salespeople, who have a thorough knowledge of all of them and who take pleasure in endeavoring to fill your most exacting requirements.

Every article we sell is under our broad guarantee that if after purchasing it you find it to be different from what you desired, or not up to your expectations, we will cheerfully refund the full purchase price. This guarantee proves our faith in the quality of the articles we handle, and is your safeguard when purchasing from us.

We call attention in this advertisement to a few of the many desirable articles in toilet requisites to be found at our stores.

Perfumes

Dainty Perfumes for Dainty Women

Our assortment consists of the most popular odors of the world's greatest perfumers and is so large and varied that we can satisfy the most exacting.

Mary Garden Perfume is one of the most popular productions of V. Rigaud of Paris, who is today recognized by all who are in a position to judge as being the world's greatest perfumer. ½-oz. bottle 1.00
1-oz. Bottle 2.00
Large Cut Glass Stoppered Bottle, same as shown in cut, in handsome case 4.00
Riker's Charmona 2.00
Roger & Gallet's Vio de Parme, 1.00
Coty's Jacqueminot Rose 2.50
Houbigant's Ideal 4.75
Colgate's Violet 50¢
Hanson & Jenks' Violet Brut, 1.00
Hudnut's Violet 50¢
Piver's Azurea 1.35

Also many other kinds of popular foreign and domestic perfumes.

Parisian Ivory

We offer the genuine Parisian Ivory made by Loonen of Paris, the acknowledged peer of all foreign makes. You can always find a complete assortment in our stores at the very lowest prices.

Brushes	1.23 to 5.29	Button Hooks	59¢
Military Brushes, a pair,	4.29 to 7.59	Files	59¢
Combs	29¢ to 1.69	Mirrors	1.49 to 7.79
Buffers	98¢ to 1.69	Clocks	2.89 to 6.29
		Trays	3.79 to 6.79

Toilet Soaps

The kind you ought to use and at the price you ought to pay. We sell large quantities of Toilet Soap because we have the kind that the people like.

Trentini Toilet Soap

One of the finest productions of V. Rigaud of Paris, a wonderfully choice cake of toilet soap which is scented with the captivating odor of Trentini Perfume, the fragrance of which is a dream of sweetness. Price, per cake 25c

Transparent Toilet Soap—Extra large size cake of very good quality: a soap that will produce a good lather and is nicely scented.

3 Cakes for 25c

Soothing and Healing Soap

This soap is equal in antiseptic qualities, purity and for toilet purposes to any soap retailing for 25c a cake. It is slightly perfumed, well seasoned, soothing to the skin and makes a delightful lather.

A cake 13c 3 cakes for 33c

Florida Water Soap

An exceptionally fine toilet soap, delicately perfumed.

A cake 10c 3 cakes for 25c

Corona Castile Soap

An exceedingly fine quality of imported Spanish Castile soap, so pure that it is very desirable for the skin in cases of sickness; for bathing, infants, etc. 10c a cake, 3 cakes for 25c

Conti Castile Soap—The oldest and generally regarded as the best Italian Castile soap imported. Long bars weighing about 4 lbs. 65c
Cut into cakes, 10c each, 3 for 25c

OTHER TOILET SOAPS AT REDUCED PRICES

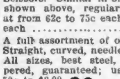
Riker's Bath 3 for 25¢
Hegeman's Fernwood Violet, 3 for 25¢
Colgate's Cashmere Bouquet 15¢
Cocoa 4¢ and 8¢
Craddock's Blue or Carmel 9¢
Cuticura 19¢
Fairy 4¢
Felt's Foot 9¢
Glenn's Sulphur 18¢
Ivory 4¢ and 8¢
Laco Castile 3 for 25¢
Life-Buoy 4¢
Munyon's Witch Hazel 7¢
Sayman's Vegetable 3 for 25¢
Packer's Tar 17¢
Pears' 12¢ and 20¢
Pompeian Razlez 19¢
Williams' Jersey Cream, 3 for 37¢
Woodbury's or Resinol 19¢

Hundreds of other kinds; all first quality toilet soaps.

Manicure Goods

Well kept finger nails are a sign of refinement and culture. To aid you in this respect we offer one of the most complete assortments of every requirement in this line that can be found anywhere.

Cuticle Scissors



As a special inducement in this line we offer a finely made Cuticle Scissors. Similar in shape to cut shown above, regularly retailed at from 62c to 75c each; each 39c

A full assortment of other kinds. Straight, curved, needle point, etc. All sizes, best steel, well tempered, guaranteed; usual prices 50c to $1.00. Our prices 39c to 1.24

Emery Board

Extra fine quality, in boxes of one dozen 10c
In packages of 1 dozen each. 3 Packages for 5c

Files

A large assortment, flexible, rigid, round and knife point, plain and with fancy handles 7c to 79c

A Special Offer of a 6-Inch Flexible Nail File

Very finely made of best quality steel, with polished handle and edges—a quality that usually retails at from 15c to 25c each.

7c EACH 3 FOR 20c

Buffers

In a variety of sizes and styles. From 23c to 2.50

Special Offer

An imported nail enamel, gives extra fine lustre. Packed in celluloid case. Regular 25c value, this sale 9c

Orange Wood Sticks

A fine assortment of hand-finished sticks, straight ends, loof shape, etc. Each 3c to 9c

Bathing Salts

Riker's exquisite quality, very delicately scented. Small bottle 25c
Large bottle 45c

"4711" Bath Salt—Eau de Cologne odor. Three sizes, 25c, 45c, 1.00

Powders—Creams

Lotions, Rouges, Make-Up Goods and the thousand and one other toilet table accessories that are in daily use by every lady, selected from amongst the best of the world's most celebrated manufacturers.

Riker's Violet Cerate

Smooths and nourishes the skin, builds up the tissues and beautifies the complexion. Especially valuable at this time of the year 50c

Trial Size 15¢

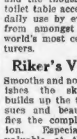
Riker's Improved Cold Cream

Cleanses and clears the skin, thoroughly freeing it from impurities. Pleasantly perfumed and always sweet, no matter how long it is kept. Tubes, 10c—Jars 15c, 25c, 50c, 75c.

Riker's Cream of Almonds

A delicate emollient, will make the skin smooth, soft and white and preserve it from the action of drying winds, sunshine and cold, 25c

Toilet Powders



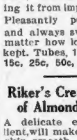
Mary Garden—A delightful powder, bearing that exquisite odor of the famous Mary Garden perfume 50c

Trentini—A suggestion of a bouquet of spring flowers, soft and beautiful 25c

Violet Excelsia—Exquisite odor combined with the choicest talc 15c

Incensia Talcum

In a box of imperial purple, with a novel, artistic design. The powder is soft, delicate and fine—fit for a baby's skin! We have never known a powder—imported or domestic—purer, softer or more temptingly perfumed than Incensia. You can pay more, but you can find no higher quality. Sifter top tin 25c



Riker's Dresden Face Powder—Does not show upon the skin, but it adds brilliancy and velvet softness to the natural tone of the skin. Made in six tints: White, Flesh, Pink, Dark Pink, Brunette and Evening. Per box 25c

You will find nearly every make of toilet powders in our stores. Below we quote a few of the low prices we make:

Amolin 15¢ and 25¢
Babcock's Corylopsis 15¢
Bathsweet 19¢
Comfort 17¢ and 35¢
Dier-Kiss Talcum 25¢
Colgate's, all odors 15¢, 25¢
Erwin's Arbutus 17¢
Hudnut's Talcum 25¢
Hanson & Jenks' Talcum 25¢
Riveria Talcum 19¢
Mennen's or Johnson's Baby 15¢
Spiro or Squibb's 19¢
Roger & Gallet's Talcum 17¢

Mail Orders Promptly Filled ADDRESS 50 Washington St. Boston

30 STORES in New England—92 STORES in United States

RIKER-JAYNES DRUG STORES

You are SAFE when you buy at Riker-Jaynes

Mail Orders Promptly Filled ADDRESS 50 Washington St. Boston

WIFE TELLS OF HORSEWHIPPING 'POLICE-MAYOR'

Testimony in the suit for separate maintenance on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment brought by Mrs. Emma Vining Brown, wife of George H. Brown, former policeman and Mayor and present city commissioner of Lowell, drew a throng to the East Cambridge Probate Court today.

Mrs. Brown told how threats, blows and suggestions that she committ suicide led her to horsewhip her husband, whose spectacular rise is said to have been due largely to the exertions of his wife, who at one time was a stenographer at the police station where he was on duty.

Mrs. Margaret Vining, Mrs. Brown's mother, said that in late years she had seen Brown chase his wife around the room swearing at her and striking her in a fit of rage.

"He frequently told her," said the mother, "that he wished she would commit suicide in the street."

Once when she and her sister Gertrude Vining, were at a camp at Willowdale, he was so abusive and made so much trouble that she secured a heavy horsewhip and belabored him with it, Mrs. Brown said.

Miss Vining testified that once when Brown was speaking to her about a certain woman in Lowell, Brown said: "When I got to going the pace, that woman saved me. I shall stick by her and you can all go to h—."

6,000 Tons of Xmas Toys Reach Boston

The Hamburg-American freighter Borderer arrived today with the last consignment of Christmas toys. The 6,000 tons of freight—enough to load three miles of freight cars—included doll's, Noah's arks, tin soldiers, rocking horses, child's tea sets, automatic and mechanical toys and holiday cards. The Borderer was six days late, owing to a succession of westerly gales encountered.

Fishermen Saved from Sinking Dory

Antonio Silva and Manuel Francisco, "T" wharf fishermen, narrowly escaped drowning near the Boston lightship at dawn today. They were hauling trawls in a 20-foot motor dory in a heavy sea when the little boat sprung a leak. The men bailed desperately but the gunwales were almost under when they were rescued by another dory.

George E. Coburn of Lowell Dead

LOWELL, Dec. 4.—George E. Coburn, cashier of the Lowell Courier-Citizen corporation, whose employ he entered as a clerk twenty years ago, died suddenly of heart trouble today at his home, No. 158 Fort Hill road. He was forty years old, married and father of one girl. He was born in this city.

The One Day Wonder

For Friday Only

$3.50 and $4 OVERCOATS

$2.15

Gray Brown or Oxford Winter Mixtures and Chinchillas—Silk or Velvet Collars. Worsted Linings.

Ages 3, 4, 5 and 6 only. Price Friday $2.15.

75c Corduroy Knee Pants. Ages 3 to 16 ..... 45c

Vorenberg's

Washington, Hanover & Elm Streets

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP—25-CENT DANDERINE

Girls! Girls! Save your hair! Make it grow luxuriant and beautiful.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides, it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

Young Oelrichs Wed to Miss Moreland

Bride Called "Belle of Newport;" Society Surprised.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Miss Esther Moreland, daughter of Andrew Moreland of Pittsburgh, and called the "Belle of Newport" during the past season at that resort, was married at noon today to Henry E. Oelrichs of New York and Newport, son of Charles M. Oelrichs. The ceremony took place in St. Patrick's Cathedral in the presence of relatives and a few friends. Monsignor Lavelle officiated. Leonard M. Thomas was Mr. Oelrichs' best man and the bride was given away by her father.

The engagement of the couple announced Tuesday caused a surprise, as society had been greatly interested in both young people. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Oelrichs will sail for Europe where they will spend their honeymoon. They will reside in this city and Newport.

Auto News

By J. C. KERRISON.

President Fish of the Studebaker Corporation announces the election of A. R. Erskine as first vice-president, Mr. Erskine also retaining his position as treasurer; James G. Heaslet, chief engineer, as vice-President in charge of engineering and production; Ernest R. Benson, sales manager, as vice-president in charge of automobile distribution; Arthur L. Philip, assistant sales manager, assistant manager automobile division; Charles D. Fleming, as assistant treasurer, and H. E. Dalton as general auditor.

These men have won their promotion to high official position through recognised efficient and loyal service to the corporation.

Electric wiring that is carried through holes or otherwise exposed to chafing can be protected by short lengths of rubber tubing held in place with rubber cement.

Automobiles by the bushel! It unquestionably sounds funny, but that is the way the French government, which means the French customs officials, make public export figures. For instance, during the first nine months of the current year 182,000 bushels of motor cars were exported from France. From which it is evident that automobiles are represented as being dealt in by the bushel.

Carriage builders are not satisfied with making horse-drawn vehicles look like automobiles by the use of automobile type bodies, tops and so on, but are installing "complete electric lighting systems," including even the tail light, which goes on the vehicle, not the horse.

During the past week a number of mammoth general vehicle electric trucks have been put to work in the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway freight yards transferring incoming and outgoing freight from one freight house to another. It transpires that experimental and research work by the engineers of the company assisted by the electric vehicle engineers, showed that great saving of time could be saved the shipper, the receiver and the railroad company by the introduction of electric transfer trucks, and therefore for the purpose of facilitating freight handling these great five-ton G. V. electric trucks are being put in operation. It is anticipated that the shipper and the receiver will be greatly benefited.

'BELIEVE ME, XANTIPPE' WINS ON RETURN

By NICHOLAS YOUNG.

If a Harvard prize play is denied any greater achievement, it may at least be given credit for sending Mary Young back to Boston as a featured player in a Broadway success. It is easy to accord Miss Young a welcoming hand, for her triumphs at the Castle Square Theatre have drawn many friends to the particular brand of art she dispenses.

Possibly nothing was more convincing in the performance of "Believe Me, Xantippe" at the Majestic last evening than the sound acting bestowed by Miss Young upon the role of Dolly Kamman—the role she lived with for eleven weeks at the Castle Square Theatre last year at popular prices. It was plain that much of the difference between the up town and down town drama is in its cost to the playgoer. With a painstaking worker like Miss Young there is no real artistic difference.

"Believe Me, Xantippe" is a safe play for any intelligent player who has a fair sense of humor. While it smacks of melodrama, it does not grip you with its western atmosphere and screeching gun play. Its author, Frederick Ballard, may call it a comedy, but the simple facts in the case stamp it as common farce, with an occasional flash of gun powder to keep the actors from going slow.

While a great deal of the interest in the piece during this engagement is centered, for peculiarly local reasons, upon Miss Young, Mr. Brady has given the play the benefit of John Barrymore's attractive personality. Mr. Barrymore is always at home when good looks and vigorous love making are demanded, and in "Believe Me, Xantippe" he was no disappointment. Being classed by the police and finally captured by the fair daughter of a county sheriff imposed no hardships on this actor. It was a role that would satisfy the most blase matinee girl, to say nothing of the thrills of happy emotion it should bestow upon her less sophisticated sister.

"Believe Me, Xantippe," can be regarded as nothing greater than simple dramatic entertainment, with no big moments and only gentle comedy to relieve it from the sting of unadulterated melodrama. It did offer, however, a fair chance for Miss Young and Mr. Barrymore to display their talents in agreeable fashion. In Miss Young's particular case it presented sound evidence that her range of dramatic art is not limited to stock productions, and that she sparkles as brilliantly in the more pretentious surroundings of a Broadway production as she does when toiling in the family drama at seventy-five cents a head.

In fair truth it may be said that "Believe Me, Xantippe," has gained nothing in its journey from popular to first class prices.

MRS. DELLA GOODWIN, dancer known on stage as "Billie" Manchester, brought into the Lynn court for stealing two rings from her mother-in-law.

Liner Brings Prize Cats and Ponies

The Leland liner Angian from London arrived today with three polo ponies, purchased by W. Cameron Forbes at Rugby, England, while on his way home from Manila. Three blue ribbon cats for exhibition purposes, consigned to Mrs. Freedley of Boston, Mrs. R. E. Dunbar of South Bend, Ind., and Mrs. Dexter B. Whawell of Newton, were also aboard. There was also a big shipment of prize fowls for Greater Boston fanciers. The Warren liner Saxonmore brought two Welch ponies for Boston parties.

ACTRESS TOOK RINGS OF RICH MOTHER-IN-LAW

Mrs. Della Goodwin, known on the stage as "Billie" Manchester, the pretty cabaret dancer, who won the heart of Forrest Goodwin, the wealthy young Lynn shoe manufacturer, was brought before the Lynn Police Court today, charged with stealing $700 worth of diamond rings from her wealthy mother-in-law.

It was charged that she took two rings. One of them she handed to Judge Loumis and with it a pawn ticket for the other. The ticket showed she had raised $120 on the ring. Upon the return of the ring and the ticket the case was placed on file.

It was brought out by the police at the hearing that Mrs. Goodwin and her husband have been living apart since the first of September, the day the rings are said to have disappeared from the boudoir of Mrs. Daniel W. Goodwin, the mother-in-law, who lives on the Lynn Shore drive in the heart of the so-called diamond district.

Since Forrest Goodwin and "Billie" Manchester fell in love and were married, over a year ago, they have been making their home with Mr. Goodwin's parents. Mr. Goodwin is still there, but it was stated in court today that Mrs. Goodwin is living in Boston.

Lower Prices for Automobiles

Are paid at this season of the year than at any other. Seize that chance in the "Used Cars" column of the Boston AMERICAN.

How to Darken Gray Hair

By a Specialist.

A very satisfactory preparation which darkens gray hair and acts as a corrective agent for dandruff and other diseases of the scalp can be made at small expense and in your own home by dissolving a small box of Barbo Compound in 7 ounces of water and then adding an ounce of bay rum and a quarter ounce of glycerine. Any drug store can furnish these ingredients. This is to be applied once a week until the hair is sufficiently darkened, then every two weeks to keep the hair soft and glossy and the scalp in a healthy condition. It may be used with equal success in darkening the beard. This is a preparation that gives splendid results, both as a hair darkener and a remedy for all scalp disorders, and is well worthy of a trial. You will find it far superior to the ordinary store preparations and much less expensive. —Adv.

MEN MEN

Filene's

Winter's on the Way. Held up Somewhere Along the Line, that's all

THAT is why a lot of men who have been putting off buying their Winter Overcoats will wake up one of these mornings, pull the clothes up over their head, and shiveringly wish they'd dropped into Filene's before and slipped into a warm, heavy, snappy Balmacaan or Dress-up coat; —particularly when the assortment now at $16 to $75 is not likely to be duplicated until 1914!

For Your Information

The leading men's clothes' makers make at the beginning of the season all the coats or suits they are going to make until the next season.

Once these better garments are gone, only what are called "job lots" or cheaper qualities may be had.

A WORD TO THE WISE!

WHAT ARE THE LEADERS?

Well, the Balmacaan model is easily first. New England is particularly fond of these loose, nobby coats. Plenty now, $25 to $65.

Then there are dress-up coats with velvet collars, including very exceptional values at $19.50.

Three-quarter length coats with loose back in fancy materials; double-breasted coats, shawl or cravenette collars.

Robinson and Cleaver and Dorward coats from England and Scotland, to be had only at Filene's in Boston.

Better Take Care of Yourself, Mr. Man, Before You Start on That Christmas List! (Second Floor, as Is the Men's Sanitary, Non-Tip Barber Shop.

"THE POPULAR-PRICE TRADING CENTRE OF BOSTON"

GILCHRIST'S ONE-DAY EXTRAS

FRIDAY OFFERS EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITIES

To Purchase Holiday Gifts at Great Savings

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS

ALL DAY EVERY DAY THIS WEEK

59c-89c Waists 35c — Odd lot of lingerie waists sailed by handling, all sizes in the lot.	$1.00 Waists 55c — Assorted lingerie and net waist, styles high and low neck, some with flat collar.	98c to $1.49 Women's Hats 29c — Velvet and plush, many blacks, also some in assorted colors.
$1.50 House Dresses 89c — Broken lot of stripes, checks and dots, wash, linen, madras, chambray and percale dresses.	$2.98 Kimonos $1.50 — Wool albatross finished with silk buttonhole edge, colors pink, light blue and lavender. Slightly soiled.	69c Petticoats 49c — Black Moire, with deep knife plaited flounce.
Children's $2.98 Coats $1.98 — Colors, navy, red, tan and gray, high neck, storm collars of self and astrachan, lined and interlined, sizes 2 to 6 years.	75c-$1.00 Combinations 55c — Soiled from handling, unusually desirable styles. 35c Corset Covers 15c	Misses' 69c Gowns 49c — Flannelette, trimmed collar or ruffles, style double yoke front and back.
$1.00 Cape Gloves 69c — One clasp, Imperial backs, in tan only.	Women's 25c Handkerchiefs 12½c — All linen, Swiss embroidered.	Men's 17c Handkerchiefs 12½c — All linen, good size and quality.
Women's 35c Hose 17c — 3 prs. for 50c. Black silk lisle, medium weight, full fashioned, extra high spliced heels, reinforced soles and toes.	Infants' 25c Hose 12½c — Cashmere, colors black, white, pink and blue, reinforced with silk heels and toes, broken sizes.	$2.50 Hand Bags $1.65 — The new shape, pin seal.
Boys' $1.75 Sweaters $1.19 — In gray, maroon and navy, Byron collar or V neck.	Boys' 50c Underwear 25c — Long sleeve shirts and ankle length drawers to match, sizes 24 to 30.	Men's 75c Flannelette Night Shirts 36c — Well made in good col. ored stripes.
$2.50 Table Cloths $1.69 — Round scalloped, Pure German Linen, 60 inches in diameter.	Men's 15c Cotton and Wool Hose 11c — In black and oxford, heavy weight.	Men's $10 Overcoats $7.25 — In fancy worsteds, gray and blue chinchillas and kerseys, odd lots and broken sizes.
50c Christmas Booklets 19c — Package of 20, assorted with envelopes.	$1.00 Gift Books 50c — Bound in fancy imported buckram. 35c Correspondence Cards 15c	Women's $1 Slippers 69c — Black felt slippers, fur trimmed, Juliet style, warm and comfortable, a practical gift; sizes 3 to 7.
75c Fancy Atomizers 45c — Imported fancy glass bottles. $1.00 Perfume ... 50c	$3.00 to $5.00 Mantel Clocks $1.59 — Old Ivory finish, warranted movement.	50c Cook Books 19c — Edited by Emma Telford of Home Journal fame.
$1.00 Sleds 79c — Made from hard wood, self-steering. 75c Game of Parchesi, 49c	$2.50 Fern Dishes 99c — Silver plated, open work frame with mat, green liner fern dish.	$3.00 Carving Sets $1.69 — Sheffield steel, 9-inch blade carver, fork and steel with white celluloid handles; 3 piece set.
$1.59 White Crib Blankets $1.25 — Good full cotton size, 42x58 Tan Blankets, 11-4, $2.25	$2.00 Crochet Bedspreads $1.49 — Full size, hemmed. 25c Sheeting, 72-inch 19c	$1.75 Scrim Curtains $1.29 — Trimmed with filet and novelty lace insertions and edges.

Bring the Children to see the mechanical representation of Mother Goose's Party, 6th Floor

2 Legal Stamps with Each 10c Purchase

GILCHRIST CO

Washington St. Winter St. Hamilton Place

Bring the Children to visit Toyland, 6th floor.

COATS

Women's Cloth Coats

Bouclés, chinchillas, mixtures, two-tone effects and other desirable materials, 3-4 length, beautifully tailored, some with collars of plush, raglan or set-in sleeves. Reg. $15 to $18.75 values... $9.50

Women's and Misses' Coats

3-4 and full lengths, velvet or plush collars and cuffs, materials bouclé, astrachan, chinchilla and fancy mixtures; colors black, navy, gray and fancy two-tone effects. Regular $19.75 value, at..... $12.75

STATE HOUSE HOSTILITY TO FIRE PREVENTION SCATHINGLY DENOUNCED BY THE MAYOR

BLOCKED LAWS TO SAFEGUARD LIFE

Continued from First Page.

have been recorded as was set down yesterday.

"In my recent trip in the West I found that part of the country far superior in regard to building laws to the East.

"It is high time that the citizens of this wealthy city should look around them and see the conditions.

A Trip of Surprises.

"My trip through the lodging houses last night furnished a number of surprises to me. I was surprised to find the sanitary arrangements so good. There was also in a greater part of them an appearance of cleanliness.

"It is no crime to be out of work. It is no crime to be poor. For that reason alone, the attention of the people throughout the city should be aroused and some new system of housing the men who are out of work temporarily should be undertaken by law if public philanthropy won't do it.

"There are 4,000 inspections per year now as against 500 some years ago. Of course a Mayor can't watch every individual inspector or head of every department, but I assure the people of this city that when the responsibility has been placed I will act quickly and surely.

"I found in many of the lodging houses no absence of proper signs locating fire escapes, and in some instances proper fire escapes.

Unfortunates Have Rights.

"Men who are temporarily out of work can find plenty of places where they can get a proper meal within their means, and it is due them from this community to see that they get proper protection of their lives when they sleep.

"I found the type of men in these lodging houses very good. Of course the good and bad get into together. In many case I found mechanics temporarily out of work and they have the right to demand and to expect from the community a proper place to sleep and at the same time have their lives protected.

"In about every case I found a good register. It is almost impossible, of course, to get the men to give their right names or addresses if they don't see fit to do it.

"I tell you, I am heartbroken over this awful affair. I am already in conference with Excise Commissioner Fowler, who was for many years a member of the Overseers of the Poor and with labor and other organizations, in order that the men who lost their lives may be identified and given a decent burial whether they are or not.

"Of course, men will bring liquor into the bunks with them. It would be almost impossible for a lodging house keeper to prevent it but they should be made to comply with the law and the law should be stringent.

Blames Insurance People Too.

"Insurance companies are partly to blame. If they had any conscience, they would refuse to insure these buildings.

"This fire reminds me of the terrible explosion and fire in the Grover shoe factory at Brockton some eight or nine years ago when nearly sixty men and women lost their lives. It only goes to show that the building laws in this State are inadequate and should be remodeled.

"The people must shoulder the responsibility. They must demand of their legislators the passage of bills that protect life and property. Fire Commissioner Cole is working hand along these lines. He has given many talks to schools and other bodies. He was written for the press. I have called the attention of the city to the conditions in the burlesque and other sections and I can't understand why these conditions are not remedied by proper legislation.

"During my tenure of office I have sent numerous messages to the City Council calling attention to these conditions and recommending fire prevention laws.

"I visited the Wayfarers' Lodge last Saturday night and I found conditions safe and the place well handled. No such conditions as I found last night in these lodging houses.

Should Lock No Doors.

"I believe that the proper system of equipping a lodging house should be with the beds in one big, open, airy room where no doors can be locked and where the men can have good clear passages to find their way out in case of trouble. I would have a system of electric bells throughout and a man on duty in the hall where he could push a button and start an alarm on every floor. I would have watchman on duty on every floor all night and have him sit on a raised platform or something of the sort in order that he might see everything that is going on.

"It is unwise to have rooms with the doors locked and today I have ordered the doors taken down in some of the lodging houses that I visited last night. Gas should not be used in a place where so many men are sleeping.

"I found no fire visits to some of the houses last night that I had to step up or step down, as the case happened to be, to go from one part of the same floor. This should not be allowed. The doors should all be level.

"I hope the lesson of this fire will reach home now to the people. The residents of every community should insist over his place occasionally and see where a fire might start. Children should be taught to look about them.

Urges Model Lodging House.

"People in this city shouldn't put rubbish on a fire escape. They not only do it in tenement house districts, but they do it in the Back Bay.

"I believe that some sort of a model lodging house such as the Mills Hotel in New York should be built right here in this city and then our lodging house problems might be solved. I hope that the conditions as exposed by this fire will strike home to the rich and poor alike and make every citizen careful and free and take every caution to prevent a fire from starting.

"I hope the people will urge their legislators to do their duty. I hope the people of this city and this Commonwealth will heed Commissioner Cole, who has made a study of fire prevention."

BEGIN STERN PROBE TO FIX BLAME FOR FIRE

District Attorney Pelletier has turned the December Grand Jury loose—so to speak—on the firetrap question. He is seeking to place guilt in the Arcadia fire, if there is any criminal responsibility.

The District Attorney goes further. He calls on all citizens to help him and the Grand Jurymen, if they can, in the following appeal:

I call on every good citizen who knows anything about the Arcadia lodging house fire, in which twenty-eight men lost their lives, to come to my office in the Pemberton Square Court House at once that the Grand Jury may hear the testimony. The Grand Jury is now giving its time to finding the criminal, if there be one, in the killing of those twenty-eight men.

This call from the public prosecutor follows a tour of lodging houses—including the fire-swept Arcadia—upon which he guided the Grand Jury men, so they might see the housing conditions for themselves.

Reduce Guest Limits.

Building Commissioner Everett and Chairman Maloney of the city Board of Health showed that restrictions were needed by reducing the guest limit in several lodging places.

Mayor Fitzgerald has been on the holocaust trail with unremitting vigor. In order to see these cheap lodging houses—not in the daytime when they are empty and innocuous, but at night when they are filled with life and hazard—the Mayor began a round of them at midnight and did not finish his inspection until early morning. He went through South End establishments. His investigation was sharp and thorough. He visited seven places and only one escaped immediate effect of his disapproval, for he ordered reduction of accommodations, or abutting off of some floors or other protective changes in the remaining six.

Scores City Lodging House.

District Attorney Pelletier says he feels if it is not possible for a man to run a lodging house at a profit in Boston except under the conditions which prevailed at the Arcadia, then the city should get rid of such places and erect fireproof lodging houses for harboring unfortunates in place of firetraps.

One of the pioneers among officers taking part in the eight distinct inquiries now under way pointed out that, even if the night watchman, clerk, or other person supposed to be in charge did not sound the warning fire bells, no one could be held criminally responsible. This, he declared, showed a weakness in the law which must be remedied.

The employers, it was said, do their part in hiring the men to do the work. Even if the necessary warning apparatus is installed and passes inspection, it may be out of order five minutes later, and no one is liable under the law.

What the Grand Jury Saw.

Among the conditions at the Arcadia brought to the attention of the Grand Jury by District Attorney Pelletier were the following:

They found doors opening inward.

They found a door leading to the fire escape padlocked.

They found signs reading "Escape" placed where there were no fire escapes.

They found paint-soaked rags stored in closets.

They found that at many possible exits there were no red lights.

Eight distinct investigations were under way today in the Arcadia House fire horror. The most important of these was the inquiry begun by the Suffolk Grand Jury with District Attorney Pelletier.

The other investigations were:

Medical Examiner Leary's inquest.

Mayor Fitzgerald's personal inquiry.

Investigations by Fire Commissioner Cole, Building Commissioner Everett and Chairman Mahoney of the Health Board to take in all the lodging houses of the city.

Investigation by the police in charge of Captain Alasley Armstrong of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

Inquiry by the State Police.

Hold Inquest Friday.

Deputy Chief Neal said:

"Plans for Friday's inquest will be made today. The proprietor, the manager, the night watchman, all employes of the lodging house, occupants and frequenters and all that know or might know anything of the situation will be summoned before us. We shall have our stenographer there to record all testimony. The witnesses will be under oath. We will get from all the facts and establish the cause."

TELLS THE POLICE PROBERS NO GONGS GAVE A WARNING

John Marshall, a habitue of the various lodging houses of Boston and other large cities, and one of the men who escaped from the Arcadia lodging house fire, said today that the gongs which are alleged to have been rung by the night clerk did not ring. He made this statement to Captain Driscoll of the East Dedham street station, who is conducting the official investigation for the police department.

Marshall said that he was sleeping on the second floor above the lodging house office, when he was awakened by the smoke and the cries of the police officers and firemen, who were getting out the other men. He said that the gongs were not rung. He also stated that there was no chance to escape, save by the front door and by the fire escape on the back of the building, and that at the latter the men were fighting each other to gain it. Marshall made his way to the roof. He may be a witness at the inquest.

HOLD FIRST FUNERAL OF FIRE HORROR VICTIM FRIDAY IN HYDE PARK

The funeral of George F. Adams, the first announced of the fire victims, will be held at the rooms of F. C. Graham, 10 Harvard avenue, Hyde Park, at 1 p. m. Friday.

Out of the procession of sad-faced persons who filed into the office of the Boston City Hospital and made their way slowly down the yard to the brick building which houses the morgue and mortuary chapel, one was fated to find his brother among the victims of the fire in the Arcadia lodging house. It was Albert W. Seymour of No. 452 Shawmut avenue, who recognized the features of his brother, Fred D. Seymour, fifty-three.

Subsequently four other bodies were identified, if identification it can be called. At least they were given the names by which they were known at the Arcadia and which they had written on the register Tuesday night. What they were, more than this, who they had been and where they had lived, the "identification" did not divulge.

One body was found to be that of Thomas A. Anderson, forty-two, who for some time had lodged at the house. The other three could only be given the last names written on the register—Conroy, Carter and Brady.

"KEROSENE ODOR WAS STRONG IN THE FLAMES" SAYS ARCADIA LODGER

The smell of kerosene was strong when the Arcadia house fire was at its height, according to Frank Parker of No. 32 Appleton street, one of the lodgers saved on the top floor by the firemen. Parker said:

"I was given a bed on the top floor for fifteen cents. When I awoke the corridor was filled with smoke. With others I rushed to the fire escape. We were hemmed in there by the flames.

"With another fellow I rushed to a window. Another lodger crowded past us, looked at the ground for a moment, then leaped to death.

"It was then the man next to me said:

"'Do you smell kerosene?'

"And I answered, 'Smell it? my God! the smell of kerosene is stifling!'

"And a few seconds later my friend was gone. He had been unable to hold out against the approaching flames. So he leaped and died.

"I am willing at any time to testify that I smelled kerosene. It may help the authorities in their investigation."

Marry me Mabel

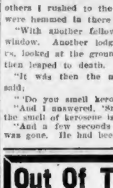
And I'll buy the ring of the original and only Wilson Bros., who make Australian gold wedding rings in their own factory, $6 to $15. Any special ring to order in 2 hours. Open eves.

"Arcadia," Indeed for the Nameless Dead in Fire Horror

ARCADIA (from Webster's Dictionary), any region or scene of simple pleasure, rustic innocence or UNTROUBLED QUIET.

Out Of The High Rent District

The nearer this way you get, the more your dollar will buy.



This Oak Princess Dresser 18x32 bevel mirror, divided top drawers. Regular price $15 Special, 9.95

This Rocker In golden oak or mahogany finish just like cut. $3.75 value. Special, 1.98

WHO WE ARE: This business was started in 1855 by James G. Haynes, one of the most successful presidents of the Mass. Charitable Mechanics' Association. The policy of absolute squareness which he laid down as the rule for this store has been maintained by us for 55 years. Our reputation for fair dealing is our greatest asset.

WHERE WE ARE: On the corner of Broadway Extension, one short block from Washington Street and a few minutes' walk from either the Boylston or the Dover Street "L" Station. All Washington Street surface cars stop at Broadway Extension.

TERMS TO SUIT THE PURCHASER

JAMES G. HAYNES

254-260 HARRISON AVE. Cor. Broadway Extension, a Block From Washington St.

PUBLIC DANGER

You Cannot Afford to Miss Reading This

We believe it is our duty to inform the public that the majority of fatal cases of pneumonia are caused by the patient taking for a cold some so-called cough cure which depends upon poisonous drugs for its effect.

These drugs deaden the nerves and stop secretion along the breathing tract—that causes pneumonia.

Father John's Medicine cures colds and throat and lung trouble without poisonous drugs. It is not a patent medicine, nor cough syrup, but a body builder—an eminent specialist prescribed it for the Rev. Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., fifty years ago.

HIS BROTHER'S KEEPER.

THEY (THE LODGERS) CAN SLEEP THEIR HEAVY SLEEP, KNOWING THAT THE NIGHT WATCHMAN WILL WAKE THEM.

—From booklet issued by owners of the Arcadia House.

Only a bunk with the common herd,
And yet to him a haven fair;
For a man will pay, without a word,
To "knit the ravaled sleeve of care."

"The watchman is your keeper here,
"He fends from harm," the booklet read;
So the outcast sleeps without a fear—
Today among the nameless dead.

Though the world may say the loss is small,
Somewhere a mother's eyes are dim.
"He had no chance"—the only call
He got was from the Reaper grim.

W. C. N.

Christmas Gifts

—OF—

Diamond Rings

$25, $50, $75, $100

Highest Quality at Lowest Prices

EVERY diamond is pure white, perfectly cut and carefully selected for extreme brilliancy. Largest stock of diamond rings from $25 to $100 in Boston.

—Established 1859—

The E. B. HORN CO.

429 Washington St.

Alley's East India Stock ALE

Recommendation and Performance

You recall the story of the man who couldn't loan his friend $10, but who would give him a letter of recommendation.

Sometimes the finest letters of recommendation have the least merit behind them.

Not so in the case of ALLEY'S ALE. It is better than its advertising.

"TELL BY THE TASTE"

"Because It's Better"

On Draught—In Bottles—and for Prime

MASSACHUSETTS BREWERIES COMPANY, 24-28 Mawley St., Boston

Telephone Main 4660

Theatres.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

TOMORROW, 8 to 10.30. FIRST TIME IN AMERICA OF MONNA VANNA. Garden, Scarin Mono, Maratore, Marcoux, Ludikar, Cond., Arthur Cajpel.

SAT., 2 to 5.45, FAUST. Edvina, Swarte-Moore, Lafitte, Ludikar, Arensa.

SAT., 8 to 10.45, LA TRAVIATA. Parnell, Tentoney, Neumeister, Cond., Sobanski. Popular prices, 50c to $2.50.

SUN., 8 to 10, SUNDAY NIGHT CONCERT. Soloist: D'Alaque. Leonard Tenbrey, Assist. Orchestra of 75. Prices 25c to $1. Box Seats $1.50.

MON., MME. BUTTERFLY.

Box Office open 9 to 5. Downtown Office, Shubert's 162 Boylston st.

Mason & Hamlin Pianos used.

HOLLIS Evgs. 8:00 Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:00

CHARLES FROHMAN Presents

NAZIMOVA

In the Sensational Success

BELLA DONNA

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Thirtieth Anniversary—1913

Stupendous 12-Act Program

Leroy, Talma & Bosco

Startling series of Big Illusions

FLORENCE ROBERTS & CO.

HASSAN BEN ALI'S 10 ARABS

10—OTHER GREAT FEATURES—10

Prices Daily—2 and 7.45

Castle Sq Daily at 2.10 and 8.30 Tel. Oxford 5

The Comedy Masterpiece

THE LITTLE MINISTER

Prices 15c, 25c, 50c, 75c.

Next Week—"Sag Harbor"

SCOLLAY SQ. OLYMPIA 3200 SEATS

$250,000 ORGAN

HIGH-CLASS VAUDEVILLE PHOTO-PLAYS

Prices: 10c and 15c

Box Seats and Few Reserved 25c

NATIONAL A Theatre of Good Cheer

Feature Vaudeville.

Chas. Leonard Fletcher—6 Big Acts

Mats. 10, 20; Eves. 25, 35, 50, 60

Phone Tre. 250

GAIETY BURLESQUE VAUDEVILLE

Mats. Daily

THE AMERICAN BEAUTIES

GRAND OPERA HOUSE Mats. Today & Daily. The Follies Bergere Trocadero Burlesquers. Matinee Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday. Extra Matinee Tuesday. Next Week: The Miller Girls.

Theatres.

MAJESTIC TONIGHT AT 8:15

Wed. and Sat. Mats. at 2:00

ONE WEEK ONLY

Believe Me, Xantippe

With JOHN BARRYMORE and MAY YOHE

NEXT WEEK SEATS TODAY

Winthrop Ames Presents

THE BRILLIANT COMEDY

The Great Adventure

By ARNOLD BENNETT

Based on His Novel "HILDA LESSWAYS"

With JANET BESCHER and LYN HARDING.

SHUBERT TONIGHT AT 8:15

Wed. & Sat. Matinees at 2:15

A An Oriental Dream

THOUSAND YEARS AGO

By Percy MacKaye

Better than "The Blue Bird," as gripping as Maeterlinck, and fascinating as Kipling.

TREMONT THEATRE

Tonight at 8:15. Mat. Sat.

RICHARD BENNETT

AND CO-WORKERS IN

DAMAGED GOODS

PARK 3d Wk. Evs. 8:15 Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15

Cohan & Harris' Funny Farce

STOP THIEF

PLYMOUTH Evenings at 8. Mat. Today at 2

HENRY JEWETT PLAYERS

In Jerry Farnum's

The Broad Highway

BOSTON Tonight at 7:45

The World's Biggest Melodrama

THE WHIP

COLONIAL Evenings at 8. Mats. Wed. & Sat.

Mon. Montgomery and Stone

THE LADY OF THE SLIPPER

Elsie Janis in

HOWARD Fay Foster Burlesque Girls and Willie De Leon. Girl or Bird. Something doing 1 till 11.

WALDRON'S CASINO Dungeon Steps. Near Tremont Row. Every Week Burlesquers

$16,000,000 Reward!

This princely sum is now in the pockets of Boston American readers—

Ready to be spent on Christmas gifts—

Ready for the advertising gift suggestions of merchants who thus encourage early buying.

A reward for enterprise!

Home-loving people are readers of the Boston American—enthusiasts over Christmas, and generous givers of gifts.

And, because they discriminate, they are early buyers.

In addition to their $16,000,000 Christmas-gift appropriation, they will spend at least $32,000,000 this month on regular household requirements.

Both figures are conservative estimates, based on the American's daily circulation, and allow only $80 per family as the monthly expenditure for necessities and $40 for Christmas gifts.

Take the time today to frame an advertisement.

Tell the story of your Christmas merchandise just as earnestly as if it were two weeks hence.

Make it a supplement to your regular day-to-day offerings.

Put it into print tomorrow.

And rely upon it that it will be read and responded to—for that is the habit of Boston American readers—a habit bred of faith in their newspaper.

Remember, there's a part of many Million Dollars' reward awaiting your promptness of action.

BOSTON AMERICAN

A Personal Power With 400,000 Responsive Readers

Copyright, 1913, by W. G. Bryan

ONE DEAD AND A HUNDRED IN PERIL BY MIDNIGHT FIRE IN ANOTHER LODGING HOUSE

FIND NEW VICTIM DYING IN CHAIR

A lodging house fire which cost the life of one lodger, Dennis Carroll, installed 100 others and had possibilities of repeating the Arcadia holocaust, was discovered early today in a top-floor room of the Bay State House at No. 382 Hanover street, North End.

Carroll was a homeless fisherman, without kin so far as known. He was about fifty years old. William Vesen, the night clerk, said that Carroll was not a drinking man and that he had promised, on getting the room, not to smoke in bed. On account of the investigations following the fire at the Arcadia lodging house and the knowledge that the Mayor was making the rounds of the cheap hostelries the clerk said extra precautions were being taken with lodgers.

It was reported later, however, that a man's pipe was found near the bed in Carroll's room and that the man may have been smoking in bed and thus set fire to the mattress. But Carroll's body, fully dressed, was found sitting bolt upright by the window, as though he had gained that far in a struggle for air.

The Bay State House is a five-story structure with a brick L of the same height. There is an enclosed area on the North side with a few balcony fire escapes of old pattern. The escapes can be reached from windows of a few roofs of the L and from the rear of the main building at the northwest corner.

Carroll was given room 67 on the fifth floor. At 2:30 a. m. George Lotus, night watchman, made a round of the premises, then went up stairs at 3:10 to show two late guests to a room on the top floor. Coming back from this room 67. He dashed to the house telephone and notified Clerk Vesen who ran to the street door and called in Patrolman Joseph Ferrari.

Ferrari, Vesen and Lotus ran with pails of water to the door and when they had ten pails ready Ferrari kicked in the door. The room was choked with smoke. The bed was on fire. The flames were beaten out and extinguished with water.

Clerk Vesen was quoted as admitting that no fire gong was sounded and that no effort was made to rouse other guests. Forty were lodged on the top floor, the remaining sixty elsewhere.

The Grim Watchman Who Woke Arcadia Sleepers

They (the lodgers) can sleep their heavy sleep, knowing that the night watchman will wake them.—From booklet issued by J. G. Lyons, owner of the Arcadia House.

LODGERS SAY HEATING PLANT WAS FIRE CAUSE

Lodgers at the burned Arcadia lodging house believe that a defective heating plant was the cause of the fatal fire.

Joseph T. Bergin was one of the sleeping inmates on the top floor of the Arcadia when the fire broke out, who is firm in his belief that the fire was directly due to an overheated boiler.

Bergin was awakened by the smoke and the noise. Because of his familiarity with the building he succeeded in making his escape.

Bergin said that a few days ago he went into the basement with another man. His attention was particularly attracted to the boiler because he noticed the door of the firebox and the drafts were wide open.

In his examination of the basement he discovered, he said, that the dome of the boiler almost reached the stairway that led upstairs. The underneath side of this stairway, he went on to say, had at one time been lathed and plastered, but he declares that much of the plastering had fallen and that the wooden laths were exposed to the heat from the boiler.

Bergin says that he felt of the exposed laths with his bare hand and found them so warm that he concluded that the heat had caused the plastering to drop.

That the boiler generated a large amount of heat was further vouched for by James J. Driscoll, who formerly lived at No. 5 Emerson street, South Boston.

Driscoll said that he and slept on the bare floor near the boiler when it was so hot as to be positively uncomfortable.

TWENTY-ONE RULES OF BOARD OF HEALTH GOVERN LODGINGS

Following the inquiries begun in the Arcadia House fire horror, interest was given to the Boston Health Board's regulations governing lodging houses in the city.

These rules are twenty-one in number and are as follows

"Health Department,
"Boston, June 2, 1913.

"At a meeting of the Board of Health, held July 29, 1909, the following rules were adopted for the government of lodging houses in the City of Boston, to take effect on and after that date:

"1. A record, uniform in the different lodging houses, shall be kept in each house, of which there shall be placed the names of all lodgers, the date, number of the bed and the dates of both their repetitions.

"2. The means for light and ventilation shall be satisfactory to the Board of Health, and beyond the control of lodgers. All windows must be permanently open at least twelve inches at the top.

"3. All floors and stairs must be sound, smooth and either painted or oiled.

"4. There shall be allowed no less than 400 cubic feet of space to each lodger in sleeping rooms.

"5. Single or small rooms are forbidden, except by special permit of the Board of Health.

"6. There shall not be less than two feet horizontally between the sides of any two beds.

"7. All bedsteads must be single and of iron.

"8. Blankets are required, and comforters are prohibited.

"9. Mattresses shall be wholly covered with a waterproof covering.

"10. No person shall be permitted to retire or sleep in his day clothing.

"11. No person who is not clean shall be allowed to retire without a bath.

"12. A new applicant shall not be lodged unless he shall have first taken a shower bath, and he shall not be lodged for more than seven consecutive nights without repeating the shower bath. For the purpose of this section a 'new applicant' shall be interpreted to mean a person who has not been lodged at the same place the night previous.

"13. Smoking in sleeping rooms is prohibited.

"16. All stairways, fire escapes and other means of exit in case of fire shall be in accordance with the statutes and ordinances on that subject and to the satisfaction of the Building Commissioner.

"17. Stoves for heating are forbidden except by special permission of the Board of Health.

"18. The use of portable kerosene lamps is prohibited.

"19. A reliable watchman shall be in attendance at all hours of the night.

"20. Individual towels, 18 inches by 36 inches for general bath and 18 inches by 12 inches for face and hands, shall be furnished.

"S. L. MALONEY,
"Acting Secretary."

Buildings Inspected.

Application for permission to conduct a lodging house must first be filed with the police captain of the district in which the proposed lodging house is located. The captain reports the application to the superintendent of police, who, in turn, sends it to the inspector of buildings.

Under the law no license to run a lodging house shall be granted until the inspector of buildings sees that the building is provided with adequate means of escape and appliances to extinguish fire. Alterations may be ordered by the inspector at any time. An official of the Fire Department also has jurisdiction (Chief Byron is in charge of the district in which this fire occurred.)

This law governing lodging houses is found in chapter 342, section 3, of the Revised Laws of 1904.

Chapter 242 of the acts of 1904, entitled "An act to regulate public lodging houses in certain cities," applies to cities of over 50,000 inhabitants.

Section 1 defines a public lodging house as follows:

"Every building not licensed as an inn in which ten or more persons are lodged for a price of 25 cents or less for each person for a day of twenty-four hours, or for any part thereof, shall be deemed a public lodging house within the meaning of this act."

Section 3 of this act reads:

Must Have Fire Escapes.

"No public lodging house license shall be granted in any city of over 50,000 inhabitants until the inspector of buildings thereof or the other officer of or board having authority to administer the laws and ordinances in regard to the construction of buildings therein, has certified that the building is provided with sufficient means of escape in case of fire, and that suitable appliances are provided for extinguishing fire and for giving alarm to the inmates in case of fire; and such officer or board may, from time to time, require such alterations to be made or such additional appliances to be provided as may in his or their judgment be necessary for the protection of life and property in case of fire.

OWNERS DESCRIBE "PERFECTIONS" OF LODGING HOUSES

"They (the lodgers) can sleep their heavy sleep, knowing that the night watchman will wake them."

This is the assurance given to lodgers in a booklet issued by W. H. and J. G. Lyons, the so-called "lodging house kings." The booklet advertises their chain of lodging houses in Boston, New York and other cities. The burned Arcadia House was one of eight such places conducted by the two men in Boston.

"The Public Lodging Houses—A Study of a Local Problem—Boston, 1910," is printed on the cover of the booklet.

The booklet gives descriptions of each of the lodging houses and a general story of the general conditions in the places. W. H. and J. G. Lyons are mentioned as the "owners and managers of the leading lodging houses in New England, with offices at No. 120 Eliot street, Boston.

The Boston assessors' records show that the Arcadia House is a five-story brick structure at Nos. 1202-1206 Washington street and No. 21 Lacoma street; that the building and land are owned by Moses H. Guiesain of Chestnut Hill.

Total Assessment $35,800.

The building is assessed for $15,100. The land is assessed for $20,700.

The total assessment is $35,800.

Previous to Guiesain's purchase of the property, in 1904, the owner was Neil McNeil, the wealthy Dorchester contractor.

The assessors' books show the ground floor to have been occupied by Patrick J. Sullivan, a saloonkeeper, assessed for $3,000, and A. Shoody, bootblack, with no assessment.

There is no record at City Hall of the issue of the upper floors.

When the poll tax assessment was made last April 1 there were 154 male lodgers in the Arcadia House claiming voting residence in Boston.

The books booklet gives this description of the lodging house:

"It is an old hotel converted to lodging house purposes. Five stories high, refitted with windows on three sides. The first floor is devoted to the office, sitting room and smoking room. Upper floors contain rooms and dormitory. Rooms can be had here for 20 cents.

Clears Atmosphere.

"There are toilet and baths on every floor, with open plumbing. The building is lit entirely by electricity, supplied by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company. The lighting system absorbs none of the oxygen in the air thus giving the several hundred inmates the utmost clear atmosphere they demand.

"Every newcomer here is provided with two towels, one for bath purposes, and is given a key to the clothes closet. Bed linen is changed daily.

"This house is the last of the houses in the East, being established less than two years. It is built on sanitary lines

CANCER FREE TREATISE. Dr. Bach Sanatorium, Dept. 1, Jackson, Mich. Established a healthful home for the cure of cancer, tumors and other malignant growths. Cases in all stages treated successfully. Write for booklet, describing this method.

THE KNOWN DEAD IN HOTEL TRAGEDY

ADAMS, GEORGE F., forty. No. 10 Preble street, South Boston. Died at City Hospital of burns and other injuries.

SULLIVAN, WILLIAM, died of burns at the City Hospital.

SHUMOH, FRED B., no address, dead in ruins; about fifty years, 5 feet 8 inches tall, 140 pounds, brown hair, long brown mustache and beard slightly gray. Morgue number 3,789.

ANDERSON, THOMAS A., no address, dead in ruins. Had lived at Arcadia for some time. Aged about fifty, 5 feet 11½ inches, 145 pounds, gray hair, rather lang, sandy mustache and imperial, brown eyes. Morgue number 3779.

CONNOR, —, no address, found dead in house. Occupied room No. 5855; aged about forty-two, 5 feet 8½ inches, 155 pounds, brown hair, gray white mustache, blue eyes. Morgue number 3,788.

CARTER, —, no address, found dead in house. Occupied room No. 415; about fifty, 5 feet 11 inches, 200 pounds, black hair, grey over temples, smooth face. Morgue number 3,789.

BRADLEY, —, no address, found dead in house. Occupied room No. 501; aged thirty-five, 5 feet 8 inches, 135 pounds, long brown curly hair. Morgue number 3,790.

DEVINE, ROBERT E., of No. 178 L street, South Boston, identified by sister. Morgue number 3,791.

PRATT, WILLIAM L., of 2,862 Washington street, Roxbury, identified by brother. Morgue number 3,791.

HALLIGAN, LAWRENCE J., of No. 30 Winslow street, Roxbury, identified by son. Morgue number 3,797.

Unidentified Dead.

Eighteen unidentified men, burned or suffocated, bodies at City Hospital Morgue. Little prospect of identifying Patients at City Hospital.

Four men permanent patients, thirty-nine others being treated as out-patients.

Two hundred and seventeen people had been accommodated.

The booklet gives these other places conducted by Lyons & Lyons in Boston: Homestead House, No. 120 Eliot street. Eagle House, No. 67 Pleasant street. Model House, No. 1025 Washington street. Comfort House, No. 1095 Washington street. Palace House, No. 196 Commercial street. Anchor House, No. 238 Commercial street. Carlton House, No. 42 Eastern avenue. The two men have seven lodging houses in New York City, six in Brooklyn and one each in Jersey City and Newark, N. J.

INSPECTOR FLYNN ON LAST VISIT FOUND LAWS COMPLIED WITH

Officer John Flynn of the Board of Health, whose duty it is to inspect the lodging houses, visited the building Nos. 1202 and 1206 Washington street, last Friday.

"I made an inspection of the building last Friday and found everything all right," he said.

"The fire exits were all designated by red lights, as the law prescribes, the water buckets were all filled and ready for use, and the rooms were not over crowded at that time.

"Regarding the fire escapes I am sure that the building is equipped. But is not up to me as the building department looks after such matters."

'WIPE OUT ALL CHEAP SOUTH END LODGING HOUSES,' URGES WOODS

"As for trying to improve the present cheap lodging houses in the South End, it is a well-nigh hopeless plan. I say: Wipe them all out, every single one, and stop making Boston the 'paradise of the tramp,'" urges Robert A. Woods, head of the South End House.

"For the men who can afford to pay a small sum the city should construct lodging houses, run on a sanitary and hygienic basis. They should be clean, comfortable, absolutely safe and homelike. The Mills Hotels in New York, enter to such men, and are successful. Perhaps their standard is a little higher than necessary here.

To Abolish Tramps.

"But for the men who wander homeless, from one city to another, living from hand to mouth, and known commonly as 'tramps,' I offer this plan:

"Keep open all the time the Wayfarer Lodge and accommodate men there as often as necessary, making them work each day for their meals. If they are honest they will not mind the work. However, the familiar complaint of the

Real Causes Given for Sacrificing of 28 Human Lives

A—Lack of fire law actively in the hands of fire chief, as asked for repeatedly by the Fire Commissioner.

B—Indifferent inspection of buildings.

C—Absence of automatic fire sprinklers and of fire extinguishing devices, which are cheap and handy enough to have in any building.

D—Utter stoppage of all building improvement in the South End, owing to the destruction of values by the putting up of the elevated structure.

GRAND JURY BEGINS FIRE HORROR PROBE

The Suffolk County Grand Jury today started their work of investigation regarding the fire and burned district in which the Arcadia House, scene of the Thanksgiving morning horror by fire at the Arcadia House, was destroyed.

The witnesses called today were:

Augustus Hemenway, manager and inspector of the Lyons string of lodging houses.

Warren Connell, engineer, tests, etc., of the lodging houses, who has been employed by Lyons & Lyons in the office of the Arcadia House, because he didn't have the price of a bed, and who afterward became a lodger.

Medical Examiner Thomas H. Wentworth, Fire Chief Edward W. Leary.

The two medical examiners will testify before the jury in their examination of the bodies of the dead and the post-mortem examinations which followed.

Chief Leary will testify as to the fire alarm system, the condition of the fire escapes, the condition of the fire apparatus, the condition of the fire extinguishers, the condition of the fire hydrants, the condition of the fire alarm boxes, the condition of the fire alarm wires, the condition of the fire alarm poles

WAIFS IN PERIL IN CITY'S LODGE

Official Admits Fire Danger in Wayfarers' Home on Hawkins Street.

As a result of criticism by Charles R. Lawrence of No. 131 State street, who in 1911 introduced the legislative bill which would substitute municipal lodging houses for cheap lodging houses, Wayfarers' Lodge on Hawkins street was inspected today by a Boston AMERICAN reporter.

Wayfarers' Lodge is maintained by the city of Boston for the homeless and penniless. It is under the management of the Poor Department.

The lodge derives some revenue through the sale of wood, sawed and split by the inmates, who thus pay for their lodging. Wood is bought by the management for the wharf price and is sold to customers at the retail price. Whatever balance is necessary is taken from the department appropriation.

The records show that 156 men slept there last night. As many as 200 have been crowded in during the cold nights of Winter.

Fire Peril Is Ominous.

The house is not equipped with a fire gong.

There are less than a dozen sprinklers in the three floors.

There are no exit signs or lights.

The stairways are narrow.

One main corridor provides the only exit from the interior of the building.

The fire escapes are small and undoubtedly inadequate.

The interior construction is of wood.

It is situated in the heart of the whole-sale "paint district," regarded as the most dangerous locality in all Boston.

The building is eighty years old and is an abandoned schoolhouse.

Wanderers Welcomed.

Wayfarers' Lodge is a city benefaction. When the night wanderer finds himself without funds he makes application for lodging and is welcomed. He pays no money for his bed. His debt is paid the following morning at the wood pile. He is registered under any name he may choose to give. He is given a bath in the basement and his clothes are taken from him by an attendant for fumigation. He goes to his room in the second or third story and with only his hat and shoes. There he is provided with a clean, serviceable nightgown.

In the morning he is given breakfast. The menu varies between beans and soups. Then he goes into the woodshed, which is dangerously situated adjacent to the building, and splits his allotment of wood. He takes his departure then, but he may return that night again or any other time.

The lodge is contained in a three-story brick building of the most ancient type. The interior is of cheap pine finish. The floors on all three stories are wooden and the stairways and corridors are pine. Roscoe F. Holt, the janitor, said: "So many coats of paint have been applied that the wood is dry as tinder and would make a fine fire."

No Extinguishers in Dining Room

In the first floor is contained the office of Superintendent Edward Riley, a registration room and at the back a dining room where the men sit on stools and partake of the morning meal. In this floor there is not a fire extinguisher, there is not an exit sign and the flooring is inflammable pine.

Narrow stairways lead from the centre of the first floor up each side of the building to the second story, where they meet again in the centre of the building. The stairways, also of wood, are dimly lighted at night and are too narrow to permit of hurried exit.

On the Hawkins street side of the building is a big dormitory which accommodates 100 men. The cots are placed closely beside each other. The entire width of the building is devoted to cots. "In the Winter months we crowd in fifty or seventy-five more," said Janitor Holt. "We don't like to do it, but we don't like to turn the men out in the cold.

Admits Place Is Dangerous.

"Yes," he continued, "it probably is dangerous. We haven't got an alarm. If the night watchman discovered a fire he couldn't rouse the men and run to the box at the street corner.

The room is also dimly lighted. The windows are narrow. The fire escapes are small. On one side is the dangerous shed piled high with wood. In the interior is the dimly-lighted corridor and the narrow, wooden stairways.

On the third story the conditions are precisely the same, except that the dormitory is divided into two sections. But on the outside the narrow fire escapes are only on three sides. The builders neglected to build an escape on the rear side. The windows are narrow and the dormitories dimly lighted. Everywhere is the same dangerous finish of pine. There are no ladders or rope. Another dangerous, dark and narrow stairway leads to the dark and narrow stairway in the floor below.

There are no fire drills. The men who work longest at the lodge sleep in the upper story.

Evidently the immediate management of the institution recognizes the danger and desires to remove it.

"We ordered a fire gong this morning," said the book-keeper today.

"The building is inadequate to the demand," said Janitor Holt. "We are going to send after the inspectors of the building department today to find out what repairs we can make."

On the opposite side of Hawkins street are the John Lucas and the Boston paint mills, also a storage house for alcohols and spirits. At the corner of Hawkins and Varden streets is a box and paper plant. On one side of the lodge is an old cloth stable and on the other a three-story wood-working building. A garage is also situated on the opposite side of the street.

Waifs Need Some Haven.

Mr. Lawrence believes in the municipal lodging houses, he says, "because they will do away with the cheap ones we now have. But to do away with even the worst of these, what," he asks, "would these poor unfortunates do in their present state for warmth and heat?

"Boston, you say, has a municipal lodging house, but unless things have mightily changed I would class this same institution in the category with the one that burned the other morning and subject to the same social aversion and remedy."

City's Home for Waifs in Category With the Arcadia

You say that Boston has a municipal lodging house, but unless things have mightily changed I would class this institution in the same category as the one that burned Wednesday morning and subject to the same social aversion and remedy.—C. R. Lawrence, father of city lodging house bill.

Dark and Narrow Stairways Lead to Inadequate Exits. Paint-Soaked Wood for Walls.

WHAT A REPORTER FOUND IN HUB LODGING HOUSES

Here is what an AMERICAN reporter found in an investigation of actual conditions in the Lyons and other lodging houses in the one-mile square in which the Arcadia is located.

OLD COLONY HOUSE, corner of Kneeland and Shattuck street.—Capacity 192, two floors, fire escape on Pleasant street side, night watchmen, red light indicating fire escape, chemical fire extinguishers and fire buckets, seventy-five sleepers in one room. Owner Blandenburg, agent Clarence Wood.

PALACE LODGINGS, No. 17 Kneeland street.—Capacity sixty, two floors, two stairways, watchman all night, gong, chemical fire extinguishers; fire escape misses some windows on first floor. Owner C. N. Campbell.

Nothing found that appears as bad as the Arcadia.

The Model House has the poorest fire escape of those inspected, but has two stairways.

SALVATION ARMY, No. 886 Washington street.—Capacity 192, two floors, fire escape on Pleasant street side, night watchmen, red light indicating fire escape, chemical fire extinguishers and fire buckets, seventy-five sleepers in one room. Owner Blandenburg, agent Clarence Wood.

COMFORT HOUSE, No. 1097 Washington street. — Capacity 102, two floors, house twenty-five feet wide; fire escape at side on Garland street, going on each floor, no fire escape at front of house. House owned by Berkowitz, who has a hardware and paint shop underneath.

MODEL HOUSE, No. 1025 Washington street.—Capacity 172, rooms full of wooden partitions, fire escape at back, from two windows out of five, two stairways, two floors, six fire buckets on each floor, gong, and night clerk, inspection last week. Lyons, proprietor. House not nearly full.

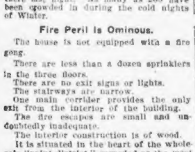
EAGLE HOUSE, No. 67 Pleasant street.—Capacity ninety-three, three floors, narrow house with fire escapes at back, gongs, night clerk, fire buckets, inspection nearly every week, neat and quiet. Owned by W. P. Murphy.

HOMESTEAD HOUSE, No. 120 Eliot street.—Capacity more than two hundred, clerks refused information; fire escapes at front and back, water buckets, gongs, separate rooms, four floors, neat and well painted, night clerk. Lyons, proprietor.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS ON CREDIT

We want everybody to take advantage of the low prices we are offering.

Waltham Watches



7 Jewel Waltham Including Gold-Filled Case 6.50 | 14-K Solid Gold Waltham Watches 12.50 | 17 Jewel Waltham Including Gold-Filled Case 8.75

DIAMOND RINGS

6.50 15.00 10.00

DIAMOND RINGS $6.50 to $500.00

BRACELETS 1.50 UP

1.00 Per Week

Signet Rings, 1.50 Up — Lockets and Ghains 1.50 Up

Money cheerfully refunded if goods are not satisfactory.

Peoples Credit Co.

501 Washington St. Opera Eggs. BOSTON

Providence Establishment, 300 Westminster St.

"Selling Like Hot Cakes"

And doing a lot more good

Dys-pep-lets

The "little wonder" tablets for Headache, Heartburn, Distress, Nausea

Sugar-coated tablets. 10c., 25c., $1.00. They'll surely help you.

SANTA CLAUS WILL GIVE HUNDREDS OF PIANOS THIS X'MAS — Will Your Children Get One?

Special Inducement to Early Purchasers

$10.00 Discount on Piano

To any purchaser who presents this coupon between Dec. 1 and Dec. 10, we will refund $10 on purchase price of piano and store piano until they want it free. You can save money and we will take the loss to avoid congestion during the Xmas rush.

We Are Santa Claus' Headquarters

J. P. COLLINS, 180 Man Whose Fight Against High Prices Has Put Pianos in the Reach of All.

Santa Claus has selected our spacious salesrooms for his headquarters this year as in the past. He's a wise old chap and recognizes the many advantages we offer him. For years we have sold more Xmas pianos in December than most houses do in a year. Why? Because we help our customers to get one and our prices are many dollars lower than others. Every year steadily our sales have grown. This year we have on hand the biggest stock we ever had, and we have no fear of not selling them. And just a word about this great stock. We never were more fortunate in our buying. We know we have the best assortment as to quality and quantity that we ever offered. And yet we are able to announce that prices will be lower than ever. In these times this should mean a whole lot to you. Come and get your piano of us as thousands have done and been thoroughly satisfied. The same generous terms to all. Free storage till you want it and free delivery anywhere in New England. Your Xmas money will go much further if you do.

HOW WE HELP YOU

A beautiful scarf and stool free.
Credit and allow you to pay us on easy terms.
Free delivery anywhere in New England.
We agree to keep piano tuned for two years.
Our own and maker's ten-year guarantee.
Money back after 60 days' trial if not satisfactory.

Your Old Piano, Organ, Phonograph, Typewriter, Furniture, Desks, Jewelry or anything else of value taken as part payment.
If after three years' use you decide you want to exchange for any other make in stock (and we have them all), full value allowed.
Could you ask more?

EASY TO OWN A PIANO

Nowhere Else in Boston Can Such a List of Pianos Be Found

All the World's Best Makes—Some New—Some Used a Little and Some Used More

Weber Upt.	$80	Shumann Upt.	$175	Doll & Sons Upt.	$250	Stieff Upt.	$140
Behning Upt.	$50	Pease Upt. (new)	$275	Frederick Upt.	$175	Radle Upt.	$115
Hallet & Davis Upt.	$90	Chickering Upt.	$95	Knabe Upt.	$85	Aero-Tone Int. Play	$225
Vose Upt.	$115	Everett Upt.	$110	Ivers & Pond Upt.	$95	H. F. Miller Upt.	$65
Haynes Upt.	$165	Merrill Upt.	$120	Mason & Hamlin	$110	McPhail Upt.	$65
Emerson Upt.	$75	Chickering Upt.	$55
Fischer Upt.	$60	Huntington Upt.	$145
McPhail Upt.	$80	Steinway Upt.	$175
Huntington Upt.	$95	Steinberg Upt.	$40

LOTS OF OTHERS NOT MENTIONED

SPECIAL: SOME OF THE NEW 88-NOTE PLAYER PIANOS, ALSO SOME FINE ONES SLIGHTLY USED, ARE ON OUR SELLING FLOORS AT LOWEST PRICES $150-$450

Your Old Piano, Organ, Phonograph, Typewriter, Furniture, Desks, Jewelry or Anything of Value Taken in Exchange. Full Value Given. Pianos Stored by Month or Year—Low Rates—Insured.

$5 DOWN — Free Delivery Anywhere, Any Time, and Trial Allowed in Your Home — $1 A WEEK

SPECIAL NOTICE TO PIANO DEALERS — No piano sold to dealers or makers for a less price than marked for public sale. Each piano is marked a selling price to cover expenses, and in no case can a maker or dealer get a lower price than an individual. This applies to dealer's or manufacturer's own make or any other make.

ROXBURY PIANO STORAGE SALESROOM CO.

2418 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

Take Elevated Cars to Dudley Street Terminal—One Minute Walk to Corner Dudley and Washington Streets, Going Towards Forest Hills

Be Sure You Get the Right Number—2418—Pay No Attention to Flashy Signs. Get the Real Number Fixed in Your Mind and Be Sure You Get There.

OPEN EVERY EVENING TILL CHRISTMAS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK

LOWELL BRANCH: 48 Middlesex Street

See the best stock of Pianos in Lowell with your own eyes. Almost all of the other bargains listed above can be seen also. Same easy terms as in Roxbury. Open Monday and Saturday Evenings till 9 o'clock.

The ideal whiskey for the home

HAYNER BOTTLED-IN-BOND WHISKEY

80¢ FULL QUART

IT'S the greatest value offered anywhere in America — rich, pure, delicious — guaranteed to please or your money back.

Insist On Bottled-in-Bond
Be particular in your selection—avoid blends and compounds—and remember there is only one way you can be SURE of getting absolutely pure, straight whiskey and that is to insist on BOTTLED-IN-BOND.

That's What We Offer You
Hayner fine, old Private Stock Bottled-in-Bond Whiskey—delivered to any part of the city, in plain sealed package—and all it costs you is 80c for a full quart bottle.

There Is No Question about a whiskey like this—you KNOW it is good and pure—the U. S. Government's official Green Stamp over the cork is your assurance that it is bottled-in-bond, fully aged, full 100% proof and full measure.

Nowhere Else Can You Do So Well
Blends and compounds can be had anywhere and at any price—but when it comes to BOTTLED-IN-BOND—Hayner Whiskey has no equal.

How Can We Do It?
We sell our entire product direct from Distillery to Consumer—thus saving you all the profit of the middleman and dealer—and giving you this fine old whiskey at the distiller's price.

Call At Our Store—
Get a quart bottle of this good old Hayner Private Stock Bottled-in-Bond Whiskey—take it home—try it—and if you don't find it all we claim—bring it back and we will return your money without a word.

Telephone Orders Promptly Filled
If it is not convenient for you to call at our store—drop us a line or telephone us—and the goods will be delivered to any part of the city—and you can pay the driver when he calls.

Introductory Offer to OUT-OF-TOWN PATRONS

Full Quart 80c Express Paid

If YOU have never tried Hayner Whiskey, we want you to try it NOW. Send us 80 cents in stamps, coin or money order and the full quart bottle of Hayner Private Stock Bottled-in-Bond Whiskey will be sent by express, charges paid—guaranteed to please you in every way or your money back.

Future orders from new out-of-town patrons must call for $3.20 for FOUR full quarts—express paid.

Address or Phone your order to THE HAYNER DISTILLING CO.—Desk 94

Phone: Main 2838 51-53 High St., BOSTON, MASS.

L-10

Get Ready! Another Different Series of the American's

WATER COLOR PAINTING SETS

EACH SET CONSISTS OF
4 Beautiful Photo Gelatine Pictures (Size 8x10 Inches)
1 Complete Set of Paints in 8 Colors
1 Imported Camel's Hair Brush

Will Be Offered With Sunday's American

Any Child Can Do Excellent Hand Colored Work and Share in the $2,000 Prize Fund

"WHITE HOPES" WILLARD AND MORRIS MAKE SORRY SHOWING IN GOTHAM; FORMER WINS DECISION

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTING NEWS

SCHOOLBOY TRACK AND HOCKEY CANDIDATES BEGIN STRENUOUS SEASON INDOORS AND OUTDOORS

WILLARD BEATS CARL MORRIS IN RING FARCE

By RIGHT CROSS.

NEW YORK, Dec 4—Nearly 500 pounds of dead weight exhibited itself in the ring at Madison Square Garden last night for the edification of a few thousand citizens and presenting evidence of the box office game was still one that pays well as a real heavy weight engagement in New York some day.

The five hundred pounds were divided into two equal sections which were called for the purposes of identification, Carl Morris and Jess Willard. The latter had one pound the best of the weight and triumphed in the great struggle by about four inches and the weights were 258 against 254, which should teach Morris never to go out of his class again.

It was a wonderful agony in lard, a great study in still life, a gathering of shapes, such as a New York audience has seldom been permitted to look upon. Yet that crowd was not pleased. They hissed and booed and cussed thoughtfully throughout the ten rounds. Even when the peaceful mountains debated themselves from their moorings and lurched in the general direction of each other there was nothing like real enthusiasm, though the ring shook under the lumbering runs and there was a slight swaying of iron posts and a splintering of planks.

And they puffed and wheezed and lighted mild pushes blows at each other after the fashion of the late Ralph Rose breaking the world's record at putting the shot.

Even when they booed, as they did quite often out of ten, there was no earnest applause, the students at the ringside appreciating it not at the 50d required to hire a 240-pound man. Nor did they have any wild yells of joy when Morris suddenly butted Mr. Willard in the face. They seemed to expect it. Morris has been a good long time now, but he was bound to pick up some of the habits of that interesting animal.

PLAZA COLUMBUS
ONE OF OUR DELICIOUS DISHES
FREE
Delicious Tenderloin Steak Dinner
PRICE $1.50—Served for Two
Hear the latest Vocal Music
RATHSKELLER

SCHOOLBOY TRACK TEAMS VERY ACTIVE

With the closing of the football season activities in schoolboy track circles have started with a boom. Although programs have been going on for some time at many of the schools a majority of them have waited for the members of the football season, who will go out for the track team to recover from what injuries or illness they may have sustained during the season just closed. In most cases the football season supplies many good men to the track teams.

Candidates for the Mechanic Arts High School track team will report to Coach Cronin at the Columbus avenue outdoor track this afternoon. A large squad is expected to answer the first call. Besides Captain Joe Clancy, the following men are expected to figure prominently in track athletics at the school during the coming indoor season: Tom O'Hearn, Bert Bourne, Farwell, Stearns, Mahoney, Horn, Lally, Riley, Arbosco, O'Gorman and Dirk.

English High Athletes Already at Work.

Coach Fred L. O'Brien of the English High School will probably call a meeting of the candidates for the track team next Monday afternoon, when plans for the season will be discussed and completed. The candidate are now at work, under the direction of Captain McLellan, Dugar, Jim Connors, Shelburne, Morrill, Coughlin and Hendron are among the veterans who have reported.

Rindge Tech Starts Practice Next Week.

Track work will begin at Rindge Technical School next week, when a captain will be elected for the coming season. The veterans of the team are Hilery, Stevenson and Pole. Joe Smith of Cambridge will coach the team.

Triangular League Games on Feb. 13.

The Triangular League indoor track and field championship games will be held in the gymnasium of the Newton High School on February 13. Brookline High, Cambridge High and Latin and Newton High will be represented.

Volkmann Squad Training Outdoors.

"Bob" Fowler, new coach at the Volkmann School, is putting the track team through its preliminary paces previous to the opening of the indoor season. The candidates for the team are training on an outdoor board track directly opposite the school. Bill Lawrence, a brother of Sam Lawrence, the sensational Harvard high jumper a few years ago, is captain.

Brookline Announces Schedule of Meetings.

The Brookline High School track team will compete in the following meets this Winter:

January 23, Lynn Classical High at Lynn; January 30, Medford High and Tufts High at Montgomery street; February 7, Burlington Second at Y. M. C. A.; February 13, Cambridge High and Latin and Newton High at Newton, February 20, open.

The schedule is not complete.

Football News in Scholastic Circles.

The High School of Commerce eleven has completed its schedule and will not play the Commercial High school of New York as was reported. According to a New York story the Fenway school challenged the New Yorkers for a post season game to be played at Fenway Park next Saturday but Prin pal Downey denied any knowledge of this.

For their prowess in football during the season just closed the football players on the St. John's Preparatory School eleven have been awarded sweaters and letters, captain Mark Devin, Walter McLaughlin, Ed Creed, John Shelley, Mark Cohen, Charles Roche, Howard Butler, Frank Lynch, F. Welbourne, John M Donovan, Joe McAuley, M Dyer, M Murphy, J Murphy, Timothy, John Hitch, L Beresford and J Devine.

Left halfback Canton Falls has been elected captain of next years Somerville High School football team. Ellis succeeds Alex Anderson.

Letters have been awarded to the following members of the Lowell High School football team: Miller, Brown, Maginnis, Newcomb, C McNamara, Mongan, McKenzie, Haggerty, Coughlin, Proctor, Weeks, Low and Treanor.

William R. Morris has been chosen captain of the 1914 Lowell High School football team. He is a tackle.

William Martin, right guard on the Lexington High School football team during the past season, has been elected captain of next year's eleven.

Puck Chasers Getting Ready for Season.

William Cox and head the hockey squad from Medford High this coming Winter. Material for the seven is good and plentiful.

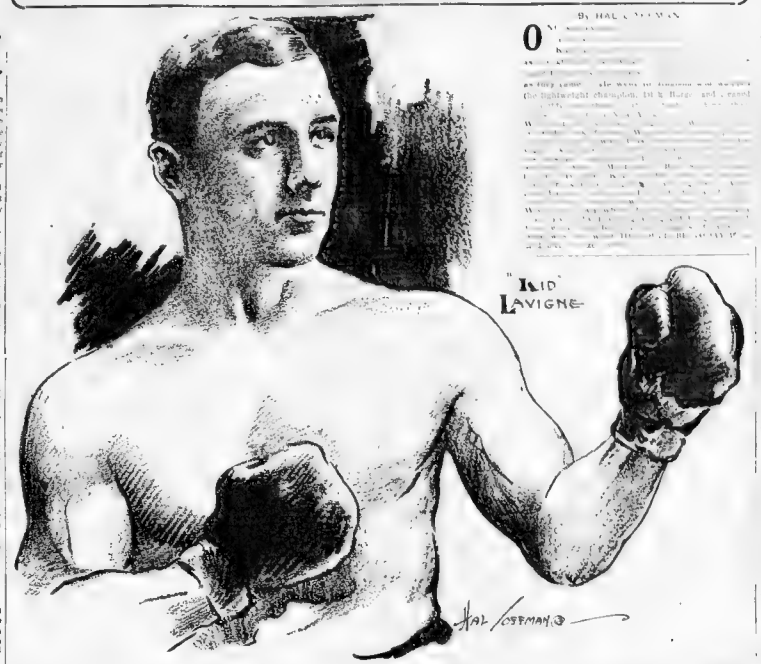
Harold Gately will captain the English High hockey team. The season's schedule is now being completed by the newly-elected manager Harold Grady.

Frank to Scout for Naps.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec 4—Charles Frank, president-manager of the New Orleans club of the Southern Association, will scout on behalf of the Cleveland Americans in the southern league circuit next season. Frank will be with the club when it opens its training season here March 15.

THEY WERE GOOD FELLOWS WHEN THEY HAD IT

No. 4—Kid Lavigne.



Yale Baseball Team to Play 26 Games

CROSS COUNTRY DID NOT SLOW UP MEREDITH

By THOMAS J. HALPIN

Angell Elected Captain of Tufts

Daly Supervisor of Williams' Athletics

Holy Cross Takes Up Art of Self-Defence

Somerville Boy to Lead W. & J. Eleven

You Can Enter Today

Send for the Back Pictures and Answer Lists NOW!

Special Notice. For the convenience of those who have the missed any of the regular issues, all back pictures may be obtained from the Boston AMERICAN Promotion Department, 10 Winthrop Square, Boston. The regular price of the pictures appeared, viz., one cent for each daily back picture and five cents for each Sunday back picture.

THE PRIZES

Glance down the prize list and get busy right now—today, for the big $1,000 cash prize.

1st Prize, $1,000 Cash
2nd Prize, $600.00 Cash
3rd Prize, $300.00 Cash
4th Prize, $250.00 Cash
5th Prize, $150.00 Cash
6th Prize, $125.00 Cash
7th Prize, $100.00 Cash
8th Prize, $75.00 Cash
9th Prize, $50.00 Cash
10th Prize, $25.00 Cash
11th-50th Prizes, $10.00 Each
51st-150th Prizes, $5.00 Each

Anyone can start solving the fascinating Puzzle Pictures RIGHT NOW.

BOSTON AMERICAN
$4,000 Cash Picture Puzzle Contest
This Is Picture No. 74

WHAT PUBLIC MAN OR WOMAN Does This Picture Represent?
Write Name of Man or Woman on Form Below

My Name Is.....
Address.....
Town.....State.....

Hold all answers until you have the entire set. No answers will be considered if sent in before the publication of the last picture.

Sidelights on Sports

By A. R. G. MITCHELL

EDWARD HANLON, formerly manager of championship baseball clubs, is now a director of the Federal League. He is deeply interested in the welfare of the so-called "outlaw" organization in Baltimore, where it has planned to establish a club.

After retiring from the management of the Cincinnati club several years ago, Hanlon acquired control of the Baltimore club of the then Eastern League. Later he sold it to Jack Dunn, and it is believed that Connie Mack owns a good share of it. For a year or two Hanlon tried to forget baseball. He had become wealthy through successful real estate operations in Baltimore and his investments required much of his time. But he couldn't get baseball out of his head and after a time he tried to buy into a prominent American League club. He did, was disappointed, but Ban Johnson, president of the American League, turned Hanlon down, on the ground that he was a National League man at heart.

ORIGINALLY Hanlon was in with John M. Ward and made efforts to buy the Boston Nationals, which Ward finally secured. Later on the club, Hanlon moved and go through with his part of it. A man than a mint Ward says. He has says there is another side of the story, but has not yet told it.

At any rate Hanlon still wants to get into baseball again and it is said that opportunity came only to be fifty yourself with the Federal League he did so. However, it is believed that he has nothing to lose and everything to gain by tying up with the outlaws. He will be able to leave the Federals a big piece of valuable property in Baltimore for their new grounds. Pay prospects will give the players of the Baltimore Internationals a chance to [illegible]

"I AM sure that Hanlon will be a big asset to the Federal League," said Ban Johnson. "I think that Baltimore will be the best paying city in the new circuit, for the reason that the fans are ready to pay 50 and 75 cents each to see the big battle in Baltimore. I know Hanlon there."

Baltimore is a baseball town, and if the Federal League has a whole is wisely handled I am confident that our club will draw large crowds. There is plenty of room for a third major league and in time I see no reason why the Federal circuit should not be expanded. If we make no effort to break up the present combination [illegible] gained [illegible] Baltimore will remain [illegible] for some time. The Federal League [illegible] in other cities [illegible] money and [illegible] ing attached. We [illegible] to look players to break [illegible] minute [illegible] reserve clause [illegible] can join the [illegible] long as [illegible] restrained in the [illegible]

HANLON is [illegible] give valuable [illegible] with [illegible] to [illegible] legal [illegible] League promoters in [illegible] arrange-

SEVERAL of the present big league baseball stars have declared that they will never go to Baltimore. They say that, when their major league days are ended they will settle [illegible] the game [illegible] Johnson feels [illegible] Baltimore [illegible] Hanlon [illegible] Baltimore [illegible] Johnson feels it [illegible] ...

"It may be that I will [illegible] to pitch in the minors [illegible] If I have to, of course I will."

JUST how much [illegible] a ball player may show after a few years experience [illegible] stirred in the case of Bert Niehoff of the St. Louis Browns. Mr. Niehoff returned Monday from the training camp that has sent forth [illegible] three pennants. He was just as [illegible] very player. He was fattier out of [illegible] having been given a trial. [illegible] he did not come up to expectations. Then he was brought back [illegible] day. There are doubtless [illegible] valuable outfielders in other camps than he.

Niehoff not only hit [illegible] 300 mark, but he scored [illegible] runs than any other player, also getting himself an [illegible] batting and fast base runner. [illegible] to be fading a bit at the [illegible] days in his career, but [illegible] of energy [illegible] enthusiasm [illegible] and [illegible] If his ability [illegible] a wonder if he was in a winning [illegible]

FOR seventeen years [illegible] Wagner of the Pittsburg [illegible] figured [illegible] ... But [illegible] year was no [illegible] when [illegible] ... within [illegible] ... at average of [illegible] ... hitters were ever [illegible]

Tinker May Replace Wagner on Pirates

CHICAGO, Dec 4—Fred Clarke [illegible] of the Pittsburg Nationals [illegible] here Monday with Joe Tinker [illegible] deal whereby Tinker [illegible] to manage Pittsburg [illegible] Clarke has already arranged with the Cincinnati club for Tinker's release. It is still [illegible] Tinker [illegible] Wagner of shortstop in which case the latter [illegible] pitchers or transferred to [illegible] Tinker could not be secured.

Tinker said he had not discussed or contemplated joining a Federal League club.

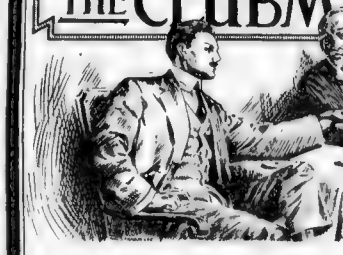
Player-Writers Must Discontinue Practice, Warns Ban

"Pop" Anson Falls a Victim of Footlights

NEW YORK, Dec [illegible] ... of baseball players and managers to articles written by other persons, according to President Johnson of the American [illegible] ... the famous baseball veteran has at last fallen a victim of the footlights. Beginning next Monday Anson will appear in [illegible]

EVERYBODY LIKES STERNE BROS.' Special $2 Offer
4 qts. Monogram Whiskey
1 qt. Red Label Port
2
STERNE BROS., 171 Summer St.

THE CLUBMAN SAYS:



"I am partial to a glass of beer any time of the day. It is a food, a tonic and an aid to pleasant companionship.

"I find that Pfaff's Beer is particularly agreeable because it contains only the purest ingredients.

"I prefer Pfaff's to any other beer I can get."

"Best Brewed Because Brewed Best"

Pfaff's Beer

SEND FOR PRIZE
Massachusetts Breweries Company
36-51 Mawley Street, Boston
Telephone Main 4660

ON DRAUGHT IN BOTTLES

INSIST THAT YOU GET Monticello IT'S ALL WHISKEY
Fine Blend Quality Goods
C. BERRY & CO.
14-15 Lovejoy St., Boston
Distillers

Feiton's Crystal Spring Old Rum
The Only Rum Bottled in Bond—Ask Your Dealer

7-294
10c CIGAR.
Thirty-nine years' continuous improved sales result in new shape. Factory, Manchester, N. H.

Krazy Kat

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service

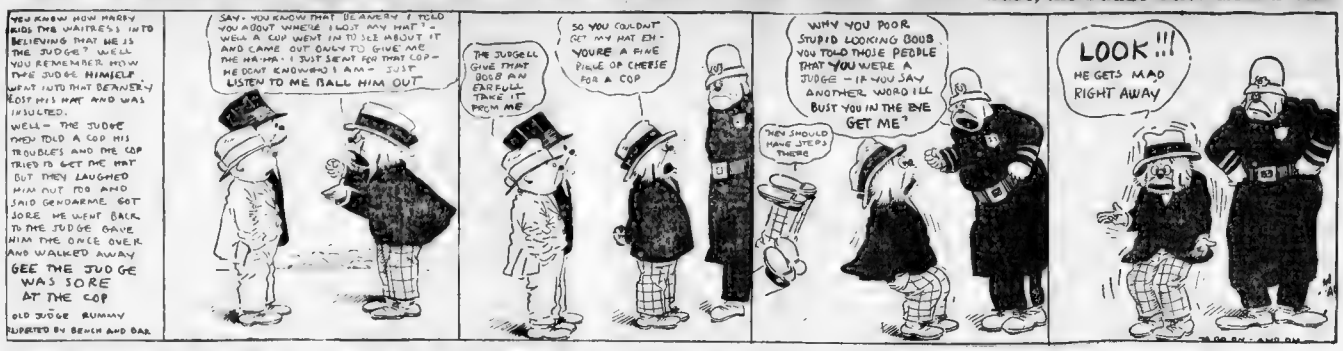
The Language of France

With Open Mind Tomorrow

SILK HAT HARRY'S DIVORCE SUIT

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service

Sure, the Judge Gave Him a Call

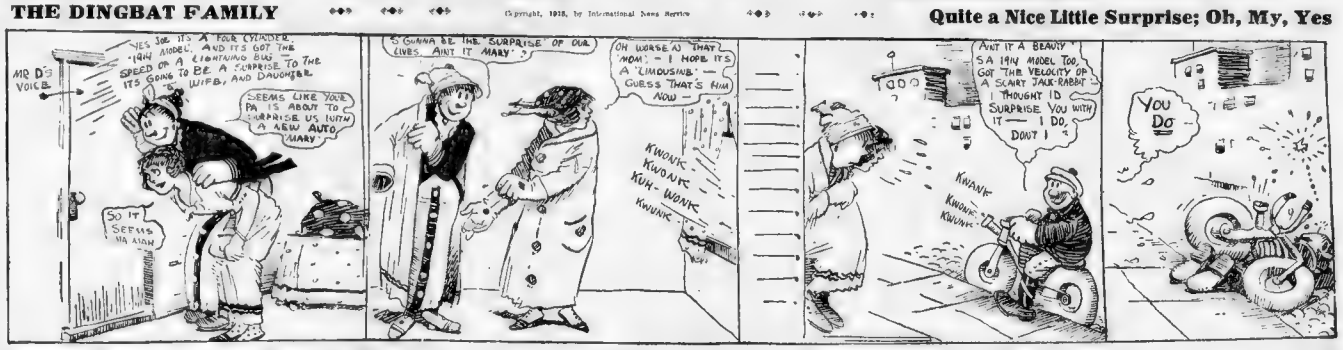


YOU KNOW HOW HARRY HIRED THE WAITRESS INTO BELIEVING THAT HE IS THE JUDGE? WELL YOU REMEMBER HOW THE JUDGE HIMSELF WENT INTO THAT BEANERY LOST HIS HAT AND WAS INSULTED.
WELL— THE JUDGE THEN TOLD A COP HIS TROUBLES AND THE COP TRIED TO GET THE HAT BUT THEY LAUGHED HIM OUT TOO AND SAID GENDARME, GOT SORE WENT BACK TO THE JUDGE GAVE HIM THE ONCE OVER AND WALKED AWAY
GEE THE JUDGE WAS SORE AT THE COP
OLD JUDGE RUMMY
REPORTED BY BENCH AND BAR
SAY- YOU KNOW THAT BEANERY I TOLD YOU ABOUT WHERE I WOT MY HAT? - WELL A CUP WENT IN TO SEE ABOUT IT AND CAME OUT ONLY TO GIVE ME THE HA-HA - I JUST SENT FOR THAT COP - HE DON'T KNOW NO I AM - JUST LISTEN TO ME BALL HIM OUT
THE JUDGE'LL GIVE THAT BOSS AN EARFULL TAKE IT FROM ME
SO YOU COULDN'T GET MY HAT EH - YOURE A FINE PIECE OF CHEESE FOR A COP
WHY YOU POOR STUPID LOOKING BOOB YOU TOLD THOSE PEOPLE THAT YOU WERE A JUDGE — IF YOU SAY ANOTHER WORD I'LL BUST YOU IN THE EYE GET ME?
THEN SHOULD HAVE STEPS THERE
LOOK!! HE GETS MAD RIGHT AWAY

THE DINGBAT FAMILY

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service

Quite a Nice Little Surprise; Oh, My, Yes

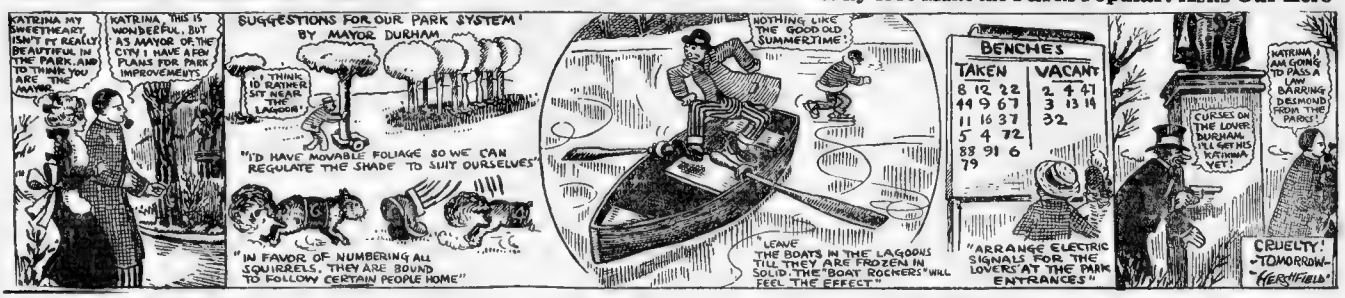


MR D'S VOICE
YES SIR IT'S A FOUR CYLINDER 1914 MODEL AND IT'S GOT THE LIGHTNING BUG SPEED OF A— IT'S GOING TO BE A SURPRISE TO THE WIFE AND DAUGHTER
SEEMS LIKE YOUR PA IS ABOUT TO SURPRISE US WITH A NEW AUTO MARY
SO IT SEEMS MA AIAH
I'M GONNA BE THE "SURPRISE" OF OUR LIVES. AIN'T IT MARY?
OH WORSE A) THAT'L MOM! - I HOPE IT'S A "LIMOUSINE." — GUESS THAT'S HIM NOW —
KWONK KWONK KUH-WONK KWUNK
AIN'T IT A BEAUTY SA 1914 MODEL TOO GOT THE VELOCITY OF A SCARY JACK-RABBIT I THOUGHT I'D SURPRISE YOU WITH IT— I DO, DON'T I?
KWANK KWONK KWUNK
YOU DO

DAUNTLESS DURHAM OF THE U. S. A.

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service

Why Not Make the Parks Popular? Asks Our Hero



KATRINA MY SWEETHEART, ISN'T IT REALLY BEAUTIFUL IN THE PARK AND TO THINK YOU ARE THE MAYOR
KATRINA, THIS IS WONDERFUL, BUT AS MAYOR OF THE CITY I HAVE A FEW PLANS FOR PARK IMPROVEMENTS
SUGGESTIONS FOR OUR PARK SYSTEM BY MAYOR DURHAM
I THINK I'D RATHER SIT NEAR THE LAGOON
"I'D HAVE MOVABLE FOLIAGE SO WE CAN REGULATE THE SHADE TO SUIT OURSELVES"
"IN FAVOR OF NUMBERING ALL SQUIRRELS, THEY ARE BOUND TO FOLLOW CERTAIN PEOPLE HOME"
NOTHING LIKE THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME!
"LEAVE THE BOATS IN THE LAGOONS TILL THEY ARE FROZEN IN SOLID. THE "BOAT ROCKERS" WILL FEEL THE EFFECT"
BENCHES
TAKEN: 8 12 22 / 14 9 67 / 11 16 37 / 5 4 72 / 88 91 6 / 79
VACANT: 2 4 47 / 3 13 14 / 32
"ARRANGE ELECTRIC SIGNALS FOR THE LOVERS AT THE PARK ENTRANCES"
KATRINA I AM GOING TO PASS A LAW BARRING DESMOND FROM THE PARKS!
CURSES ON THE LOVER DURHAM, I'LL GET HIS KATRINA YET!
CRUELTY! TOMORROW— HERTFIELD

POLLY AND HER PALS

Copyright, 1913, by International News Service

Pa's Advice Sounds Reasonable to Us

WHADDYE MEAN ITS AS SIMPLE AS ROLLING OFF A LOG? Y'POOR FISH!
MY DEAR UNK, YOU SHOULD NEVER ARGUE WITH A WOMAN. ALLUS AGREE WITH THE LADIES IS MY MOTTO
HOW ABOUT YOU, ASHUR?
LADIES, HOW KIN I EXPRESS MY GRATITUDE AT BEIN ALLOWED TO ENROLL IN THE CAUSE OF SUFFRAGE?
VOTES FOR WOMEN
Poo! Poo! Poo! Poo!
YOU'RE NEXT, ASHUR. WOTS YER SENTIMENTS!
THIS HERE IS INDEED A WELCOME OPPORTUNITY FOR TO ENROLL MY NAME AMONG THE "ANTI'S" THIS IS!
WOMENS ANTI SUFFRAGE LEAGUE
Poo! Poo! Poo! Poo!
I SUPPOSE YOU THINK YER A TURRIBLE SLICK ARTICLE DON'T YA?
MODESTY FORBIDS ME TO THROW NO BOUQUETS AT MESELF BUT AS YOU SO APTLY PUT IT'
IF YOU'LL TAKE THE ADVICE OF A OLE MAN YOU'LL BEAT IT FER THAT DEAR WISCONSIN, AFORE THEM WOMEN GIT TO COMPARING NOTES!

US BOYS

Registered United States Patent Office

Don't Care What You Say, Skinny's a Good Springboard

GOSH HANG IT, SHRIMP IS GETTIN TOO NICE AT ME I HAFTER GET HIM SORE SO'S ILL HAVE A EXCUSE TO ROAST THE TAR OUTER HIM IN MY CARTOON
OFF
GUESS ILL SING A SONG AT MYSELF AND LET HIM LISTEN AT IT
OFF
OH
HEL
BY GOLLY THIS SONG IS TOO LONG. THERE WON'T BE ENOUGH ROOM IF I STAND UP AND SING IT. GUESS ILL HAVE TO LAY DOWN LIKE THIS SO'S I CAN GET IT ALL IN!
SKINSHIEL CARTOON
TH-
OOB!
WHATCHA GIGGLIN' AT ANYHOW? - YOU THINK THAT'S FUNNY DONCHA? - BY GOLLY THAT HURTS!
JUST FOR THAT I WON'T SING GOO-BI!
SKINSHIEL CARTOON
SHANER'S GOOGLY DEP'T
WELL KNOWN SAYINGS ILLUSTRATED BY S.S.
GO TO THE STORE AND GET A RUMP STEAK!
Answer to yesterdays
WHAT CITY GIVES US THE MOST LIGHT? ELECTRICITY!
GOSH AIN'T THAT CLEVAH!
Here's one for to-day FROM K.O.K.A. — U. S. A
WHAT HAS NO MOUTH BUT TALKS LIKE GO? WON'T TELL YA BEFORE TO-MORROW!

You Have More to Give Thanks For Than You Deserve if You Do Not Give Others Cause to Be Thankful

THE AMERICAN'S MAGAZINE PAGE

THE FAMILY CUPBOARD

A Thrilling Story of High Society Life in New York, Adapted from Owen Davis's Dramatic Success

(Novelized by)

Owen Davis

(From Owen Davis' play now being presented in New York by William A. Brady.—Copyright, 1918, by International News Service.)

KITTY came flying in, with her own personal rainbows on her arm—in they went, higgledy-piggledy. Dick might be an "expert packer," but the time of Kenneth's return was imminent.

And while Dick pressed down the measure full and running over, Kitty flew back and forth across the hall—with armful after armful of her possessions—only to rest in the mass in Kenneth Nelson's "borrowed" trunk.

"Here! Careful!! Hurry up!!" were her somewhat confusing orders to Dick.

But he managed as best suited his ideas of arrangement and hurry.

"Here we are!" cried Dick, with an air of satisfaction as Kitty brought her last armful. She dropped the clothes and began dancing gaily around, smiling, "Meet Me in Spoontime, Dearie." Together they finished the song to their mutual satisfaction. Kitty knelt by his side to view his arrangements in "internal economy."

GOING TO BE FUN

"It's going to be fun, Dick. It's going to be fun!" she cried at last gayly.

Dick acquiesced heartily. "Sure it is. Don't leave nothin' valuable."

"Leave that to me," promised Kitty. She ran back to her room for something forgotten.

Dick calmly marched up to Ken's great chest of drawers and selected at random a few of Ken's shirts and collars and cravats. As he came back to the trunk with well filled arms, Kitty returned with an armful of things.

"We'll need 'em for the dressing room," she began explaining, and then stopped at the sight of Dick's plunder.

Dick was quite calm and collected.

"Me an' him's about the same size," he explained.

"He's got some nice shirt studs," said Kitty suspiciously—to Dick.

She ran to the bureau and began rummaging recklessly until she found them.

"Here, put 'em in your pocket! I guess I gotta right to something. You needn't be afraid."

"I should worry!"

"It's time to say a last farewell," said Kitty lightly.

Dick fell on his knees before the trunk—added his plunder to its nesting contents, locked and strapped it; rose to his feet, brushed off the knees of his trousers critically and exclaimed: "That was a fit job for that fool Potter."

"Come on!" cried Kitty, gayly. "All aboard."

"All right, heave to and lend a hand, mate." I'll shoulder my end, and you give us a lift with t'other end."

"You forgot the gayety!" said a new voice, with a feeble attempt at sarcasm. It was Jim who had stumbled down the corridor while the last merry duet was engaged in its engrossing occupation.

"Hello there!" cried Kitty, mechanically and overbashing no information or excuse. "Come on, Dick!"

"All ready!" said Dick, shouldering his end of the burden.

"Here! Here! What you goin' to do? What's goin' to become of the old man?" cried Jim in abject terror of the helpless days he felt were fast approaching "the old man."

LEFT ALONE

"Good-bye!" said Kitty, indifferently.

"You ain't goin' to leave me again Kitty! What can I do?"

"Inhibhibbit!" was Kitty's reply.

Bearing the trunk with its loot and booty between them, laughing gayly at the old man's discomfiture and at the sorry scheme they had left for Ken, Kitty and Dick pranced lightly and callously from the room. So Cain went out of the life of Kenneth Nelson; but the trail of the serpent is marked with slime—and Mary Ann Nelson's poison as well as slime in Kenneth Nelson's life and mind.

Poor old Jim! Gone were the days of "Kebs" and human sociability! Gone were the days of a tank full and a tank going instead of live hoofs beating! And his daughter, with a heart fit to measure like a little human taxi clock, had left him to his fate—left him with a laugh. Solitary, dejected, in deep distress, the old man sat in Kenneth Nelson's dismantled room through long weary moments. He had not initiative enough to go—and yet he knew what Ken thought of "James" and his alien presence so far from the servants' hall.

At last the door opened and the master of the sorry house came in. Ken looked about in wonderment.

"What's this?" he demanded.

"Gone! Run away with Dick Le Roy!" said Jim. He scarcely lifted his hopeless old head.

"With Dick Le Roy? Left me—for—Dick Le Roy?"

The boy's tone took an a curious numbness—almost a detachment from life and feeling—as if this final desertion on the part of her for whom he had borne the desertion of all his own people had happened to some one else than himself.

"Yes," said the old man, looking at him curiously. "He's been playing for it for weeks."

Kenneth sat down by the table—he sank deep into the old arm chair and began laughing bitterly—his eyes on the money he had secured—his bills in hand in his hands. Startled by the bitterness of that hollow laugh, Jim went to him.

"Kind of tough on you, but it was coming to you. I knew that all along. The name sticks—she don't know how."

JIM TELLS ALL

The old man's tone was curiously gentle—and patient, as if he felt that he was talking to a child who had been hurt—as if he were in the very antechamber of death.

Ken dropped the bills he had procured—too late. He sank forward powerlessly and hid his face in his hands. And deep from his heart there welled a cry:

"What have I done—what have I done with my life?"

"She's just the same with me—quits me cold, like this—then blmeby she'll come back and give me all she's got."

Kenneth looked up, his attention suddenly arrested, his mind focusing on "James."

"Why should she give you anything?"

"I'M HER FATHER," answered Jim very quietly and simply.

Kenneth looked at him for a moment in sheer horror. So, this maudlin old driver of cabs—this servant with his rapid old face was—Kitty's father! He laughed bitterly. He had sacrificed so much—for so little. He had judged his values with such youthful cocksureness. He had turned his back on the old life he knew—he had driven away at last even a fine old friend like Potter—and all for the faithless daughter of old Jim Garrity.

But Jim was inured to insult. He had no personal pride to take arms for offense or defense. He went on with a sort of mesh resignation that, if either of them had known it, was own human brother to Ken's attitude of hopeless hopelessness.

"Sure! I'm her father. She's ashamed to have the neighbors know it, she takes me as a servant when she's keepin' house with one of 'em."

"One of them? Good God! One of them! Has there been more than one?"

Ken sprang up—he stood facing the old cab driver.

"Began when she was about sixteen."

"Sixteen!" said Jim faintly.

"Workin' in a store on——"

"Tell!" exclaimed the tortured boy.

"He weren't a bad sort. He'd a married her, I think—only he died."

Kenneth had turned his back on the narrator of Kitty's story, and was gazing out of the window—on the scene there was sunshine and clean air a man might breathe without polluting and choking his lungs to the point of garnished suffocation.

Now he whirled about, and came quickly—almost menacingly toward Jim.

"NO! NO! HE DIDN'T DIE!" he cried with his bitter certainty.

"Sure he did! Su-ure!" said Jim patiently. "I was in his funeral. Fine big fellet—name of Jim Livingstone. Big Sam Livingstone'——

Crushed by one—with wave after wave of horror sweeping over him—with the cruel vision of his slow in defence of the girl—with the awful phantasmagoria of his whole present days and nights—for this—woman—with bitterness clanging like the sea-bell—there at the foundations of his mind. Ken sank—spent, weary, baffled and beaten into the chair where he could hope for now—the relaxation of his deep old chair!

THE TRUTH AT LAST! And truth was a two-edged sword to smite him!

"When I here was"—went on Jim, with the shameless relish of the scandalmonger who finds an audience to whom his tale of horror is new.

"Don't! Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha! Don't it's too funny! It's too funny! Ha, ha, ha! Don't tell me any more!"

There was no mirth in Ken's laughter. But to him it seemed that he was a raconteur—and with delight in the success of his story telling he went on. How could he tell a mind was breaking before him.

"She's drifted around, sort of, for the last few years. She's a bit older than she lets on, but she never says anything—she's smart, but she's always on the move. I think a lot of Kitty. But—she ain't—always very good to me!"

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

New Method of Reducing Fat

Good News From Paris.

A news item from Paris informs us that the American method of producing a slim, trim figure is meeting with considerable success. This system, which has made such a wonderful impression over there, must be the Marmola Prescription Tablet method of reducing fat. It is safe to say that we have nothing better for this purpose in this country. Anything that will reduce the excess flesh a pound a day without injury to the stomach, the danger of wrinkles, the loss of nourishing or distasteful appetite, or interference with one's meals is a mighty important and useful addition to the dietitian's accessities. Just such a catalogue of good results, however, follow the use of these pleasant, harmless and economical little fat reducers. We say economical because Marmola Prescription Tablets (made in accordance with the famous prescription) can be obtained of any druggist or the makers, the Marmola Co., Parmar Bldg., Detroit, Mich., for something under the large can, which is a decidedly economical price considering the number of tablets such case contains.

WHOOPING COUGH
SPASMODIC CROUP ASTHMA COUGHS
BRONCHITIS CATARRH COLDS

Vapo-Cresolene

ESTABLISHED 1879

A simple, safe and effective treatment for Spasmodic Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Coughs. Vapo-Cresolene stops the paroxysms of Whooping Cough and relieves Spasmodic Croup at once. It is a boon to sufferers from Asthma. The air carrying the antiseptic vapor, inspired with every breath, makes breathing easy, relieves the sore throat and stops the cough, assuring restful nights. It is invaluable to mothers with young children.

Send at once for descriptive booklet.

ALL DRUGGISTS.

Try Cresolene Antiseptic Throat Tablets for the irritated throat. They are simple, effective antiseptic cough. Of your druggist or from us, 10c in stamps.

VAPO CRESOLENE CO.
62 Cortlandt St., N. Y.

Youth and Age

Copyright, 1918, by International News Service

BY NELL BRINKLEY

YOUTH is thankful that it has YOUTH; thankful for the fawny things that go with it; for the dreams that are; for the things that are to be; for the daring that swells its heart and takes Old Time by the beard; for the stir and the strife of life; for red blood and love; for the colors and flowers and gems that go with this decorating-time of life; for the mighty joy of TODAY and most of all for the high delicate hopes of what IS TO COME! Age is thankful that its feet and body are warm—that a soft chair closes it round; thankful for the things that it has known; for the dreams that came true and that it can forget those that never did; thankful for the wisdom that keeps its heart from hurting and loving too deeply; for the peace that it has found; for the youth that sometimes surrounds it; for a fine old book and the crackling hearth—and, most of all, for the end of strife—for the warm, even heat that finds pleasure in meditation and feels no more the tormenting, bitter-sweet flame that distracts the heart of youth. Youth and old age; wild birds and dozing puesies—each thankful for so widely different things!

How to Propose

MISS LAUFERTY'S VERSION

By LILIAN LAUFERTY

THE gentle art of proposing matrimony may be considered from two angles—His and Hers. Man and woman look at a proposal from vastly different viewpoints. He wants the girl and has to say so or give very positive signs to that effect in order to obtain his wish and wife. The girl wants the proposal. She may intend to refuse the proposer, even at the risk of throwing away her only chance and remaining a spinster. But if she ever marries, she wants to be sure it is from choice, not from necessity, that she is rescuing an unpicked peach on the parental stem.

Proposals may also be looked at from the angles of vision of Before and After marriage.

Until the proposal is an accepted fact (and the lover accepted or rejected) it is understood that the man must make it. After he is married, man always seems to understand—or to want you to understand—that it was his wife who did the proposing.

DULY GRATEFUL

But since the percentage of marriages does not seem to increase greatly in Leap Year, we may safely suppose that however much assistance woman gives man in getting to the point, when he does arrive she sits back and prepares to be duly grateful for what she is about to receive.

A proposal is enshrined in woman's memory forever. If it comes from the wrong man, it gives her an opportunity to boast of her chances. If it comes from the right man it sets the seal of an engagement on what she has been fearing might turn out to be only a flirtation or a friendship after all. Not all the froth of aimless living, not all the ends of the wasteful can ever dampen the lustre of that grand moment.

A proposal is any or all of those things. A formal offer of marriage, a moonlight sonata, a drifting from paths of friendship to meadows of love, a lightning flash of knowledge, a joke to stimulate a dull conversation, a magnificent confloneration of the Kind to the Ibergar Maid, an offer of a business partnership, or—

And the "or's" have it. "Or"—a proposal may be a combination of confidence, sincerity, generosity and tenderness—an offer that breathes of understanding love, of a happy partnership in the business of life "till death do us part."

A proposal is composed of a man and a woman, an environment, a feeling and an expression of that feeling.

First we choose a combination of right man for right woman. We choose two people who have been and always will be friends. When the first romantic rapture fades, as romantic raptures have a way of doing—since they are colors lost to sight—we want a fine, big, sane background of interests and tastes in common. We choose two healthy young people who are comrades, who can be partners, who enjoy the delight of investigating as well as of understanding one another, and who feel the call of the heart for one another.

For environment, the woods when Spring is budding gently to life, the majesty of the Summer sea, the glory of Autumn's blaze, the stinging sleet of a February day—the burning mystery of a grate fire. The ideal environment always has in it some of vastness of Nature who is calling.

A teeming city street has in it an element of bigness. But unforgivable is the man who degrades his love by dragging it into a restless cabaret environment—or expresses it over a glass of beer.

THE RIGHT MOMENT

But neither environment nor expression count if the feeling is fine and big. Confidence, sincerity, generosity, tenderness—these are the underlying, the unchangeable roots of love's joy. The proposal that is based upon them must fit the ideal and satisfy the heart.

Confidence of the man that he will love the woman forever; that he is fit to protect and cherish her! Confidence of the woman that she understands the sacred meaning of the word wife! With this confidence, be sure that you will know how to propose if you have also sincerity to carry out all that love asks, generosity to give to one another and to life and a great loving tenderness. Tenderness will make life's joys greater together and life's burdens lighter for the sharing.

How to propose? Take the right man, the right time, the right set of eyes and a feeling that is made of confidence, sincerity, generosity and tenderness. A proposal is bound to result. Perhaps eyes will speak to eye, and spirit will leap out to spirit. But in the end when lips say the sacred words, "I love you, dear. Shall we found a new home together?" they will say "Yes."

Friendship will grow to love. A divine inspiration will make the day sacred. And for that happy woman "How to propose" will forever after be just the way He did it!

Tabloid Fables

WHAT, mother dear, is an old maid?
Is she an accident or a design?

That, child, is a question to which there is no answer, but it is better to claim to her face that she is a design.

What, mother mine, is this resignation the preachers talk so much about?

It is the discovery, little one, that the rock against which a man is beating his head is harder than his head. When he learns this he quits beating his head, and then his friends say he has become resigned.

Is anyone, mother, ever really resigned?

Everyone who stays married, my child.

What, mother, is a family reunion?

It is one of those occasions, little one, when a wife drags her husband off to dinner with her folks, and he is mad because he has to go.

Don't they ever go to his folks for a family reunion?

When a man is married, child, he has no folks but hers. You have much to learn, little one, that is not written in the books.

Why, mother mine, was the turkey chosen as the national bird for Thanksgiving?

Because, my child, when Thanksgiving was established large families were the rule and a big bird was needed for the huge family groups that gathered on that day. If there were any practical application of the question of economics, so cleverly talked of these days, the national Thanksgiving bird would now be a wren.

Why, mother, has the chrysanthemum been adopted as the football game flower?

Here you never noticed, little one, the similarity between its hair and that of the football player? The more both look the sort of hairpins, the more women adore them.

Is a woman ever sorry she married, dear mother. She is always glad, my child, when she thinks of the children.

Is a man ever sorry, mother?

He is always sorry, little one when he thinks of himself.

And how often is that, mother?
Ah, child, you are full too many questions.

FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

A DARK STORY

"Is your story sufficiently dramatic?" asked the manager. "Does it contain crimes, poisonings—is it dark enough?"

"Dark?" reiterated the author in surprise. "Why, the man at the garage can read it you'll think you're on a train and have gone right into the tunnel!"

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

FOR MOTHER TO DECIDE

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am eighteen and made the acquaintance of a young man two years my senior only a short time ago. I love him, and he shows that he cares for me. My mother is averse to this match for two reasons. One is that there is another young man who cares for me a great deal and my mother prefers him, and secondly, this first young man disappointed me on two very important appointments, and this of course made it all the worse, but I still love him.

HEARTBROKEN.

IT is hard to advise you, my poor little girl, for the reason that you don't tell WHY your mother prefers the other man. If her dislike of the man you love is based on his misconduct, then you must abide by your mother's decision and give him up.

You are young. It need not be the other man, or any man for a time. Give yourself a little longer girlhood, and if this man is the right one, time will prove it.

YOUR HEART MUST DECIDE

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am in love with two young men. One of them earns twelve to fourteen dollars a week and the other is his own boss in which he can earn from twenty-five to thirty dollars a week. I think more of the young man that makes less money, but my parents think that I should go with the young man that makes more and is his own boss, but they both claim they love me, though in time I may learn to love the young man that my parents like.

E. C.

My dear child, no girl can be in love with two young men at once. If you were in love with a young man you would not have a doubt. The salary has nothing to do with it—your heart must decide.

MISTAKEN

An American, motoring through a small Scotch town, was pulled up for excessive speed.

"Didn't you see that notice, 'Dead slow?'" inquired the policeman.

"Course I did," returned the Yankee, "but I thought it referred to the darned little town."

The Manicure Lady

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

"I JUST finished a new novel which ain't been out long," said the Manicure Lady. "There ain't nothing to it except that it is kind of new in spots, like most of the new stuff that I have read lately. Outside of the new spots, there ain't nothing to it, and I would just as soon read the rear book of the department of agriculture. The more I see of books like that the more I like to read them old masters, like Charles Thackery and Sir Walter Dickens and Marie Corelli. There was the days when good novels was wrote."

"It's been a long time since I have read a novel," said the Head Barber. "I don't see what makes you read them."

"I read them because I am all the time hoping to find a good one," explained the Manicure Lady. "If a girl didn't read nothing to improve her mind, George, all she would know inside of a year would be slang and the latest vaudeville jokes. I seen some of them jokes in the Sunday paper under the headline 'What Happens in Laughing About,' and after I had read them I was telling mother that what Laughing About should head 'What is Broadway Laughing About?' Just a lot of mush, like the novels I was telling about."

"My wife showed me a story about Japan in one of the magazines last month," said the Head Barber. "I don't see how the author got by without a fall sentence. And then they say the world is getting better."

"I got a notion to write a novel myself," said the Manicure Lady. "I got a plan in my head, too, and the heroine of my novel would be a girl in this manicure game. I wouldn't write no novel unless I knew all about what I was writing, and if there is any couple to this one that I haven't saw, the scene must be laid in some foreign country."

"You couldn't write no novel," declared the Head Barber.

"Maybe to your limited judgment I couldn't write nothing," snapped the Manicure Lady, "but I have just took the notion into my head that I could write one, and I am going to try."

"This is the plot: A manicure lady like me, only far more beautiful and just as innocent, has took a position in a barber shop, and a young gent that owns a big garage in the country comes in to have his nails did and falls in love with her. He treats her just like a princess, and asks her to marry him, and she marries him and they go to live on his estate. The ladies that go in the social circle is all more higher educated than this uncle, and they give her the freeze at first, but she soon learns them. The girl stands by her uncle, and then she can't stand it no more, and she runs away and by herself. The young gent sells his estate and installs all the money trying to find her, and last he sees her in a flat house, that he says, 'Never mind, dearest, my money is gone, but my heart is still as kind and true as it ever was.' Then she gets another job as a manicure girl and she supports him and her both."

"That made it kind of soft for him," said the Head Barber.

"That's the only part of the novel that I can't get to suit me," said the Manicure Lady. "I suppose I ought to make him fall back to a fortune, because a good sitting around Saturday afternoon waiting for his wife to come home with fifteen bucks she's made you could call a hero."

"But you ain't got her tangled up in no love affair," said the Head Barber.

"No, George," declared the Manicure Lady, "and she ain't going to, but if I write the novel——

"I don't see how you expect it to sell," asked the Head Barber.

"I thought it might sell better than them that I have wrote so far," said the Manicure Lady, "on account of it being so different."

STONE BLIND

Proudly he walked up to his betrothed, and drew from his pocket a small morocco case. Opening it, he took out a ring—a single diamond—and placed it on her tapering finger.

She looked at it.

"It is very small!" she said, and paused. Then: "And not very brilliant, either!"

Poor fellow! His smile vanished; but, quickly recovering himself, he laughed, and said:

"Ah, sweetheart, but love is blind!"

Raising her limpid eyes to his, she said:

"Yes, dear, but not stone blind!"

Pulling Against Handicaps

The average man has about all he can do to get ahead without bucking the setbacks to mind and body from

Coffee Drinking

Coffee isn't a food. Anything not a food which is taken into the system makes the eliminative processes work overtime to throw it off. Often the unprofitable thing, when taken regularly, accumulates faster than it can be eliminated, and becomes a destroyer.

Besides, coffee contains caffeine, a subtle, poisonous drug—about 2½ grains to the cup. It is well known that caffeine frequently causes heart trouble, nervousness, sleeplessness and biliousness—serious handicaps to progress and comfort.

If something is hindering your efforts, try the simple test of leaving off coffee ten days and using Postum.

If after a few days you begin to feel better—sleep well, nerves steady up and brain gets clear, you will know how to avoid that kind of trouble.

Postum, made only of prime wheat and a small percent. of New Orleans molasses, is a pure food-drink—wholesome, nourishing and delicious. It is absolutely free from caffeine or any other drug.

Postum now comes in two forms.

Regular Postum—must be well boiled to bring out its delightful flavour and food value.

Instant Postum—(the new form) is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful stirred in a cup of hot water makes a delicious beverage instantly. Add sugar and cream to taste.

"There's a Reason" for
POSTUM

Sold by grocers everywhere.

BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL NEWS

EDITED BY EXPERTS

Latest in Today's Stock Markets

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor.

Stocks were stronger by afternoon and in more demand than has been the rule of late. While buyers did not manifest at the opening the tendency to rally which marked them at the close yesterday gains were well retained on the whole. Morning recessions were small and the tone became firmer later in the day.

In Boston in the afternoon New Haven was up ⅝, but Boston & Maine was off 2 at 45. It had sold on Tuesday at 44 previously. Gains included Boston Elevated 1, United Fruit ½, Stone Michigan common 3, Calumet & Arizona 2, Butte & Superior ½ and Granby 1. Among the recessions were North Butte ¼, Edison 4 and Tamarack ½.

In New York, gains included Southern Pacific ⅝, Union Pacific ⅝, Reading ⅝, Lehigh Valley ⅝ and Steel ⅜. Among recessions were Canadian Pacific ⅝, American Can ⅝, Amalgamated ¼ and American Smelting ⅛. Tire and Northern Pacific were unchanged.

Early Trading Trend Uncertain.

Prices were irregular when the New York market opened, with most speculative leaders quoted a little lower. This was what had been expected, after the upturn and brisk business of the last hour on Wednesday. There was also a touch movement in American stocks abroad and while early in the day they were above parity they ruled below it at the close of the British market. The rally in New York yesterday did not have much influence abroad. There was a disposition there to sell upon any advance. Some buying on this side on Berlin account was reported.

While prices averaged lower in New York during the first hour the tone was not weak. Sentiment was good and there was nervousness in bear circles. Recent events have been contrary to the prognostications upon which the short interest was so heavily built. Morning business lacked interesting features. Erie continued to be in demand and was closely watched because of the character of the buying. Cline was strong among coppers because of the fig present things. The metal situation is about the same. It was rumored in London that the American Smelting agency had sold electrolyte on the Continent at the equivalent of 14.00 cents a pound.

Presidential Message Much Discussed

President Wilson's message continued to be much discussed in financial circles and there was a disposition to regard it as having strengthened confidence in the theory that the bottom had been reached in the stock market. As it was more conservative than expected prices took an upward turn upon professional initiative, which was construed as indicating that no more was required to give them that trend.

First hour transactions totalled more than 100,000 shares and although unusual, trading slackened in the last half of the morning though there were bursts of activity in the second hour and the market was quite active at midday. The tone continued to improve.

By afternoon most of the leaders had made gains, although coppers failed to show strength to any extent. The price range continued narrow, however.

Union Pacific Melon Talk Revived.

There was a revival of the rumor that there would be a melon distributed by Union Pacific, but according to the story put in circulation this morning the action will not be out until next year. What this talk was based upon was not discernible. Interborough-Metropolitan was strong because there was an idea that those in directorates there, which will be soon, they will consider the question of dividend resumption. Louisville & Nashville continued to advance on the strength of its October earnings. It being one of the few railroads in the country to make a favorable report for that month.

Profits being made in the tobacco business, as shown by the increased dividends of former subsidiary companies, sustained demand for American Tobacco and it rose more than three points to 240. Disposition in Congress in connection with the relations of the New Haven management with the Department of Justice in regard to the dissolution of the New England transportation monopoly provided support for the stock of that road. It is believed that it will escape long and serious litigation, and this partly offset the influence of adverse legislation.

The call money rate in New York was around 3½ per cent. during the morning, but time funds were slightly easier. Five per cent. was the trading rate for sixty and ninety-day funds. This was unchanged over the bid figure. Four months money was quiet at 4¾ to 5 per cent. against 5 per cent bid yesterday.

There was no change in regard to five and six months' rate.

Local Market Was Broader.

While not particularly active during the morning there was more breadth to the Boston market and orders covered the list to a greater degree than has been observed of late. There was some profit taking to check any marked advance in prices, amalgamated being an issue to reflect this. Among issues to develop foreseen strength were Fitchburg preferred, Boston Elevated and United Fruit. Among coppers Granby made a good gain. They were also stronger in a group than the same class was in New York. New Haven recovered from early recession and advanced. The Boston & Maine weakened further, going to the new low record price of 44. Edison sold off 5 points in the first hour touching 242.

Financial News in Brief.

The London copper warrants market was firm at the opening, spot advancing £s. and futures £s. 6d. They had not changed further at the close. Sales were 500 tons of spot and 1,500 of futures.

The Bank of England's minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 5 per cent., and the proportion of reserve to liabilities is 55.16 per cent. against 54.40 last week and compares with a decline from 58⅞ to 50⅝ per cent. in the corresponding week last year.

The American Express Company's quarterly dividend rate has been cut from 3 to 2 per cent. This is further evidence of how government competition through the parcels post has cut into express business receipts.

B. F. Goodrich Company directors declared the usual quarterly dividend on preferred stock on October 22 at Akron, O., but some stockholders knew nothing about the proceedings. It is stated, until they read a recent newspaper advertisement. Between the dividend declaration date and Saturday last shares of the company declined 16 points because of fear that the dividend already declared would be passed. It would appear that "insiders" had a chance to reap a stock market advantage.

The Tennessee Copper Company, whose November production of 1,885,000 pounds was the largest in its history, has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share.

One hundred and thirty suits have been filed against the American Sugar Refining Company, many of which will be dismissed, but about $100,000,000 damages, under the Sherman law.

Bradstreet returns from eighty-six railroads show that during October net operating revenue increased $7,004,748. The decrease for the first four months of the present fiscal year was $10,245,-

Gold to the amount of $200,000 will be shipped from New York to Hayti.

Compared with October, the production of wood marks about farmers' markets 7,700 cars of a day. The Bank of France reports that gold on hand decreased 4,720,000 francs during the week.

BOSTON STOCKS.

Following is the range of prices to 1:30 for leading Boston stocks:

RAILROADS

	High.	Low.	1:30.
Boston Elevated	87¼	86	87¼
Boston & Maine	44¾	44	45
Boston & Maine pf.	63	63	63
Fitchburg pf.	79	78	79
N. Y., N. H. & H.	44¾	44	45⅛

MINING STOCKS.

Abanac	31	31	31
Arizona Comct	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Calumet & Arizona	61¾	61	62
Calumet & Hecla	407	400	407
Copper Range	53	52¾	53
Daly-West	2¼	2¼	2¼
Granby	2¾	2¾	2¾
Granby Consolidated	29¾	29	29¾
Greene-Cananea	29¾	29	29¾
Nevada Con.	15¾	15¾	15¾
North Butte	24¾	23½	24¾
Osceola	70	70	70
Quincy	53½	53	53½
Shannon	6¼	6	6¼
Superior	23	23	23
Superior & Boston	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Trinity	3¾	3¾	3¾
Utah Copper	49	49	49
Utah Con.	14¾	14¼	14¾
Wolverine	47¾	44	47¾

LAND COMPANIES.

East Boston	10⅝	10⅛	10⅝

TELEPHONES

American	121	120½	120⅝
New England	133	133	133

ELECTRIC COMPANIES.

Edison Electric	245	245	245
Edison Elec. ills.	3¾	3½	3¾
Mass. Elec.	11	11	11
Mass. Elec. pf.	67	66½	67

MISCELLANEOUS

Mass. Gas	91⅝	91⅜	91⅝
Mass. Gas pf.	92¾	92	92¾
United Fruit	158¾	157¾	158¾
United Shoe Mach.	51¾	48	50

UNLISTED SECURITIES.

Amalgamated	72	71	71¾
Am. Agri. Chem.	44	44	44
Alaska Gold	21¾	20¾	20¾
Am. Woolen pf.	77	76¾	76¾
Am. Zinc	17	16½	17
Braden	4¾	4¾	4¾
Butte & Superior	29⅜	29½	29⅜
Chino	38¾	38⅜	38⅝
East Butte	9⅞	9⅞	9⅞
Indiana	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Island Creek pf.	81½	81¼	81¼
Kerr Lake	4½	4½	4½
Lake Copper	5½	5½	5½
Nevada Con.	15-32	1⅜	1⅜
Pond Creek	18	17⅜	18
Shattuck-Ariz.	28	27¾	28
Swift & Co.	105½	105¼	105¾
U. S. Smelting	37¼	37	37¼
U. S. Smelt. pf.	47¾	47	47

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Following is the range of prices to 1:30 for leading New York stocks:

RAILROADS.

	High.	Low.	1:30.
Atch., T. & S. F.	103¾	103¼	103¼
Brooklyn Rap. Tr.	88⅝	88	88⅛
Canadian Pac.	225¼	223½	225¼
Chic. & Alton	24¾	24¼	24¾
Chic., M. & St. P.	99⅝	99½	99⅝
Chi. & N. W.	125⅞	125½	125⅞
Erie	28⅝	28⅜	28⅝
Erie 1st pf.	44	43⅝	43⅝
Gt. Northern pf.	124⅝	124½	124½
Illinois Central	108	107¾	108
Int. Metropol.	14⅜	14¼	14⅜
Int. Metropol. pf.	60⅜	58⅝	60
Kansas City Sou.	33¾	33⅛	33½
Lehigh Valley	149	148⅝	149⅝
Mo. K. & T.	26¾	26⅜	26¾
Missouri Pac.	26¾	26¼	26¾
N. Y. C. & Hud.	96⅝	96⅛	96⅛
N. Y. N. H. & H.	89⅝	89	89
Northern Pac.	107⅝	107¼	107⅝
Pennsylvania	106¾	106	106
Reading	169⅛	168½	169⅛
Rock Island pf.	23¾	23⅝	23⅝
Southern Pac.	97⅝	97⅜	97⅝
Southern Ry.	22¾	22⅜	22⅝
Third Avenue	40⅝	40½	40⅝
Union Pacific	153	151¾	152⅝

INDUSTRIALS AND MISCELLANEOUS

Amal. Copper	71⅝	70⅜	71¼
Am. Car & Fdy.	44	43⅜	44
Am. Tel. & Tel.	129⅜	129½	129⅝
Alaska Gold	21¼	20⅝	21
Am. Locomo.	30⅝	30⅜	30⅜
Am. Sm. & R.	63¼	62¾	62¾
Am. Can	27⅜	27⅜	27⅜
Am. Can pf.	88⅜	88⅛	88⅛
Central Leather	25	24¾	24¾
Amerindia Cop.	24⅝	24⅜	24⅜
Cal. Fuel & Iron	28¾	28½	28¾
Con. Gas (N. Y.)	127	127	127
Cal. Petroleum	17	17	17
Chino	38⅝	38⅜	38⅜
General Electric	139	139	139
Mex. Petroleum	48⅜	47⅞	47⅞
Northern Ore	32¾	32⅜	32⅜
Pacific Mail	24¾	24¼	24¼
Pressed Steel Car	25⅝	25⅜	25⅜
Ramely pf.	36	36	36
U. S. Rubber	54⅞	54½	54½
U. S. Steel	57⅝	56⅞	57⅛
U. S. Steel pf.	105¾	105¼	105¼
Utah Copper	49¾	48⅝	49¼

BOSTON CURB.

Following is the range of prices to 11:15 for leading Curb securities:

QUALIFIED LIST.

	High.	Low.	11:15
Boston Ely	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝
Butte & London	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
Calaveras	15-16	15-16	15-16
Chief Con.	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Davis-Daly	11-16	11-16	11-16
Davis Daly	1 15-16	1⅞	1⅞
McKinley	1¼	1¼	1¼

UNQUALIFIED LIST.

Nev. Douglas	17-16	17-16	17-16
Old Dom. pets.	7	6¾	7

W. L. Bear Co., Stock Brokers, Suspend

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—William L. Bear & Co., members of the Philadelphia Stock Exchange, temporarily suspended today. The suspension followed the filing of a voluntary bankruptcy petition to have William L. Bear, individually and trading as the firm, adjudged a bankrupt. Bear is a member of the Chicago Board of Trade and other exchanges.

PORT OF BOSTON

ARRIVED WEDNESDAY.

Hesperian, from Glasgow via Moville and Halifax.

Soln, from Bremen.

Prinsfield, from Amsterdam and Colombo.

Kansas, from Copenhagen.

Nanna, from Baltimore, Norfolk and Newport News.

Carib, from Jacksonville.

H. M. Whitney, from New York.

SAILED WEDNESDAY.

Lapitello, for New York, to load for the Far East.

Nantucket, for Baltimore and Newport News.

DUE THURSDAY.

Arkansas, from Copenhagen and Christiania.

Saturnus, from Genoa via Japan and China.

Anglian, from London.

Sagamore, from Liverpool.

Hordaer, from Hamburg.

DUE FRIDAY.

Birma, from Bremen.

DUE SATURDAY.

Alauria, from Liverpool and Queenstown.

DUE SUNDAY.

Devonian, from Liverpool.

Kenturkian, from Porto Mexico.

DUE MONDAY.

Cretic, from Genoa, Naples and the Azores, Mediterranean, from Antwerp.

SAILING TODAY.

The Sagamore, from Liverpool was reported 200 miles east of Boston Light at 9 a. m., Wednesday.

The Cunarder Alaunia, enroute from Liverpool to Boston on her maiden trip, was 370 miles south of Cape Race at 9 p. m. Tuesday. She will dock early Saturday.

The Allan liner London was 140 miles east of Boston Light at 9 p. m., Tuesday.

FACT AND COMMENT IN FINANCE AND BUSINESS

By B. C. FORBES, Business Editor.

The United States used to save from $500,000,000 to $750,000,000 a year.

* * *

The United States now spends for automobiles and automobiling at least $750,000,000 a year.

* * *

Does this throw any light on the unprecedented lack of demand for investments and the consequent grave shrinkage in the market value of securities?

* * *

Money, you know, must be saved before it can be invested. The individual who spends all he earns cannot buy one share of stock or even a $100 bond.

* * *

How many persons, how many families do you know or how often who used to live economically and bank a nice little sum each year who now report a considerable that cost anywhere from $600 to $6,000 and which averages $2,500 a year and invest in local mortgage, deposit it in a bank or trust company, or invest it bond or in stocks now own an automobile. Most of what used to be invested has gone into automobiling during the last year or two. This change in our local life set me thinking.

* * *

And I venture to say that his thinking and his deductions will interest you.

"The world has been prosperous," he said, "beyond ordinary. Business everywhere has been good. Yet securities have been steadily declining. French government bonds yesterday fell to the lowest price ever recorded. Puzzled security holders have thought of the Balkan wars, the political change, the tariff, the war cloud in Mexico and the governmental attitude toward large corporations. But have any of these factors named seemed sufficient to explain why last year's great crops faded from sight without giving a few days' prosperous to the investment market. That such an addition of wealth disappeared and left no trace of itself behind is a new experience in the financial world. Evidently there is and a leak of no mean proportions is also arising in our commercial system. Can we trace it?"

Of expenditure and the absence of buyers of bonds, stocks and mortgages. If we have an entirely new expense account of $750,000,000 annually is it not reasonable to infer that this must cut into the sum available for investment or for putting in the savings bank?

* * *

Remember, also, that similar conditions prevail all over the world. I have seen automobiles, years ago in the remotest corners of the globe where the home-staying Bostonian would picture nothing but desolation.

* * *

My mind was drawn to this whole subject yesterday by an up-state farmer" to use his phrase:

"He who live in villages and know everybody and their antecedents," he said sagely, "get closer to one another than you city people. We know about how much each family is worth, how much it earns, how much it spends and how much it saves. Now, I find that most of our people who used to save from $500 to $2,500 a year are living up to local mortgage, deposit it in a bank or trust company, or invest it bond or in stocks now own an automobile. Most of what used to be invested has gone into automobiling during the last year or two. This change in our local life set me thinking."

* * *

And I venture to say that his thinking and his deductions will interest you.

"The world has been prosperous," he said, "beyond ordinary. Business everywhere has been good. Yet securities have been steadily declining. French government bonds yesterday fell to the lowest price ever recorded. Puzzled security holders have thought of the Balkan wars, the political change, the tariff, the war cloud in Mexico and the governmental attitude toward large corporations. But have any of these factors named seemed sufficient to explain why last year's great crops faded from sight without giving a few days' prosperous to the investment market. That such an addition of wealth disappeared and left no trace of itself behind is a new experience in the financial world. Evidently there is and a leak of no mean proportions is also arising in our commercial system. Can we trace it?"

AN IDEAL GIFT AT LESS THAN HALF PRICE IS A COLLECTION OF

The Boston American's

College Pennants

BOSTON AMERICAN

PENNANTS

SPECIAL HOLIDAY OFFER

THIS ONE COUPON

WHEN PRESENTED AT

American Promotion Dept., 5 Winthrop Sq.

OR AT YOUR LOCAL NEWSDEALER'S

With 10c for One Pennant (Add 3c if Desired by Mail)

With 25c for Three Pennants (Add 6c if Desired by Mail)

With 95c for Twelve Pennants (Add 10c Extra if Desired by Mail)

Will Entitle Bearer to Take Advantage of This Special Offer

THE BOSTON AMERICAN

Published Daily and Sunday at 80 and 82 Sumner Street, Boston.

BRANCH OFFICES: NEW YORK OFFICES, DISPLAY AND CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING, 1789 BROADWAY, CORNER OF 58TH ST. CHICAGO OFFICE, 1270 BROADWAY BUILDING, 1 MADISON AVE. PHILADELPHIA OFFICE, 1 S. BROAD ST.

W. ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUB. CO., LIMITED

Entered as second class matter, June 4, 1907, at the postoffice of Boston, Mass. Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice Department, Canada.

Terms of Subscription: One Cent Sunday. Five Cents. Postage included for the United States and Canada, Cuba and Mexico.

Daily and Sunday one year	$5.00
Daily one year	3.00
Sunday one year	2.00
Daily one month	.25
Sunday one month	.15
One year	$2.50
Six months	1.25
Three months	.65
One month	.25

For foreign subscriptions add postage at rate of 1 cent per copy daily and 2 cents per copy Sunday.

Steamships.

CHRISTMAS SAILING

MAIDEN TRIP

New Cunarder

ALAUNIA

From BOSTON

December 11th

9 A. M.

Calling at Portland Same Day

CARRIES ONLY

ONE CLASS CABIN

II.

AND THIRD CLASS

CABIN (II.) RATES FROM

$53.75

SPLENDID ACCOMMODATIONS AT LOW RATES

DRAFTS

ON GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND

126 State St. Tel. F. H. 4000

BAY STATE LINE

via RAIL AND BOAT

NEW YORK $2.40

Outside 2-Berth Staterooms $1.00

Fine Steamships

GEORGE W. WESSELS

Daily including Sunday—Improved Service—Best Accommodations.

Ticket Office, 214 Washington St., Boston.

TO New York $2.50

Via Rail and Boat. Daily and Sunday.

THE ONLY INDEPENDENT LINE OPERATING BETWEEN NEW ENGLAND AND NEW YORK

COLONIAL LINE 226 Washington St. Phone Main 3780

LINEN DEALERS SAY SEASON IS PROSPEROUS

Wholesale linen dealers report a tremendous increase in business done for the last three months, which in some instances amounts to a forty per cent. gain over the volume of trade recorded during the corresponding months of last year.

"Spot" Christmas buying is said to be responsible for a portion of this heavy gain by the wholesale linen dealers, brisk demand for articles of utility in that character appealing strongly to those who include in their list of Christmas presents only useful gifts.

A still more important factor in making for this wave of prosperity in the linen trade is the disappearance of the tariff terror, so called, which had previously impelled some of the small retail houses to withhold their orders for fear that the new tariff would break the market.

Their store shelves almost depleted by reason of this lack of confidence in the future of the nation, which resulted in their non-purchasing campaign, these retail merchants found themselves forced either to lay in a good stock of goods to meet the demands of their customers or go out of business.

"Our business jumped forty per cent. higher in October than the figures for that period two months ago," asserted A. J. Pierce, wholesale linen dealer at No. 105 Essex street in an interview with the AMERICAN today. "And we had a twenty per cent. higher volume of trade in November this year than for that month one year ago.

"Taking the year as a whole, and making full allowance for the fact that during the first six months our trade fell off heavily because of the tariff scare, I find that our business has increased a little more than twenty per cent. as compared with last year.

"Spot" Christmas buying helped in this respect, but by far the greatest factor has been the straightening out of the tariff tangle. The retail merchant found himself in a position where he had to buy or shut up shop. And when he commenced to buy, he was compelled to buy heavily. His stock had become so depleted during the long period of his non-purchasing tariff terror that he simply had to stock up.

Real Estate—Miscellaneous.

BUNGALOW, $550, $50 Cash

BALANCE $10 monthly; why pay rent? here's your chance to own your little home; attractive, new and modern; 4 rooms and bath; lot 40x100; price, $550; only 5 of this number left; some if desired among the prizes; also two bungalows in course of construction which can be altered to suit your ideas. Write for appointment. D 130, Boston American.

Land on Blue Hill Avenue

OPPOSITE FRANKLIN FIELD, 20 choice lots, about 10 minutes' walk, to select from; only real estate; rare opportunity. Address JOHN FOTTLER, 12 Tremont st., Room 1, Boston. Hours, 8 to 12 Sunday.

FOXBORO BARGAIN

ON ELECTRIC CAR LINE, 3 acre poultry farm, 15 fruit trees, 8 room house, town water, fine view; $1,500; easy terms. F. H. MARONEY, 15 State st., Boston.

CHAPIN'S Give and Receive Globe Trading Stamps. Washington St., Boston.

TO CARPENTERS, PAINTERS AND BRICKLAYERS—Lot 20x100, on Bennett Hill road, Winchester, with frame house adjoining; no framing; the framing is all done; 6 rooms, bath, hot water, double floors, open fireplace, large window; three out-buildings, one with chimney and three stalls; fine location for shop; good repair, select neighborhood, shade trees, vegetable garden; price, $2,500. Apply to owner, H. C. BELL, 1,850, CHAPIN FARM AGENCY, 430 Old South Building, Boston.

2 SMALL farms, near 2 wooden mills, in Northborough; improvement your result; 10-room house, 1 acre of land, $700; 6-room house, ¼ acre, price $1,000; HALE & PRATT, 6 Beacon st., Boston.

5-family house, WALTER WELSH, 148 Putnam st., East Boston.

15,850 SQ. FT. of ay estate, with 90-ft. frontage on road, for $300; will take $50 cash and the rest paid for; more land if desired at same figures; 5 miles from Boston. Apply to F. A. DAVIS, 53 Tremont st.

SOUTH BRAINTREE—Lot 120x225, 27,000 sq. ft.; price $80, $20 takes it; near cars, Sachem st.; 6 miles city hall; etc.; no mortgage; bank; bully good trade. C. W. DOE, Boston American.

TREES taken down and trimmed; no men will be employed; no trouble to you. Address CARLO A. PISKI, CONCORD, MASS. Telephone 35 Concord.

$1,200 CASH—3-flat brick client, 8-story, 3-family; rents $2,580; price $25,000; 1 mile C. C. GANNON, 230 Shawmut av.

TWO SALE—2 new 2-family houses, just finished; 5 rooms, tiled bath, hot water, hardwood floors; $5,000 each; 1 mile Dudley station. HUNTINGTON & HALL, 24 Tremont st., Boston.

$150 BUYS 2-family house, 12 rooms, 2 baths, fireplace; price $2,750. T. A. Boston American.

Real Estate—Arlington.

WILL SELL or exchange 1 4-fam. house, 1 2-fam. house and 1 single; all improvements; electric lights, etc.; will sell on easy terms as I must raise money on account of business. M. E. FINN, 27 Washington st., Boston.

Real Estate—Brighton.

BRAND new 2-family house, 7 rooms, sightly elevation; one suite rented $28, which will be; 4th room finished other suite to suit buyer; will sell for $5,500; ought to sell for $6,500; about $1,000 cash required; owner is not in the city; call 29, 30 Nonantum rd.; tel. Brighton 1910-R, near Oak Sq. cars from subway.

Real Estate—Brookline.

Brookline Sacrifice.

WILL SELL immediate 10-room colonial house on corner location at a price far below real value and assessment; outlook cannot be spoiled; modern conveniences; in the most select condition; part cash. HAROLD G. KING, 260 Devonshire st., Boston.

Real Estate—Cambridge.

HOUSES FOR SALE—2-family, new, 5 and 6 rooms all improvements; $5,000; annual rental $600; terms. W. BINNY, 79 Orchard st., Cambridge. Tel. Camb. 2058-W.

Real Estate—Dorchester.

$500 DOWN

Will buy the balance easy, and the price $2,600 for this 6-room house; all modern conveniences; hardwood floors; sunny location of Dorchester; a good condition as it is; new inside; owner will paint and paper to suit purchaser; only $5,000; this will surprise you; look at it today. H. E. FROST, 603 Dudley st., opp. Mattapan st. cars; tel. Res. 641-M.

THREE-FAMILY, Boston, house, all modern improvements; rents $2,580 for entire year; price $25,000; 1 mile Pearl st.; tel. Main 4175.

THREE-FAMILY, Dorch., house, all modern conveniences, rear steam; rent elevator; rents $1,825 per year; price $17,500. B 248, Boston American.

Real Estate—Malden.

NEW 2-family house in Malden for trade; would consider free and clear farm, or land; value $10,000. Tremont st., Rm. 37.

Apartments—Dorchester.

COZY, furnished 5-rm. housekeeping, 2 rooms, $10 to $16 per month; also 4 rooms, unfurnished, with bath, hardwood floors; $22 to $28; good location; near electric cars; 3 families. 14 Everett av., Uphams Corner; tel. Dorchester 1040-M.

TO LET—High-class suites of 5 and 6 rooms, steam heat, in most desirable Dorchester district; Washington Park rents reasonable. THE ROCKWOOD CO., 1 Beacon st., Room 1, VIAL & ADAMS, Inc.

APARTMENTS of 5-6-7 rooms, on 1st floor, permanent, better service, with or without steam heat; $30 to $45 per month. Apply to janitor, 32 Bowdoin st., Dorch. Main 1025.

DORCHESTER—Elegant 1st floor apartment, 6 rooms, bath, sewer, set tubs, gas, $33 month. Inquire 1 Bowdoin st., Dorchester.

DORCHESTER—15 Richland pl., off Ashmont st., 5 rooms, bath, furnace, set tubs, steam, $20; key on premises. Tel. OWNER, Dor. 3304-J.

COMPLY TO LET—Upper tenement, 5 and 6 rooms apartments, steam heat, bathroom hot water; $27 and $30. Apply 2713 Dorchester av.

546 PARK ST., Dorchester—Suites 5, 6 rooms, steam heat and hot water; $30 to $35. Apply on floor, or 18 Tremont st., room 712.

HOUSEKEEPER—Wanted, middle aged woman, to care for 2 children, 3 and 6 years, and do light housework; $4 per week. Call 1244 Washington st.

LAUNDRY WORK—Wanted, by experienced girl, 2 days a week. Address E. ROBINSON, 24 Hubbard av., North Cambridge.

LAUNDRESS—Good laundress wants work to do home; has best of references; $2 per day; wash and cashier, 79 Greenwich pk., city.

NURSE—Wanted, by mother, position as nurse or housekeeper; would take care of baby; best of references. Address 1 Bowdoin st., Boston American.

SERVANT—Wanted, by one person, at once, a good cook; no washing; $5 per week. Call 1223 Columbia av., Roxbury Crossing.

Apartments—Mattapan.

NEW, five rooms, bath, all trees, good location, convenient to Cabot car; near Mattapan sq.; $21; rent from May 1. 1913-M.

Apartments—Medford

TO RENT—In new 2-family corner house, rear cars, stores, etc.; 6-10 adjoining room suite, hot water heat, tiled bath, set tubs, gas, etc. Main st., Medford. Get off car at Harvard st.

Apartments—Readville.

READVILLE—Mechanic, $15; 5 rooms, bath, set tubs, gas, electric lights, furnace, 6 R. HUBBARD, 604 Bomb bldg., Boston.

Apartments—Roxbury.

KEENE'S WONDERFUL LISTS.

BUILDING, 3 tenements, 6-6-6; rents $40. 4 and 5-room suites, modern, $12 to $15. 6-room suites, modern, $16 to $18. 7-room suites, modern, $20 to $25. 8 and 9-room suites, all modern, $25 to $35. 10-room suites, all modern, $30 to $40. Every vacancy in Roxbury and Dorchester is listed at KEENE'S. Keene's system is unique, best system ever. for Dor. RENDERSON BROS., Owners, 2072 Amer. No. Cambridge.

Real Estate—Roslindale.

ONLY $300 CASH

BUYS this all modern bungalow; hardwood floors, papered throughout, open fireplace, furnace, all modern conveniences; large lot; convenient to electric cars; price $3,200 for quick sale. CHURCHILL BROS., 1 Beacon st., Charles River car to Hebert st.; tel. Bellevue 85.

Real Estate—Roxbury.

WHO WANTS IT?

ABOUT 9,000 sq. ft. of land on Brook st., Ward 17, 74 ft. frontage, 3-room house in good condition; will sell cheap; easy terms; worth $4,500; come make offer; good building lot along with house; must sell at once. Apply to owner, AGT. GEO. W. COREGIN, owner, 7 Florence st., Roxbury, near Charles River car.

BRICK, Sage, 4 and 5 rooms and bath each, facing an island park, 5 minutes from Dudley terminal; rent $42, price $4,600; easy terms. J. D. BRUCE, 222 Dudley st.

Real Estate—Somerville.

FLAT ST., 6 sale st. lot, 9-room house; rent $18, price $1,800. HIGGINS, 37 Central sq.

Real Estate—Watertown.

TO BE or not to be the owner of your own home; if you are paying rent you to be the former. I have a 2-family house of 5 and 6 rooms; hard and soft water in every room; will sell it with sacrifice for a few thousand dollars; terms to suit purchaser. Apply to owner, 1 American.

A GOOD investment worth a point? I have to offer a 2-family house, 5 and 7 rooms respectively, all modern conveniences; will rent at home building, and rooms for a few months; price $5,000; terms to suit. Apply for particulars, Box X 119, Boston American.

Real Estate—West Somerville.

NEW 2-family house, bungalow style, every improvement, steam heat, attractive walks, sun parlor, etc.; price $6,500; terms to suit. A. E. MUNGER, 1152 Broadway, Tenis Sq., West Somerville. tel. 1152-M.

Farms For Sale.

LELAND FARM AGENCY'S CIRCULAR free. Room 402, 31 Milk st.

Real Estate Wanted.

OWNERS ONLY.

PLEASE send particulars of your South End, Roxbury or Dorchester property for sale; we have a number of good clients waiting; must be a very small amount down. BLACKMAR & STORRS, 8 Bosworth st., Roxbury. Telephone Roxbury 3220-W.

WANTED IN CALIFORNIA

Improved real estate; state situated in Southern California. Address, full particulars, P. O. Box 3140, Boston, Mass.

Real Estate—Investments.

BIG PROFITS

Are Being Made on the

ISLE OF PINES

Raising pineapples, grapefruit and other semi-tropical products. Have you been investigating this wonderful island and what it offers? Send for free booklet and thousand dollar proposition. Isle of Pines Co-operative Fruit Co., 18 Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

Real Estate Auctions

HUCTIONEER.

ALL KINDS of real estate sold at auction anywhere in New England or New York. CHARLES H. SAWYER, 50 Congress st., Room 310, Boston. Tel. Main 4163-W.

Real Estate Exchange.

WILL exchange free and clear land in Wakefield for automobile. Address Brookline or Boston. Apply D 186, Boston American.

Real Estate Mortgages.

POSITIVELY NO COMMISSION CHARGED.

HEIRS CAN BORROW

ON SELL their individual estates, interests, incomes or future inheritances; lowest rates; private offices; confidential. MASSACHUSETTS LOAN CORPORATION, 27 State st., rm. 66; expert stock and bond brokers consulted.

MONEY to loan on 1st and 2d mortgages. Apply 15-17, Boston American.

Apartments—Back Bay.

KITCHENETTE APARTMENTS

FROM 1 to 8 rooms, with private bath, steam heat, janitor service and all modern improvements, furnished complete or unfurnished. Apply at 12 Westland av., Back Bay, suite 6.

45 WORTHINGTON, cor. Huntington, Symphony, 4 rooms, bath, steam, hot water, janitor service; rent reasonable.

Apartments—Cambridge.

CAMBRIDGE

BEAUTIFUL TOP SUITE, 6 r., in 3-apt. sky light, steam range, h. w. heat; nearest able rent to desirable people. Tel. Camb. 4266-W.

CAMBRIDGE—Desirable 6 room flat, modern, steam heat, elevator, gas and elec. light, hot water, janitor service; rent $45. THE PRESCOTT, 881 Mass. av., near Central sq. Subway entrance. See janitor or T. F. BURKE, 18 School st., Boston.

Apartments—Charlestown.

CHARLESTOWN.

TO LET—4 rooms, gas, clean brick bldg., lower part Charlestown; rent $2.75 week. Apply 56 Russell st.

Apartments—Chelsea.

WANTED—A handy man to do inside painting, papering, etc., in spare time. I will furnish stock, will pay treatment of 2 rooms in Chelsea free for services; Jew or Gentile, also 3-room suites to let, $8 and $9 month. H. VAN DAM, 4 State st., Boston.

Apartments—Everett.

AGENTS—Do not accept any offer until you have our price; we have some exceptional values in Everett; SPECIALLY ATTRACTIVE; 6 rooms, all improvements. GEO. A. BROWN, Tremont building, Boston.

Apartments—Medford.

MEDFORD BARGAIN.

TWO-FAMILY HOUSE, 4 and 5 rooms; separate entrances; beach floors, gas combination ranges, set tubs, hot water heat, set mantels and electric gas; $300 down and $45 a month; W. H. MOONEY, 1 Beacon st., Room 1, VIAL & ADAMS, Inc.

MEDFORD, 140 High st.; 2 acres of land, large trees, old house, 18 rooms and 2 bathrooms, 3 fireplaces, hot water heat; 2 families, 2 cows; are large and for sale on easy terms or to rent for the season; price reasonable; income from rent, for Dec. RENDERSON BROS., Owners, 2072 Amer. No. Cambridge.

Real Estate—Roxbury.

WHO WANTS IT?

ABOUT 9,000 sq. ft. of land on Brook st., Ward 17, 74 ft. frontage, 3-room house in good condition; will sell cheap; easy terms; worth $4,500; come make offer; good building lot along with house; must sell at once. Apply to owner, AGT. GEO. W. COREGIN, owner, 7 Florence st., Roxbury, near Charles River car.

BRICK, Sage, 4 and 5 rooms and bath each, facing an island park, 5 minutes from Dudley terminal; rent $42, price $4,600; easy terms. J. D. BRUCE, 222 Dudley st.

Real Estate—Somerville.

FLAT ST., 6 sale st. lot, 9-room house; rent $18, price $1,800. HIGGINS, 37 Central sq.

Real Estate—Watertown.

TO BE or not to be the owner of your own home; if you are paying rent you to be the former. I have a 2-family house of 5 and 6

Male Situations Wanted.

SALESMAN.

STUDENT (24) experienced in men's and boys' clothing, furnishings, jewelry, etc., wants work as extra salesman during the holidays; references. S. E. SMITH, 131 West Newton st.

BLACKSMITH HELPER—Experienced in tonging, and jobbing; steady work; good wages. C. REID, 22 Worthington st., Roxbury.

CARPENTER—Wants work; any kind; long experience, discount mechanic, low wages; reliable American. Address R. Jones, 6 Bromfield st.

CLERK—A young man wants position as clerk in store. H. 24, Boston American.

DAY WORK—A good workingman wants work by day or week; can run factory, stable or any general work; good reference. Address 696 Shawmut av., city.

GENERAL WORK—Young colored man desires work of any kind; good worker, steady and drink. WILFRED GORDAN, 61 Dundee st.

MOTION PICTURE OPERATOR—Desires position; experienced, reliable, good references. K. 9, Boston American.

PAINTER—Young man, painter by trade, handy with tools; steady employment wanted, any kind of work; write, or call after 5 p. m. 6 VALOIS, 37 Avon st.

PRESSMAN—Married man wants position in all around man on clothing or ladies' presses; 10 years' experience; good steady worker; good city references; will take small salary at first. Address 2240 St. Hubert st., Room 2, H. BEAUSOLEIL, 2240 St. Hubert st., Montreal, P. Q., Canada.

SMART YOUNG MAN with several hundred dollars wishes to become shareholder in and assist in business with reliable concern only. N 10, Boston American.

STENOGRAPHER—Advanced man wants situation; 3 yrs. Boston experience. H 26, Boston American.

YOUNG MAN—Now employed, desires to better himself as regards salary and future; has had business and no objection to traveling; also expert bookkeeper; can furnish best of references for interview. B 250, Boston American.

Furnished Rooms to Let.

MEN! ATTENTION!

57 WEST NEWTON ST.—"The Gerald," just opened, newly furnished bachelor rooms, steam heat; every known convenience and comforts pertaining to modern living; hot and cold water in every room; hardwood floors, handsome rugs, brass beds, woven springs, mattresses; $4 to $8 per week; 57 West Newton st.; electric cars direct to door; telephone in every room; call; be convinced.

VISITORS TO BOSTON

TAKE rooms at Hotel Waterston, one min. from State House, corner of Hancock st. and Bulfinch pl., in heart of city; steam heat, $2 to $6; $12, single rooms, 75c; double rooms, $1 and $1.50; for two persons.

BACK BAY—THE LAFAYETTE, NICELY furnished rooms, steam heated, clean bed, hot water, all modern improvements; $4 up; transients solicited; 1 Dartmouth st., Mass. av.

DON'T walk your feet off looking for rooms for we can place you in the best rooms in the South End; call and see us; it costs you nothing; CO-OPERATIVE ROOM REGISTRY, 409 Columbus av.

SIX MINUTES FROM PARK ST., FINE ROOMS; all modern conveniences; 2 Bonad st., CAMBRIDGE; Y. M. C. A., 820 Mass. av.

FURNISHED rooms, $1.25, $1.50 and $1 weekly; hot water, telephone. Apply 306 Shawmut st.

SUITES completely furnished; best continuous hot water; $20-$35. 36 Hanson st., off Dartmouth, bet. Boylston and Newbury sts.

APPLETON ST., 85—Square and side rooms, convenient; reasonable prices; walking distance to cars.

APPLETON ST., 92—Warm side room, with hot and cold water, $1.50; also steam-heated rooms, $2; for one or two.

APPLETON ST., 95—Room to let; traveling people accommodated. Tel. Tremont 3188-M.

BACK BAY—Strathmore, 1030 Boylston st., elegantly furnished large rooms and side room; baths adjoining; steam heat; electricity; convenient to cars; reasonable. Tel. 4058-W Back Bay.

BACK BAY—221 West Newton st.—Two large elegantly furnished square rooms; continuous hot water; all conveniences.

BACK BAY—579 Mass. av.; comfortable, sunny square side rooms, running water; steam heat; telephone; gentlemen preferred.

BACK BAY—76 St. James av.; newly furnished rooms; well heated; continuous hot water. Back Bay 1078-2.

BACK BAY—19 Follen st., suite 1; nicely furnished, front parlor, front bedroom; rooms 2722-W.

BACK BAY—45 St. Botolph st.; large, newly fire, front rm.; clean, sunny, attractive, bath same floor; suitable for two. Tel. B. B. 6360.

BACK BAY—424 Parker st., overlooking park, opposite Art Museum, handsomely furnished rooms, electric lights; conveniences.

BACK BAY—23 Hemenway st.; furnished 2 rooms and kitchen, bath, gas, sink, tubs.

BEACON HILL—Suites and single rooms, one with piano, suitable for 3; gas, shower baths, every room comfort; housekeeping rooms; dishes, linen; $1.50-$5; tourists accommodated. Hos. 31-36W.

BEACON HILL—29½ Pinckney st.; corner room, fitted light housekeeping; also single room, closet; single corner room.

BEACON HILL—36 Temple st., suite 7; large sunny, well furnished front square room, steam heat.

BEACON HILL—48 Myrtle st.; well-furnished, heated square rooms for light housekeeping; also for two people.

BEACON HILL—South Russell st., 33—Spacious housekeeping room; also side room; bathroom floor.

BERKELEY ST., 62—Front room for light housekeeping; also side room; bath adjoining; hot water.

BERWICK PK., 10—Nicely furnished 2-room suites; shower baths, etc.; tel.; conveniences; other desirable rooms.

BROOKLINE—146 Heyward st.; sunny square room on basement floor; also front and alcove room, steam heat; to respectable people only.

CAMBRIDGE—34 Wendell st.; rooms for students or business men; quiet and sunny; near Harvard sq.

CAMBRIDGE—624 Putnam av.; off Magazine st.; furnished single or double rooms; use of bathroom floor.

CAMBRIDGE—11 Trowbridge st.; four rooms, bathroom floor, heated, piano, 5m minutes Park st. to Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE—63 Dana st.; furnished or unfurnished rooms; one bath room floor; sunny; telephone 3068-M.

CAMBRIDGE—167 Columbia st., near Broadway; newly furnished sunny heated rooms, excellent location.

CAMBRIDGE—42 Chauncy st.; newly furnished rooms for gentlemen; use electric car line; references.

CLARENDON—1006 Mass. av.; new elegant warm sunny furn. room, $2 to $4 per week.

CHARLES ST., 9—Sunny front room, for light housekeeping; also single room; $2 up; gas plates, water, laundry; tenth floor.

CHARLES ST., 37—Two large sunny square rooms, well furnished and heated; single or connecting.

CITY POINT—317 East Broadway; furnished rooms for light housekeeping.

CLAREMONT PK., 1—Newly furnished, heated housekeeping suite, $16-$18; also single rooms. Tel. Tremont 3316-W.

CLARENDON ST., 62—Nicely furnished rooms, heated and cold water; hot, convenience.

COLUMBIA RD.—Sunny rooms, with use of steam-heated parlors, etc. location, near cheese factory; private or housekeeping; reasonable. Tel. Dorchester 1078-M.

COLUMBUS AV.—Sunny parlor with dressing room; bath adjoining; steam heat; conveniences; tel.

COLUMBUS AV., 325—Housekeeping suites, $4.50; also square rooms, $2.50; con. hot water, steam heat.

COLUMBUS AV., 499—Room on street floor for business lady; breakfast; telephone; conveniences.

COLUMBUS AV., 600—Nicely furnished front parlor, well heated, running water, 6d; also room $1.50.

COLUMBUS AV., 602—Unfurnished; newly furnished, sunny rooms; $2.50; continuous hot water; telephone.

COLUMBUS AV., 615—Nice alcove room to let, steam heat, hot water.

COLUMBUS AV., 627—Suite and square rooms, hot and cold water in each; steam heat; gas; electric lights; bath; telephone; reasonable.

COMMONWEALTH AV., 1—Elegantly furnished, sunny front room, suitable for two; steam heat; tel.

COMMONWEALTH AV., 1—Sunny front room, steam heat; parlor, connecting bedroom; suitable for two gentlemen; tel.

COMMONWEALTH AV., 82—Sunny suite with private bath; steam heat; telephone; tel. Back Bay 2092-M

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON AMERICAN BOSTON DECEMBER 4, 1913

What a Central Bank Under Federal Control Would Do

Senator Owen and Representative Glass are entitled to the greatest credit for their currency measure, which is now sure to pass Congress. But why do they not profit by the testimony of experts, the wisdom of ages, the experience of all other great nations?

Why do they not make ONE central reserve bank, absolutely under government control, with as many branches as may be needed? One great reservoir is better than ten little ones, separated and unconnected. Public opinion forbids a central bank dominated by a few all-powerful bankers and promoters.

But a central bank controlled by the government is a different matter. It would be in Washington, where the United States Treasury now is. It would have branches in New York, San Francisco, New Orleans, where there are already sub-treasuries; also in Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City and Atlanta.

Mr. Jacob H. Schiff has said that the Glass-Owen measure as it now stands is adapted from Senator Aldrich's. The latter perished in Congress because of the deep and well-founded public distrust of the private interests behind Senator Aldrich.

Now that the bankers at last concede the principle of government control, why not have the principle correctly applied? Mr. Vanderlip and Mr. Hepburn, as well as Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Forgan, of Chicago, have all pointed out that one central bank, with branches wherever there is commercial need for them, would be simpler, less cumbersome, more certain in operation and far more efficient. And Mr. Vanderlip has clearly outlined a workable plan more radical than the Owen-Glass act.

There would then be no need to give the Federal Reserve Board authority to direct one section of the country to loan money to another, because with one central bank the central authority would control all the deposits and all the loans. The central authority would be vested in the Federal Reserve Board at Washington. This board would make loans to those sections of the country where most needed. The public funds in the United States Treasury would flow naturally to that section of the country which needed them most. Borrowing of reserve deposits on "stock exchange collateral" would be expressly forbidden as it is in the Owen-Glass bill.

With twelve "Reserve associations" scattered throughout the country, each holding its own reserve, there will be competition between the twelve sections of the country, each to strengthen its own reserve in any time of financial stress.

With one central bank, the Federal Board at Washington would shift funds quietly, swiftly, efficiently, without ostentation. No panics would be created. For money panics are caused not by real scarcity of money, but by the hoarding of money by bank depositors who are frightened.

The present banking and currency system has endured for fifty years. It has only two great defects.

The first is, that the currency cannot be expanded or contracted to meet the needs of business and harvests. The second is, that a large part of the legal reserve of deposits the 7,500 national banks are required by law to keep on hand in gold and greenbacks tends to concentrate in a few banks in New York and Chicago.

At least $250,000,000 of this reserve is at all times loaned on the Stock Exchange in New York and in the grain pit in Chicago. This stimulates speculative and gambling operations instead of aiding commerce and agriculture as the bank deposits of the people should.

With one central bank under Federal control at Washington, with all our gold in one great reservoir of credit, the United States within a very few years would be the commanding financial nation in the whole world. The business we now send to London, Paris or Berlin would come to the United States. With a balance of trade in our favor every year, as it always is, with good crops, and with gold coming in we should draw the wealth of the world and we would be invincible at every point.

An Inadequate Idea of an Adequate Navy

In a statement prepared for and published in the AMERICAN last September, Secretary Daniels said:

"The navy ought to be the strong right arm of the Republic, and IT OUGHT TO BE STRONG ENOUGH TO DO THE WORK FOR WHICH THE RIGHT ARM IS INTENDED. This preparedness can only be had by rounding out and completing the navy."

The AMERICAN at that time applauded the Secretary's declaration for "AN ADEQUATE NAVY," and expressed, very naturally, a desire to see his conception of adequateness expressed in ships and guns.

At the moment Mr. Daniels declined to be more specific, saying that he was in consultation with the Admiral of the Navy and the General Board.

All have now spoken. The Admiral and the General Board declare specifically that before 1920 the fleet should consist of forty-eight battleships, and that the building program should begin this year with four dreadnoughts, sixteen destroyers, eight submarines and the necessary minor craft.

The Secretary of the Navy cuts the Admiral's estimate in two, and then cuts it more. He recommends two dreadnoughts, eight destroyers and three submarines.

By his recommendations the Secretary of the Navy saves himself from the stigma of being a "one battleship man," but falls short of being a champion of an adequate navy for the United States today.

On the question of what constitutes an adequate navy the people will accept the judgment of Admiral Dewey and the General Board, rather than that of the Secretary, who is perhaps a little new to the work.

Secretary Daniels says he "has given less thought to the guns than to the men behind the guns." The phrase is a good one, but, like most high-sounding phrases, will not stand analysis. There is nothing more pitiful in war than the spectacle of good men, sturdy, brave, well trained, but unprovided with proper arms, in the face of the enemy. The nation has no moral right to prepare men for its defence and fail to equip them adequately.

On the occasion of unveiling the Maine Monument in New York city, William Randolph Hearst said:

> "It is our duty as citizens to see that such sacrifices shall not be needless and fruitless. It is our duty as citizens to supply sufficient ships and guns, in order that these heroes may have the means and munitions for our defence, and in order that their devotion may not be either unappreciated or unavailing."

The "man behind the gun" implies a gun worthy of the man.

The Mayor Is Right in Raising the Wages of City Employes

In some unfriendly quarters they are criticizing Mayor Fitzgerald for raising the salaries of the employes of the city.

The Mayor replies that he only regrets that the financial condition of the city will not permit him to make a larger advance than he has already granted.

The Mayor is entirely right on this question. The people should be the model employer. They should never reduce wages except under real necessity. But wages are not measured in dollars and cents. ACTUAL wages vary with the amount which a dollar will buy, and a dollar will buy VERY MUCH LESS TODAY than it bought when the WAGES of those whose salaries have been increased by the Mayor were ORIGINALLY FIXED. The actual wages of the employes of the City of Boston, on account of the increase in the cost of living, have decreased within the last few years, and the city should not permit its employes to suffer A REDUCTION IN WAGES, if it can possibly be prevented.

It would be good business policy to make the city employes the best paid men in their line of work, and then insist that they be the most efficient.

If the Mayor were released from the petty details of his office and were given freedom to attend to the big things which affect the city's prosperity, the municipal income could be easily increased beyond its present expenditures, including the increase of salaries.

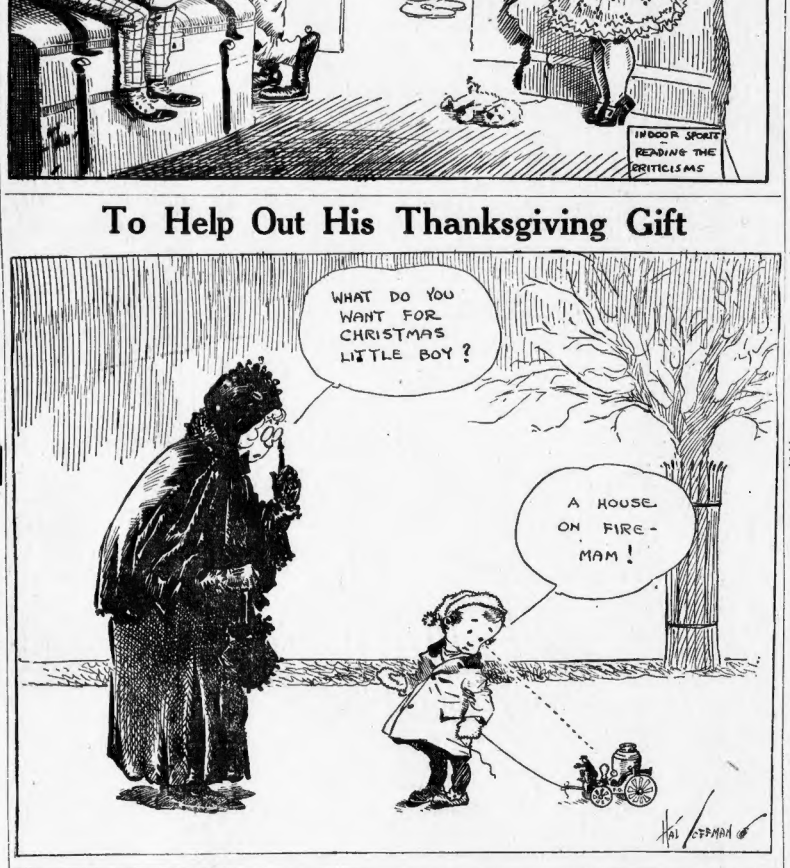
If the Mayor is re-elected for another term, the AMERICAN hopes that some arrangement can be made by which the petty exactions of his office may be delegated to a vice-Mayor and that Mr. Fitzgerald's energy may be devoted to the essential problems touching Boston's welfare.

This work can be greatly facilitated by a satisfactory band of well-paid municipal employes who are giving a dollar's worth of work for a dollar in wages.

Indoor Sports

LISTEN TO THIS ABOUT ME - HE SAYS CASEY AND THE MULE WERE FAIR - THE MULE WAS GOOD BUT HE HAD POOR SUPPORT.
HUH HE SAYS I'M A JOKE BUT I'M BOOKED SOLID NEXT WEEK JUST THE SAME - I PLAY 3 DAYS AT FRAMINGHAM AND THE OTHER THREE AT BRIDGEPORT
OH I GUESS IF I SLIPPED HIM $50 A WEEK FOR AN AD I'D BE A STAR
I'M GONNA SLAM THAT GUY IN THE EYE WHEN I SEE HIM
THAT CRITIC DON'T GET MY ACT AT ALL - GEE I'M A HEADLINER BUT I PLAY NUMBER ONE HERE AS A FAVOR
HE'S A CHEAP GRAFTER
THAT'S THE SAME CRITICS WHAT BOOSTIN AGNES SCHMALZ AN' EVERYONE KNOWS SHE SIMPLY STOLE MY ACT - THEM CRITICS MAKE ME SICK - THEY AIN'T A ONE OF THEM THAT'S GOT A EDDIECATION
INDOOR SPORTS READING THE CRITICISMS

To Help Out His Thanksgiving Gift



Why No Other Girl in the World Interested Young Vincent Astor.

Professor Letillier interestingly summarizes the fate the stars predict for young Vincent Astor and his charming bride-to-be in a most interesting article in next Sunday's Boston AMERICAN, which will also print the following big exclusive features:

To Bring Freight Trains Right Up to Your Back Door
An astonishing new plan to make railroads more efficient and to make great saving of time, trouble and money in the delivery of freight.

Portraits by "Drian," the New Etcher in Colors
English and French titled women furnish the newest examples of this famous French artist's work, and some of the most charming of them are reproduced in this color page.

D'Annunzio's Weird Suicide Plan
How the great dramatist intends to astonish the world by bringing his life to an end in a way never dreamed of before.

Evelyn Thaw's Own Story of Her Life
The eleventh double-page chapter of this remarkable autobiography, which everybody is reading and talking about, surpasses in real interest anything that has gone before; it is full of new facts told by Mrs. Thaw herself.

What Your Vermiform Appendix Was Really Made For
Now comes a scientist who believes he has discovered that it has an important function to perform in the scheme of life. Perhaps after all it is a mistake to have it removed.

And these are only a few of the timely subjects discussed in "New England's greatest newspaper," next Sunday's Boston AMERICAN.

FOG

By CONSTANCE CLARKE.

A SHADOWY something drifting soft,
Gemmed thick with paling stars aloft;
The softened blur of apple trees,
That, swaying, whisper in the breeze,
And scatter storms of rose and white
In blinding sweetness through the night.
And then—a thickening of the mist,
The silver blurred to amethyst,
And on me creeps the fog.

And through the depths of frosty white
Come memories of another night,
The scent of apple blossoms blown,
The mist—your mouth upon my own,
And you, afraid to give so much,
Came to me, trembling at my touch.
Then—mist again, and memories go
Like phantoms—shall I never know
What lies beyond the fog?

Dr. Parkhurst's Article

—ON—

The Charities of the Rich —They Do Not Atone for Their Robberies of the Poor. The Price of the Monroe Doctrine

By DR. C. H. PARKHURST

DR. FRANCIS PEABODY made an exceedingly compact and telling statement at the service recently held in memory of the late Robert C. Ogden, when he said: "Money prodigally bestowed does not atone for money criminally gotten." There is nothing original in the thought, but few could have expressed it so concisely and pungently. The way a thing is said makes out half of its effect.

The truth of Dr. Peabody's aphorism will pass across the mind of people in comfortable circumstances without leaving very deep impression, but it means a great deal to a poor man whose life is a continual struggle with the problem of ways and means, and who believes, rightly or wrongly, that some of the funds that are dealt out in large masses of charity by the extremely wealthy included money that really belonged to himself, and that the great fortunes accumulated in these days and prodigally expended are made up in considerable part of wages due to the laboring man, but unjustly withheld.

The way the matter is considered by the poor is expressed in unmistakable terms by the writer of a letter that recently came to hand.

"I would not advise any boy how to make millions of dollars, because no man ever made his millions without depriving the poor of what belonged to them; and no matter how much they fool around with their so-called charity, giving a little here and a little there of what they took, which is overplenty, they never do full justice.

How One Poor Man Views the Methods of Our Philanthropists

"Giving a million dollars or so to some institution or college that a poor boy can't go to because he has to pay to enter, and then lowering the poor man's pay or going up a cent on a gallon of oil or raising the price on some other article in order to make it balance, is a nice thing to do and call it charity. Going to church and praying to God and asking His forgiveness is not going to make their deeds any better; neither is it going to bring to life the many poor souls who through their fault have passed away."

Now we must not blame the writer of such a letter even if he does make statements that are more sweeping than is absolutely just. There are large fortunes that have been liberally dispensed, but that had not been acquired by means that did injustice to the employe. And yet this writer simply said in a less guarded way the same thing precisely that was stated by Dr. Peabody.

A man cannot be generous till he is just, and to give in charity the clippings cut from workingmen's wages is hypocritical fraud practiced both on the working man and the public, but too transparent to escape detection of the "eye of Him who seeth not as man seeth: for man looketh on the outward appearance, but God looketh on the heart."

* * *

We are discovering in the Monroe Doctrine a meaning not exactly contemplated when originally propounded by President Monroe, or rather by John Quincy Adams. Every doctrine has to be worked awhile before it gives up its full import and scope.

The doctrine was a kind of contract, although definitely signed by only one of the contracting parties, which leaves the other party free to disregard it whenever it sees fit. It was the statement on our part that we would let the Eastern world alone with the understanding that the Eastern world should let us alone, particularly the Central and South American republics.

Of course, by putting ourselves into the Philippines we have rather badly bruised even our own side of this one-sided contract; but, for some reason not altogether explicable to the lay mind, this has not diminished the insistence on the part of our government that Europe should observe the Eastern end of the engagement, although never flatly agreed to by Europe.

Until Interrupted, We Must Settle All Europe's Quarrels

It is a singular situation and will continue only until some Eastern power shall see its way clear to interrupt it, which may some time occur or may not.

But until it is interrupted we practically obligate ourselves to settle for Europe all the quarrels which it may have with any republic in Central or South America.

That is the price we are paying for our Monroe Doctrine.